SMOOT'S TOGA IS IN DANGER

A Strong Fight Will Be Made Against Mormon Member of Senate.

HE IS NOT QUALIFIED

Opponents Contend That His Apostleship Is Incompatible With Laws of Country.

FORCES ARE LINING UP

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.

Within a short time the fight which will have for its object the vacation of the seat in the United States senate occupied by Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, the Mormon apostle, will be begun. A campaign of education and agitation will be conducted all over the country by representatives of Christian organizations in order that the people may be thoroughly informed as to the conditions in Utah, and that they may use their influence with their senators to have Senator Smoot's seat declared vacant.

This fight will be waged principally by the Inter-Denominational Council of Women for Christian and Patriotic Service, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the League for Social Service, the home mission board of the Presbyterian church and the Ministers' association of Salt Lake City.

The president of the inter-denominational council is Mrs. Darwin R. James and the vice president is Miss Helen Gould, with headquarters in New York. The W. C. T. U. will make the contest against Smoot a part of its fight for a national divorce law, and will join the ranks of the anti-Mormons with a will. Dr. Josiah Strong is the president of the League for Social Service, which made the successful fight against Brigham Roberts, and Miss Gould is a prominent member of the organization, who generously assists its works in a financial way.

Miss Gould's interest in the fight against Smoot is very favorable to the cause, since it guarantees the money necessary to carry on the work. The home mission board of the Presbyterian church is particularly interested in the fight, since it has practically a monopoly of Utah as a mission field. Other evangelical churches have withdrawn their efforts to other parts of the country in order that the work in Utah may be centralized and the force of the movement not dissipated. The Ministerial association of Salt Lake will be a powerful ally in the contest, as its members will be able to furnish facts that will show conditions as they actually exist.

It is not the intention to charge Senator Smoot with polygamy, although a protest has already been filed with the senate committee on privileges and elections making such allegations against him.

But the charge of polygamy is conceded to be a difficult one to prove, and those who will conduct the fight do not intend to make this the issue. They will charge that his allegiance to the Mormon church is such that he cannot take the oath of office as a senator of the United States without a mental reservation, and for this reason he is unqualified to serve in the senate. Thus if they win their case it will not result in Smoot's expulsion, which would require a two-thirds vote of the senate, but will prove that he is not qualified to serve, and to reach this conclusion will necessitate only a majority vote. And the result will be the same, for it will take Smoot out of the senate and will also establish the contention that the tenets of the Mormon church are incompatible with the laws of the country.

The reason for the contest is that the Mormon church is using its tremendous power and influence to gain political control, not only in Utah, but in all the western states where it has a following. There is no disposition to share the public offices with the Gentiles, in accordance with the agreement reached when Utah was admitted to statehood, but the Mormons are straining every effort to get political power. The Gentiles see in this an attempt to re-establish polygamy, which remains the principal tenet of the Mormon faith, but which has been abandoned only by stress of the law. Christian people firmly believe that the Mormons are only waiting until they are strongly in power to again preach the doctrine of plural marriages, and for this reason they propose to fight to the end.

KNOX WILL ASK COURT TO ADVANCE MERGER CASE

If Motion Is Granted There Can Be No Hearing Before October 19.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Authoritative announcement was made today of the intention of Attorney General Knox to enter a motion in the United States supreme court next Monday to advance the hearing in the Northern Securities Company case, the appeal in which was docketed recently in that court.

It is altogether probable that the court will grant the motion, but it is not likely that the court will take action on the motion before the sitting on June 4, when the court will be in session for the last time during the present term. Hence there is no possibility of the argument of the case before the court reconvenes on October 12.

As assigned cases never are heard during the first week of a term, the earliest probable date for the hearing is October 19. The vast importance of the case will be given as the attorney general's reason for asking the court to expedite it.

SOLVES FATE OF LOST SHIP

ALL ON BOARD DROWN

CLUE FOUND IN CHICAGO

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, May 14.

Delving into the mystery of the attempt to destroy the Cunard liner Umbria, the police have probably solved the mystery of an almost forgotten tragedy of the sea.

Among the effects of the man who sent the infernal machine to the Cunard line dock was a piece of paper on which was written in French:

"The destruction of the Naronic was complete. Mr. Le Brun, who made the box, has this moment gone to Chicago."

The Naronic left Liverpool on the morning of February 11, 1893, with 4,000 tons of freight, a crew of 55 men and 15 passengers, who had gone to England on the previous trip in charge of a cargo of cattle. She was never seen after she left the Mersey.

To this day no word of her fate has reached the owners of the line. That the vessel was blown up by the same band of conspirators who tried to destroy the Umbria the police have no doubt, and the discovery of the note has served to redouble the energies of the police in efforts to capture the conspiracy.

CHICAGO, May 11.—(Special.)—Working under cover in a Chicago flat building, G. Russell manufactured the infernal machine which the New York police found and which was intended to wreck the steamship Umbria.

The New York detectives found that the trunk in which the machine was shipped to New York bore Parmelee express check No. 222,445. The police traced it and discovered the trunk came from Chicago, and had been pulled to the Wabash station in this city from the lower flat at 287 Washington boulevard.

At noon today Inspector George W. McClusky of New York reached this city, accompanied by Detective Sergeants Funston and Carey, to follow up the Chicago end of a dynamite plot. Inspector McClusky returned to New York tonight.

The occupants of the flat are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ehlen. Mrs. Ehlen's story, told today, leaves little doubt that a man who gave the name of G. Russell, and who rented a room from her April 10, and occupied it for several days, made the infernal machine at the Ehlen house and shipped it to New York.

Russell is described by Mrs. Ehlen as a man about 40 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches tall, and weighing about 180. He wore a gray sack suit and a fedora hat.

Two days after Russell rented the room, he brought a trunk there like the one he shipped to New York. On the third day he brought a clock, and the next morning the works were missing. After five days he checked the trunk to New York; sent it to the station by the Parmlee Express Company. The strap found on the trunk in New York is the one Harry Ehlen gave Russell. In Russell's room were tools of various sorts. S. E. Barr of 248 West Madison street, a carpenter, was employed by Russell on a little job which the latter said was a gambling device. Mrs. Ehlen saw this device in Russell's room. She also saw bits of clock works, a hair spring, a capless cartridge. These were in a wooden box inscribed with the words, "One blast." John Clark, a machinist, performed some work for Russell, who also told him that it was a gambling device. It was a cone with an inch base and a disk to fit it. He first said that he wanted only one pair of iron pieces, but later said he wanted three more pairs. He did not call to secure the pieces last ordered.

PITTSBURGHER BEATEN IN OMAHA STRIKE RIOT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

OMAHA, May 14.—P. J. Maddock, a driver for a delivery company, was found unconscious this afternoon under the Tenth street viaduct. When restored he said that he had been knocked from his wagon. His home is in Pittsburgh and he was a strike breaker.

A riot occurred at Seventeenth and Chicago streets late this afternoon, when a driver was pulled from his wagon and beaten. The crowd had dispersed when the police arrived. Another driver, accompanied by a deputy, was taken from his wagon and the deputy did not attempt to protect him.

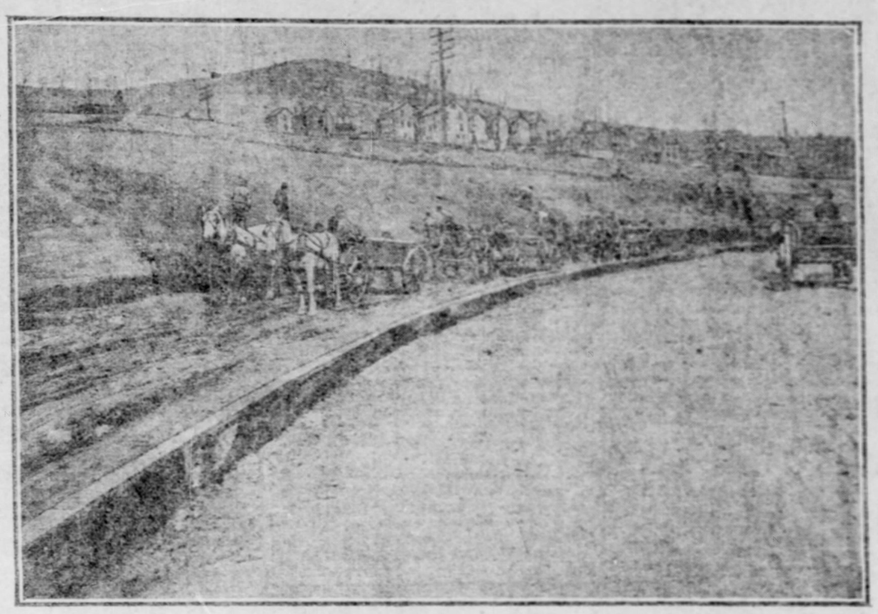
In several instances drivers were stopped, their teams unhitched, and the contents of the wagons strewn on the ground. It is also said that several drivers abandoned their wagons without cause, leaving the teams hitched to telegraph poles or standing in the streets.

Chief of Police Donahue has ordered that persons arrested for rioting shall not be released on bond until after their hearing.

DUFFIELD APPOINTED VENEZUELAN UMPIRE

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(Special.)—General H. M. Duffield of Michigan has been named by the president as umpire between Venezuela and Germany in the event that the mixed tribunal which is to consider the claims of the latter against the former fails to agree. Jackson Ralston of Washington has been named in a similar capacity between Italy and Venezuela while Frank C. Partridge has been named as umpire between England and Venezuela and Holland Venezuela.

TRADING NEW STREET FOR OLD ONE



New Road Being Built on Historic Braddock Battlefield.

The thoroughfare shown in the picture is being built by the Carnegie Steel Company for Braddock borough and will be completed in a short time. The steel company some time ago agreed to build the new street, which will be known as Braddock avenue, if the borough agreed to abandon the old Braddock road, which now divides the many buildings of the Edgar Thomson steel works. The new road is being constructed through the old Braddock battlefield, and will run close to the site of the spring at which it is said General Braddock was drinking when he received his death wound. The tree which for many years marked the spot where Gen. Braddock died and which was destroyed by fire last week, was located near the curve shown in the picture.

It is rumored that the Carnegie Steel Company has extensive improvements on the hillside above the new road in contemplation, but no one has been able so far to learn just what the company intends to erect on the vacant property.

WERE BURNED TO DEATH IN THEIR HOME

FIRES WERE PLENTY

Two dead and two badly injured is the fire and explosion record of yesterday in Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

THE DEAD.

WILLIE BELL, infant, No. 3402 Ruthven street.

THE INJURED.

JOHN C. McDERMOTT, No. 307 Federal street, Allegheny.

The two babies were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home, No. 3402 Ruthven street, Thirteenth ward, about 8 p. m. The father, John Bell, who is employed in the Pennsylvania railroad yards, was at work and the mother had stepped out to see a neighbor. The two babies were alone in the house. A colored man, John Talley, tried in vain to gain admittance and rescue the children. Then Mrs. Bell returned and insisted on rushing into the midst of the flames to rescue her children. Talley and others kept her out. When the fire engines came the house was almost totally destroyed. The charred bodies were taken from the ruins.

The hurts received by William Smith were due to an explosion of gas in an outhouse. He is employed in a dyeing and cleaning establishment at No. 22 Frankstown avenue. He went to an outhouse and struck a match. An explosion followed.

John C. McDermott was hurt while trying to save his life and that of his wife and children from a fire at No. 307 Federal street, Allegheny, about 9:30 o'clock last evening. Half a dozen others had narrow escapes from injury. Property was damaged to the amount of about $1,000. The fire started in the bathroom of Quincy R. Wood, on the second floor, from a defective flue.

The flames spread to a flat building in the rear and to the third and fourth floors of the same building. McDermott, with his wife and three small children occupied the third floor. He tried to find an escape for the family down the stairway, but was burned about the face and hands and forced to retreat. He then took his wife and children to the roof and removed them to an adjoining building.

Other tenants and their approximate losses are: Nellie Kelly, $150; Emma Connelley, $100; W. E. Littell, $300. McDermott's loss is said to be about $500.

An exploding lamp at the home of George Herst at No. 1906 Howard street, caused a loss of about $50.

The three girls who were injured in the Water street fire that destroyed the four-story building of the Kelly & Jones company are resting easily at the Homeopathic hospital and all will probably recover. Clara Schmidt and Annie White are coming around all right, although they may be permanently injured, but Alice Lowe, who was at first not thought to be as seriously hurt as the other two girls, is in bad condition. The hospital authorities would not even permit her mother to see her yesterday, fearing nervous reaction. Her back is badly injured and she may be permanently crippled, if she recovers at all.

WOMAN WAS ATTACKED BY A BURLY NEGRO

While returning from East Pittsburgh to her home in Oakhill last night about 10:30 o'clock Mrs. Minnie Rudwell was attacked by a burly negro near Brinton station, on the Pennsylvania railroad, and badly injured. She was seized by the negro, who drew her over an embankment and choked and beat her severely. Several railroaders were attracted by her screams and the negro escaped. Mrs. Rudwell's throat and face are badly cut and bruised.

PISTOL DUEL IN ROOM ENDS WITH ONE DEAD AND ANOTHER DYING

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Kansas City, Mo., May 14.—George E. Spencer, a clothing merchant, who came here recently from Birmingham, Ala., was shot and killed, and Stephen Flanagan, a police patrolman, was mortally wounded today in a pistol duel in a room here.

Flanagan went to the house to arrest Spencer. There were no witnesses to the tragedy, and when persons attracted by the shots entered the room, Spencer was dead and Flanagan unconscious, blood oozing from a wound in his breast a few inches below the heart.

By the side of each man was a pistol. A half dozen shots were exchanged. At the hospital it was said Flanagan could not live.

Spencer had been visiting the family of J. Cox, a news agent. It was said he had been annoying women and children in the neighborhood, and complaint was made to the police. Spencer was requested to leave the house, but refused to do so, and the Cox family moved out and left him in possession.

Flanagan lay in wait for Spencer and Spencer, who had armed himself, expecting trouble, began shooting as soon as he entered the room.

MORGAN IS BACKING THE CLEVELAND BOOM

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LOUISVILLE, May 14.—The Cleveland presidential boom, as such, is noticed by Henry Watterson in the Courier-Journal today for the first time. He prefaces a lengthy editorial with clippings showing how he forecasted it in June last, then says:

"The milk in the Cleveland cocoanut is Pierpont Morgan and when Pierpont Morgan puts his hand to a job, be it a railway merger, a ship combine or a presidential boom, it were well that prudent men took note of it. At least none such will make light of it. Briefly the scheme is this:

"To force Mr. Cleveland's nomination by the arts of the blackmailing mugwump and the money of the syndicate; and having him nominated to buy New York, New Jersey and Connecticut and the one additional vote necessary to elect, relying upon the solid south reduced to a choice between Cleveland and Roosevelt to take Cleveland. That is all. And it is great because it is so simple. If it works, so much gain. If it appears faulty, as the final trial approaches Mr. Cleveland has only to draw out as he did from the gold bug Indianapolis convention, declaring that no one was authorized to put him in nomination. But in the meantime, though Mr. Bryan speculate, and Mr. Vilas deny, Mr. Cleveland cannot be induced to utter the decisive word which would at once stop the chatter."

DYNAMITE UNDER CONSULATE.

French and Russian Buildings Undermined in Salonica.

SOFIA, BULGARIA, May 14.—It is reported from Salonica that the French and Russian consulates there have been discovered to be undermined. Large stores of dynamite have been seized.

ATHENS, May 14.—A number of dynamite bombs have been discovered here in the cellar of a Bulgarian shopkeeper. A number of Bulgarians have been arrested in Greece.

FAREWELL BANQUET AT SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—President Roosevelt was given a farewell banquet this evening, after a busy day, in which he visited Oakland and the University of California at Berkeley. At the university he was given the degree of doctor of laws. On the way to the university flowers were scattered along the street until the roadway was hidden.

THREATENED MAYOR'S LIFE FOR ARREST

Lorain Chief Executive Censured for Priest's Detention.

GIRL'S BODY EXHUMED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Lorain, O., May 14.—Mayor King today received a letter taking him to task for having arrested Father Walser on the charge of murder and saying:

"Your days are numbered."

The murder of Agatha Reichlin, who was found dead two weeks ago in her bed in a room in the Catholic parsonage here, bids well to go down into history as an unsolved mystery. While the opinion is that the woman was killed by a burglar, there is but slight probability that the assailant will ever be captured. The body of the murdered woman was exhumed from the cemetery near Elyria to see whether it bore any marks of fingers on her neck. Coroner French having claimed that the woman was not only struck with a stone, but also choked.

A bruise was discovered under the right eye, marks on the wrist, and a mark on the neck of the murdered woman, which indicated that a struggle took place, and that she might have been choked before she died, Mr. French said.

"The discolorations on the neck and wrist were found just as I had seen them at the post-mortem. The examination today, however, would not prove whether it was choking that caused those on the neck, or whether the grip of the murderer marked the wrist. The body had been embalmed two weeks, so the course of nature interfered greatly in our work in reaching a definite conclusion."

Casemir Reichlin, the dead woman's brother, objected seriously to the exhuming of the body, claiming that it was inhuman and unnecessary. He was at the city hall this morning, but departed when he learned that Mayor King was in Elyria. He was greatly incensed at not being notified regarding his sister's body being re-examined and censured the officials severely. Father Reichlin could not be found, but the relatives and friends are deeply angered and claim that common courtesy should have impelled those who took the matter in hand to have at least said something to one or both of the brothers.

KILLED BY MOB

WILSON, N. C., May 14.—At 1 o'clock this morning T. P. Jones was shot by one of a party of men who had entered his room, receiving a wound from the effects of which he died a few hours later. One of the attacking party was shot in the shoulder. Eleven men have been arrested.

Jones' manner of living was objectionable to some persons, and yesterday he was warned to leave town. Instead of doing so, he went before a magistrate and swore out a warrant against George Whitley.

Two Killed in a Wreck

WASHINGTON, C. H., O., May 14.—The Cincinnati & Pittsburgh express on the Midland division of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern was wrecked five miles east of Washington C. H., today. Engineer John May and Fireman J. A. Leighton, both of Newark, O., were killed and the injured were F. M. Moore, Chillicothe; H. L. Wilson, Detroit, Mich., traveling salesman; W. J. Ford, farmer, Ashland, O.; Mrs. Elizabeth Robbins, Robbins station, Pa. The accident was caused by spreading rails.

COL. QUAY SAYS ROOSEVELT WILL SUCCEED HIMSELF

Also That if Mr. Cleveland Wishes the Democratic Nomination He Is Not Proceeding in the Right Way to Win It.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.

Senator Quay today predicted the re-election of President Roosevelt next year and expressed the opinion that Cleveland will not be the Democratic candidate for president. He said he considered Mr. Cleveland the strongest man the Democrats could nominate, but did not think he would prove a strong candidate for the nomination. He said:

"If Cleveland is a candidate for the nomination, he is not proceeding in the right way to win it. If he is not a candidate he is 'playing' himself before the people in the wrong light.

"If Cleveland wants to win the Democratic nomination he must not appear too eager or even in the light of a receptive candidate. It would be better, I think, if he should say positively that he is not a candidate, and then if he is wanted for a third term it would develop in the convention. It seems to me that the relations of the two factions of the Democratic party have been too strained for one to win who is looked upon as a leader of one of the radical wings. That is, if he engages in a fight for the nomination. It must come to him on a silver platter, if he is to go it at all."

The senator said he had no doubt that President Roosevelt would be re-elected. It is probable that the Republican state convention of Pennsylvania will adopt a resolution indorsing the administration of President Roosevelt and also indorsing his candidacy. This action was taken by the state convention last year and it is presumed that the Republicans of Pennsylvania will again go on record for Roosevelt. However, Mr. Quay in his statehood fight, during the last congress, found that the hardest opposition he met emanated from the known antagonism of President Roosevelt to the omnibus statehood bill and this fact may deter him from permitting an indorsement of Roosevelt this year.

There was no evidence while congress was in session that Senator Quay harbored any resentment toward the president and his declaration today would indicate that he does not.

YOUNG KNOX RESPONDS TO CRY OF COMRADES AND GETS IN A ROW

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

South Norwalk, Conn., May 14.—Hugh S. Knox of Pittsburgh, son of Philander C. Knox, attorney general of the United States, with four other students of Prof. Carl A. Harstrom's training school for Yale, were arrested here this afternoon on a charge of assaulting John D. Milne, superintendent of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting Company, at a late hour last night.

Young Knox, with the other defendants, Walbridge Taft of New York, son of Justice Taft, governor of the Philippines; John S. Barney of Cincinnati; Lawrence White of Lowell and Daniel C. Strout of California, all of whom took part in the flooring of Mr. Milne, for an hour or more were held in the county jail until they could furnish a cash bond.

Long after the peaceful village was quiet, the five students were in the neighborhood of the Norwalk Methodist church and met Milne riding a bicycle up grade, and having hard work, puffing and groaning. The students ridiculed the puffing of Milne, who is a Harvard man and was a substitute on the college crew. He is a six-footer, who shows up well from exercise. He paused for a moment as though measuring the height of the young men, and then, as his answer, let swing his mighty right which took White under the chin. The left struck him on the nose while the right by this time landed upon the face of Taft. Both students measured their length. They loudly called for help. Knox and the others responded.

It seemed to be up to Knox to resent the attack and as his companions called to him to fight in, he cheerfully did so. He was followed by the others, but not until Knox got several well directed blows. Barney and White then caught Milne from behind and forced him to the ground. According to Milne they then kicked him and run away. He was found later in an unconscious condition by the police. His condition tonight is looked upon as serious. Prosecuting Attorney John J. Walsh issued writs for the arrest of the students, but it was after a long search they were found.

ADMITS AN ALIAS

Man Who Drove Girl to Jump from Window in Chicago Hotel Is Under Two Charges.

CHICAGO, May 14.—Harold C. Reed, under arrest on charges of abduction and assault, made by Laura Stickler, who leaped from a hotel window, she alleges, to escape him, has admitted his identity as Harold C. Mills, once president of the Guarantee Home Securities Company.

He also admitted that he was the husband of the woman whom he yesterday declared he did not know and who immediately after his arraignment today caused his arrest for wife abandonment.

The hearing of both cases was continued until May 21.

DETROIT, MICH., May 14.—The News this afternoon said that Harold C. Reed, accused of having driven a girl to jump from a third-story hotel window in Chicago, is Harold C. Reed, who conducted in the chamber of commerce here for a few months the Provident Home Company; who married his stenographer, Miss Marie Butler, last summer, and deserted her after two weeks of married life.

Mrs. Reed secured a divorce and became Miss Butler again in Judge Brooke's court, April 24, last.

COUNTESS WELCOMED BY YARMOUTH FAMILY

LONDON, May 14.—The festivities in honor of the homecoming of the earl and countess of Yarmouth were continued at Alcester, Warwick, today. The marquis of Hertford, presiding at a dinner to 600 tenants of the estates, said the family welcomed the countess with the greatest cordiality.

MAYOR LOW BARS MORMON PREACHING

NEW YORK, May 14.—Mayor Low has stopped the preaching of Mormonism in the streets of the city. All permits, formerly issued to Mormon elders to preach in the streets, have been revoked and no more will be issued. The elders were not known as Mormons when they obtained the permits.

CARNEGIE DID NOT INTEND TO OFFEND CANADIAN FRIENDS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, May 14.—A dispatch received here today from Halifax, N. S., quotes Mayor Richardson of Sydney, Cape Breton, as saying that the town council would return Andrew Carnegie's gift of $15,000 for a library in Sydney because of an interview in London with Mr. Carnegie, in which he is alleged to have said that the iron and steel industry of Cape Breton was a "mirage."

Mr. Carnegie said to a representative of the Associated Press today that he was very sorry if anything he said had hurt the feelings of his Canadian friends. He had no desire to underrate Canada's efforts, did not remember using the word "mirage" and said that it was wholly inapplicable.

Mr. Carnegie said he knew they were making steel, or intended to make finished steel, in Nova Scotia, and he had no doubt they would succeed. On the other hand, it was ridiculous to compare anything that the 1,000,000 people could do with that which could be achieved by the 80,000,000 in the United States, who were making more steel than the rest of the world. If views are to have weight, figures and facts must be recognized.

Continuing, Mr. Carnegie said he had the warmest feeling for Canada, and added, laughingly: "The best thing I know about Canada is that it is mostly Scotch."

CHILD WAS THROWN ON RED-HOT STOVE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ZANESVILLE, O., May 14.—A Hungarian, Leo Auleski, arrested here last evening on complaint of the Cambridge police, has not been given a preliminary arraignment because the local authorities have been unable to secure an interpreter.

Auleski, it is alleged, during a family quarrel picked up his child and threw her on a redhot stove. The child was thought to be dying, when a doctor who had been summoned learned the cause of her injuries and notified the Cambridge police. Auleski and family arrived in this country six weeks ago and located in Cambridge, where he went to work in an iron mill. He later came here to work at the Eastern tube works, but had not removed his family to this city.

MONEY FOR MARCONI.

Arrangements Are Completed for Working Capital for Wireless Telegraph Co. of America.

NEW YOK, May 14.—Eugene H. Lewis, chairman of Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America, announced today that arrangements had been completed for providing the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America with working capital, not less than a guaranteed amount of $250,000 and, in some contingencies, reaching the sum of about $450,000.

The plan includes a privilege to stockholders to exchange their shares of stock certificates of deposit of the par value of $5 each, which certificates of deposit will be placed upon the market in lieu of the shares of the company.

TROUBLE ENDED IN NICARAGUA

NEW ORLEANS, May 14.—Tim Solomon & Co., financial representatives of the Nicaraguan government here, have received the following cablegram from that government: "We have captured the steamship Victoria and all the revolutionists. Peace reigns throughout the republic."

WALPOLE DEDICATES CARNEGIE LIBRARY

WALPOLE, MASS., May 14.—The new public library building, the combined gift of Andrew Carnegie and public spirited citizens of the town, was dedicated this afternoon. The building complete cost $25,000, of which amount $10,000 came from Mr. Carnegie.

W. J. BURKE MAY BE NEW TRUSTEE

MANY SOCIAL FEATURES

Trip Up River and Banquet by Ladies as Well as Initiation of New Ladies' Auxiliary Members Help Good Cause Along.

Large and strong is the boom that developed yesterday among the delegates to the convention of the Order of Railway Conductors for the choice of W. J. Burke of Allegheny as trustee. The board of trustees of the order is composed of three members. At each convention the term of one member expires. It is this vacancy Mr. Burke's friends think he should fill. He is a member of Anchor Line division, No. 217, of Allegheny, an enthusiastic member of the organization and as chairman of the transportation committee of the present convention has done telling work for the convention's success. His chances are believed to be excellent.

At the business meeting of the convention yesterday afternoon the proposition was discussed to shorten from 313 days to 156 days the length of time a conductor must actually serve before being eligible to membership. This amendment passed on second reading yesterday and seems sure of final passage. The proposition for an unlimited insurance reserve fund also passed on second reading. All the second readings are expected to be finished by Saturday afternoon, and final passage is expected Monday.

MRS. J. H. MOORE BECOMES ILL.

At the business session of the ladies' auxiliary yesterday afternoon the work was handled quickly. Although ill, Mrs. J. H. Moore, the grand president, managed to be present at the meeting and occupy the chair. On account of her illness, the meeting was shortened. Late last night she was resting easy and expects to be out as usual today.

The ladies of the local auxiliaries entertained last night the delegates to the auxiliary convention, the grand officers and the members of the local divisions. The affair was strictly for the ladies and the doors were locked against the men. A reception was given in the hotel parlors from 8 to 10 o'clock and a banquet was served in the dining room. At this Mrs. W. B Rice of Wilkinsburg, wife of the secretary of the general committee, acted as toastmistress. The following ladies acted as a reception committee: Mrs. John Reinhart, Mrs. Philip Moonly, Mrs. W. B. Rice, Mrs. John A. Ody, Mrs. J. H. Rambo, Mrs. J. W. Riley and Mrs. W. S. Hurley. The speeches were bright and to the point, and all speakers were generously applauded. About 375 ladies were present. Mrs. E. E. Clark, wife of the grand chief conductor, was the guest of honor.

INITIATED TEN LADIES.

Mrs. Clark, her daughter and Mrs. Margaret Burke, daughter of W. J. Burke, chairman of the transportation committee and candidate for the office of trustee, will tomorrow afternoon be the guests of Mrs. W. H. Baird of Allegheny, wife of the vice chairman of the local general committee.

Yesterday afternoon Robert Pitcairn divisions of the ladies' auxiliary, initiated 10 members in their rooms in the Arnfeld building, Penn avenue in the presence of about 150 of the women visitors.

Yesterday the delegates and their friends were entertained by a boat excursion on the Monongahela river. The Mayflower made two trips to Brownsville. The first started at 8 a. m. and returned at 5 in the afternoon. The second party left at 8 p. m. and returned shortly after midnight. The steamer was crowded on both trips and the guests enjoyed themselves with dancing and listening to a musical program.

This morning a special train will leave the Union station over the Cleveland & Pittsburgh road for East Liverpool, Ohio, for an inspection of the Homer Laughlin potteries at that place. The train will start at 8 o'clock and will stop at Allegheny. Wellsville Division No. 280 will serve a lunch. Returning the train will leave East Liverpool at 4:15 and get to Pittsburgh at 6:15.

ELKS WILL BE HOSTS FOR BROTHERS.

Tonight the Elks of Pittsburgh lodge No. 11 will entertain their brother members who are also members of the order of conductors, at their hall, corner of Fifth avenue and Jumonville street. The affair is in charge of F. H. McCarty, W. W. Robinson, I. W. Morrow, E. J. Joyce and Saul Susman.

Tomorow the conductors and their friends will visit the Pittsburgh Locomotive works and the Heinz Pickle factory, and the Lutz brewery. Saturday evening the delegates will be left to themselves to take in the sights of the city.

A. B. O'NEIL DYING.

Family Summoned to Bedside of County Recorder's Father at McKeesport.

A. B. O'Neil, father of County Recorder T. Denny O'Neil and one of the wealthiest business men of McKeesport, is reported to be dying at his home in Sixth avenue, McKeesport, of pleuro-pneumonia. Mr. O'Neil's condition yesterday was such that his physicians fear he can not recover, and all the members of the family were summoned to his bedside. Recorder O'Neil spent the greater part of the day with his father and is still hopeful that he will recover.

Mr. O'Neil is one of the most prominent residents of McKeesport, having been a member of select council for a number of years until the last election, when he refused to be a candidate to succeed himself. He has always been conspicuous in politics and was defeated for the office of mayor by Robert J. Black in 1900 by one vote after one of the most exciting contests in the history of the city. Mr. O'Neil is a brother of the late well-known river captain, W. W. O'Neil of Elizabeth.

IMPROVING INGRAM.

Council Will Meet This Evening to Consider a Number of Improvements.

Ingram council will meet this evening and bids for a trunk sewer line to drain the borough is to be decided, and grades of several streets are to be established. These streets are on the route selected by the Pittsburgh Railways Company for an easier road to Pittsburgh by way of Sheraden and Corks run, which will give the town better traveling facilities than it has ever had.

Burgess Campbell has issued notices for a special election, to be held June 16, on the question of issuing $30,000 worth of bonds for sewers and general improvements. Crafton was incorporated a year ago, and since then many needed improvements, such as establishing street grades, putting up street signs and numbering the houses, have been made by the council. This body is made up of Prof. M. J. McMahon, president; I. N. Ress, C. B. Redmond, S. Y. Verner, Dr. W. C. Wallace, Thomas J. Ohl and Andrew McMaster.

CHILD'S LIFE SAVED BY AN UNKNOWN MAN

An unknown young man rescued the 2-year-old babe of Mrs. James McInerney of Sheffield street from a sewer, into which it had fallen at the drop at the corner of Lowell and Mayflower streets last night.

WHITE SIAMESE TWINS WERE SENT BY EXPRESS

Packed in a barrel and consigned to Harry Topfer of this city, a pair of Siamese twins were received from Chattanooga, Tenn., at the office of the Adams Express Company at Tenth street and Liberty avenue at noon yesterday. The twins were males. They are connected by a link of flesh and cartilege directly under the right and left arms respectively. The name of the consignor was not given, and consignee is not known to the express company. The infants were packed in a glass jar with alcohol, which had broken during the shipment.

It was the leaking of the alcohol from the barrel that led to the finding of the twins. Clerk John Dorrin of the express company ordered the barrel opened when he discovered the alcohol was leaking. To his surprise and that of the employes about the place they found two babies lying at the bottom of the barrel. Further investigation revealed they were connected together when born, and had died a few hours after birth. The infants were white, and weighed about nine pounds each.

Dorrin was at a loss to know what to do with the infants, and sent word to Coroner McGeary, asking him to take charge of the twins. The coroner refused to have anything to do with the babes, and Clerk Dorrin sent word to an undertaker to have them packed in a glass jar with alcohol.

It is supposed the babes are for exhibition in a medical college. They were shipped from Chattanooga on May 8, and were received at noon yesterday. The express company has made every effort to locate Harry Topfer, but was unable to do so. The babes were connected in the same manner as the famous Siamese twins. Dorrin said he would take charge of the babes and preserve them until Topfer called for them.

"There is a value of $200 placed on them, and we will take care of them until they are called for," said Dorrin.

CHAMBERS SPEAKS OUT

James A. Chambers, president of the American Window Glass Company, yesterday made a statement flatly denying the reports from Marion, Ind., that the glass blowing machine controlled by that company is not a success. Mr. Chambers said:

The published report that the American Window Glass Company's factory at Gas City is shut down on account of the failure of the glass-blowing machines is without foundation. We have commenced operations there and our machines, instead of being the failure reported, are doing good work. We will have the entire plant running to its full capacity within a very short time, and within the next 90 days or four months we will have all our best tank plants equipped with these machines and in full operation. The further statement in the publication referred to that the cylinders blown by the machine cool in the upper part much faster than in the lower, making it uneven and causing it to break in flattening, is on a par with the other derogatory statements that have been made from time to time, as for instance—that although the cylinders can be made by the machines it is impossible to flatten them, and that the glass is of such a nature after being flattened that it cannot be cut into different sizes on account of its brittleness, while as a matter of fact, the process by which the cylinder is formed anneals the glass much better than by the hand method, and it flattens and cuts easier and better than the cylinders blown in the old way.

W. T. Gray, president of the Window Glass Jobbers' association, who was in Pittsburgh yesterday, said that no one could foretell the outcome of the meetings of glass men next week. The jobbers convene at Cleveland, May 19.

REHEARSED CHORUSES.

Prof. Stempf of St. Louis Here in the Interest of National Saengerfest.

Prof. Richard Stempf, one of the principal directors of the national Saengerfest that will be held from June 17 to 20 inclusive at St. Louis, last night rehearsed the local societies in all the test choruses at Germania Liederkranz hall, Rose and Calliope streets. About 400 singers were in attendance.

Prof. Stempf was delighted with the showing made by the local societies, but he recommended diligent study of the festival choruses. The societies represented were Bloomfield, Pittsburgh, Eintracht, Vorwaerts, Germania, Maennerchor and McKees Rocks. They rehearsed Stephen C. Foster's celebrated "My Old Kentucky Home"; "The Star Spangled Banner" and a number of German choruses.

Director Stempf will direct the second general rehearsal tonight in Cecelia hall, in North Canal street, Allegheny.

GUERIN IS CHIEF RANGER

WILMINGTON, DEL., May 14.—At this morning's session of the grand court of Pennsylvania, Foresters of America, John J. Guerin of Philadelphia was elected grand chief ranger, defeating Frank McMahon of the same city by the vote of 229 to 206. Robert Comber of Philadelphia was elected grand financial secretary, the vote being as follows: Mr. Comber, 282; John H. Kirk, 162; James J. Moon, 74; Thomas C. Kelly, 13.

Supreme Secretary Edward M. McMurtrie of Brooklyn was a visitor and made an address.

The remainder of the session was consumed in making nominations for representatives to the supreme court, which will meet in Providence, R. I., in August. The Pennsylvania court is entitled to 42 representatives, for which 136 nominations were made.

MME. CALVE TAKES OVERDOSE OF ACONITE

PARIS, May 15.—(Special Cable.)—When the curtain rose on the "Damnation de Faust" in the Theater Sarah Bernhardt last evening, the manager addressed the audience, informing them that Mme. Calve would not appear. He stated that in order to be able to sing in the evening she had taken a dose of aconite as a tonic. Unfortunately she took an overdose, and is now in a very serious condition.

Schooner Lost Crew Saved.

RICHMOND, VA., May 14.—A special from Norfolk says that the British steamer St. Oswald arrived there today with the crew of the British brig Bertha Gray, lost at sea.

ALUMNI WILL BANQUET.

Former Students of Allegheny College to Honor Distinguished Graduates.

A banquet will be given by the Allegheny College club, composed of alumni and former students of Allegheny college, at the Hotel Henry Tuesday evening, in honor of Judge John J. Henderson. Nearly all of the 200 or more alumni and students of Pittsburgh and vicinity are expected to be present.

Judge Henderson was, prior to his elevation to the superior court, president judge of Crawford county. He has always been a stanch and firm friend of the college and has always taken great delight in participating in all its events. Dr. William H. Crawford, president of the college, just recently returned from an extensive tour to Europe, which was granted him by reason of his wonderful achievement in raising the $200,000 endowment fund, will be the other honor guest.

Bishop J. M. Thoburn of the Methodist Episcopal church, whose success in India and the far east has been unprecedented and who is now sojourning in this part of the state, will respond to a toast in honor of his old alma mater. Miss Ida M. Tarbell of New York, a former student of the college, who has become famous by her original history of Abrahamm Lincoln and who is now writing an important series of articles for a big magazine, will give a talk. Durbin Horne, president of the board of trustees, will discourse on what he thinks should be done by the alumni for the best interests of the college. Solomon Schoyer, Jr., Esq., of the class of 1850, the oldest living graduate residing in Pittsburgh, will act as master of ceremonies. With him will sit Dr. Jonathan Hammett of the class of 1839 and many other well-known graduates of former times.

The committee having charge of arrangements consists of J. W. Kinnear, J. A. Wakefield, Charles M. Miller, Silon B. Smith, Tensard DeWolfe and W. H. Pratt.

M'TIGHE IS ANGRY

Police Superintendent Discovers That the Rogue's Gallery Has Been Robbed.

Upward of 1,000 pictures of criminals have been stolen from the Pittsburgh rogues' gallery at the public safety palace. Superintendent McTighe of the police bureau made the discovery yesterday while looking for a photograph.

McTighe says that an investigation will be made and prosecution will follow. In 1888 he started to collect the gallery and it was largely through his efforts that the big collection was made. He says the gallery is one of the chief assets of the detective bureau and that it will be impossible to duplicate many of the photographs.

Superintendent McQuaide of the detective bureau says that he does not know anything about the missing pictures.

SECOND ROUND OVER

Pittsburgh Boys Win and Lose in Yesterday's Gala Golf Tournament.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., May 14.—(Special.)—Yale's golf tourney was concluded as far as the second round today. The matches of the day were as follows: First sixteen—N. S. Campbell defeated H. Potter 5 up and 4 to play; A. M. Reid defeated W. K. Walbridge, 2 up 1 to play; G. W. Butts defeated W. Frew, 4 up 3 to play; P. H. Jennings defeated P. Lindenberg, 7 up 6 to play; F. J. O. Alsop defeated M. Barnes, 2 up 1 to play; J. Simmons defeated M. K. Smith, 2 up 1 to play; L. M. Richmond defeated E. M. Daily 7 up 5 to play; F. O. Tyler defeated A. K. Oliver, 3 up 2 to play.

Second sixteen—J. F. Byers defeated H. A. Wilson, 3 up 2 to play; W. R. Miller defeated E. W. Curtis, 1 up (19 holes); R. C. Carroll defeated R. Havemeyer, 4 up 6 to play; W. E. Wing defeated H. M. Swords by default; C. Pinner defeated F. W. Kay, 1 up; R. S. Rowland defeated R. M. Smith, 3 up 4 to play; P. D. Gribben defeated C. A. Esty, 1 up.

Frew, Oliver and Byers are Pittsburgh boys.

REFUSE TO JOIN IN CONFEDERATE SERVICES

COLUMBUS, O., May 14.—The Hilltop Improvement association, an organization of citizens in the vicinity of the confederate cemetery at Camp Chase, after a stormy session refused to participate in the annual services to be held next month at the cemetery in memory of confederate dead. Dr. Warner, a member of the association, declared the war never would be over until the confederates recognized the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments to the national Constitution.

Federal Salt Company Fined.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—The case of the United States vs. the Federal Salt Company was ended in the United States court today by Judge DeHaven, who sentenced the company to pay a fine of $1,000, it having pleaded guilty to violating the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law.

LIVE WIRE FRIGHTENED MANY; CAUSED AN EXCITING RUNAWAY

Reports like that of artillery, accompanied by flashes like lightning, startled pedestrians in the vicinity of Grant and Diamond streets yesterday afternoon, being caused by the breaking of a trolley wire of the Pittsburgh Railways Company in Grant street. When the wire snapped it curled up and hissed like a serpent, the steady, snake-like sound being punctuated at intervals by loud cracks and booms. People ran in all directions, fearing death through contact with the "live" wire, which had enough electricity in it to kill as many people as would get within its reach and as often as victims came along.

A horse attached to a delivery wagon was just about to turn into Diamond street when the wire broke, and the resultant noise and confusion sent the horse down Diamond street at a mad gallop. The driver, John H. White of No. 3922 Mifflin street, tried to stop the frightened animal, but could make no impression on the beast by sawing its mouth with the bit. In trying to avert a collision with an express wagon the horse veered into the curb at Cherry alley and Diamond street and struck the false-work surrounding a new building.

There was a crash, the wagon was turned upside down, Driver White was thrown a considerable distance and the horse was hurled across the street, the harness breaking. The animal then attempted to run away again, but was captured by some bystanders. It was miraculous that no great damage was done, White being but slightly hurt, the horse getting only a cut on the leg and the wagon being little injured outside of scraping off much of the paint.

Cars were unable to run on Grant street for over an hour because of the breaking of the wire.

DROWNED MAN WAS IDENTIFIED

CREDIT TO THE GAZETTE

Victim's Sister Saw Description in This Paper and Then Went to the Morgue to See the Body. Work of the Coroner.

The body of the man who was found drowned Wednesday morning at the foot of Short, near Ferry street, in the Monongahela river, was identified last night as John Daniel Weitzel, by his sister, Mrs. Eva Berthold of Oakdale, Pa. Weitzel was 60 years old and a coachman. The drowned man came to this city on Tuesday. Where he was and how he come to fall into the river are still mysteries.

Weitzel came to this country from Hessin, Germany, in 1864. He settled in New York and later came to Pittsburgh. He was employed as a coachman by Eugene M. O'Neill of Penn avenue and Point Breeze for 13 years. After that he was employed in the same capacity by Mrs. Louis H. Dalzell of No. 1010 Lincoln avenue, Allegheny. When Weitzel left Mrs. Dalzell's employment he went to Germany. He had a cancerous growth on his lower lip and he was operated on while in that country. The operation necessitated the removal of his entire lower lip. He made three trips to Germany and was always considered saving and industrious. Recently he made his home with his sister in Oakdale. He had two cousins, Adam and Louis Weitzel, who live at No. 84 Washington avenue, Allentown, Mt. Washington.

Mrs. Weitzel learned of her brother's accident through the columns of The Gazette, and had a clipping of the account of his death with her at the morgue last night.

John Ainesworth, 40 years old, died suddenly of heart disease yesterday morning while writing a letter to his brother at the Wabash hotel, First avenue and Ferry street.

Brady Uhl, 16 years old, died at the Homeopathic hospital from injuries received May 8 by falling down an elevator shaft at the store of Weldon, Kelly & Co. in Wood street. His remains have been sent to the home of his parents at Marietta, O.

Hugh Wright, a painter, died yesterday at his boarding house in Ontario street, Allegheny, from injuries received by falling from a second-story window on Wednesday. He was 55 years old and lived in Ohio.

The coroner yesterday investigated the death of Thomas Coners of Independence street and Park way, West End, which occurred on Wednesday. He was found to have died from a stroke of apoplexy, a disease he has had for over two years. He was 80 years old and married.

HAVE NO HOPE NOW.

Self-Confessed Highwaymen Suffer from Consumption and Are in Despair.

George Parker and Grant Evans were arrested yesterday on charges of assaulting and robbing James Woodall in the West End Wednesday night. Woodall, who was struck on the head with a hatchet by these men, is still confined in the Homeopathic hospital by his injuries. Both men have recently been released from the Western penitentiary, where they were serving sentence for robbery and assault.

The men have confessed to the robbery. Both said yesterday they had tried to be good, but were unable to do so. The men are in ill health, both having consumption.

"Once a thief always a thief" were Evans' words to Detective Charles Aymer at the Central police station yesterday. "I don't care what becomes of me now."

The men will be committed to jail for a hearing.

GOT A WORSE ATTACK IN THE HOSPITAL

The death of Otis Boden, aged 19 years, of Washington Court House, O., in the Allegheny municipal hospital caused a lot of comment in Allegheny yesterday. The young man, who was a student in one of the business colleges here, died of black smallpox after he had been declared convalescent by a private physician almost three weeks ago. It is said his death was caused by his being forcibly removed to the municipal hospital when he had about recovered from a slight attack of smallpox and that in mingling with other victims he contracted a more virulent case in his weakened condition and died.

SLAV MISSING AFTER QUARREL WITH CROWD

John Jamepowny, a Slav, is mysteriously missing from his home in McKeesport, where he has resided for nine years, and it is thought he was foully dealt with. He and a crowd of young men had an altercation Sunday night in a street car. He and another Slav left the car at McKeesport junction at the same time as did the young men. The other Slav reached home, but Jamepowny has not been seen since.

PASTOR INSTALLED IN M'KEESPORT CHURCH

In the presence of a large congregation and many visiting ministers last night the Rev. Dr. Warren S. Danley was formally installed as pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, Fifth avenue, McKeesport. Dr. Danley has been in charge of the congregation for some time. An interesting sermon was delivered by the Rev. John Royal Harris of Pittsburgh. The charge to the pastor was delivered by the Rev. G. G. Kerr of McKeesport. The Rev. W. F. Silveus of McKeesport spoke on behalf of the congregation.

MORE CARRIERS NEEDED FOR CARNEGIE ROUTES

But Four Applicants Passed Examination and Another Must Be Held.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Free delivery was to have been established at Carnegie, Pa., on June 1, with six carriers and two substitutes, but after the civil service examination it was found that but four applicants had passed and were made eligible. The postoffice department has asked that a special examination be held which will be done on May 23. However, it may be necessary to postpone the establishment of the free delivery service until enough carriers are secured.

On June 1 the free delivery service goes into effect at Scottdale, Pa. Orlando S. Love and Harry Bricker have been appointed carriers. Waynesburg will also get free carrier service on June 1, with Theodore T. Golden and James B. Grim as carriers.

Representative-elect S. R. Dresser of Bradford was at the postoffice department today to protest against a change in location of the postoffice at Bellefonte.

Representative Gaines of West Virginia today recommended the establishment of the following postoffices and the appointment of the following postmasters: Reuben A. Pugh at Wheeler, Webster county; Martha King at Odessa, Clay county; J. B. Weir, Kanawa county; Henry Simms at Lockwood, Nicholas county.

WANT A NEW LINE.

Morningside Citizens Appoint a Committee to Push Traction Ordinance.

Property owners of the Morningside district held a meeting last night in the Morningside school to adopt resolutions to present to the next meeting of the corporation committee. They ask that councils make more concessions to the Pittsburgh Railways Company for the proposed new line through the district that will connect Butler street extension and North Negley avenue.

The meeting was presided over by Col. N. P. Sawyer and J. C. Unvesagt was secretary. Several short addresses were made and one by P. W. Seibert aroused much applause. He spoke on the backwardness of the Morningside district as compared with other sections and said they were very far behind the times.

The chairman appointed a committee composed of P. W. Seibert and J. G. Villsack to present the resolution of the meeting before the corporation committee.

THROWN FROM BUGGY.

Mrs. Mary Martin of Mt. Lebanon May Die from Her Injuries.

Mrs. Mary Martin, aged 72 years, was thrown from a buggy at Hopes hollow, near Carnegie, yesterday afternoon. She and her daughter were driving on the Washington pike when the shafts of the buggy broke, letting the buggy hit the horse. This frightened the animal and he ran off, throwing both women out of the buggy. Mrs. Martin's injuries will likely prove fatal, while those of her daughter consist of only a few slight bruises. They were taken to their home at Mt. Lebanon.

Governor Translates Poem.

HARRISBURG, May 14.—(Special.)—Gov. Pennypacker was a guest at the 34th anniversary of the Dauphin County Historical society, held this evening at its rooms in the court house. The governor was called upon for a speech and said that in the intervals "between signing and vetoing bills" he had translated a manuscript poem of Francis Daniel Pastorius from the German, which he read. It was in meter, but not rhymed, and proved to be a commendatory poem on Jacob Kelver, the richest man in Pennsylvania in the early part of the eighteenth century, on his return to Europe.

LOOP RIDER WAS BADLY BRUISED BY HIS FALL

Women Scream Amid Confusion When Looper Castellane Meets With Mishap.

While performing his hair-raising act, Tony Castellane, the youth who is looping the loop on a bicycle at the Avenue theater this week, was painfully injured about 10:30 o'clock last night.

Castellane loops the loop on a 65-pound bicycle. Suddenly Castellane shot down the steep incline, passed the first curve on a level with the stage in safety and shot up the other side. When 15 feet in the air the handle bars suddenly twisted and Castellane went crashing backward to the stage on his head.

While the women in the audience screamed and the men jumped to their feet, stage hands ran to the daring rider's assistance. Castellane was stunned for about two minutes, but upon recovering walked to the footlights, and amid cheers offered to try his trick again if his wheel had not been broken by the fall. Castellane later said he would perform as usual today.

Castellane's brother on Tuesday afternoon attempted the feat, but upon reaching almost the same point where his brother fell last night, lost control of his wheel and was thrown backward, landing near the starting point on his back. It is said the Castellane brothers receive $500 per week for risking their lives twice a day looping the loop.

GERMAN WARSHIPS VISIT FRENCH WATERS

BREST, May 14.—The German squadron, commanded by Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia, arrived off this port today at the same time that the French northern squadron entered. As this was the first visit of German warships to French waters in years the appearance of Prince Henry's squadron caused much commotion and comment. The German ships fired a salute of 11 guns, which was returned by the land batteries and the French flagship Massena.

INDORSED J. W. KINNEAR TO GO TO LOS ANGELES

Lincoln Avenue M. E. Church Wants Attorney as Delegate at Los Angeles.

J. W. Kinnear, an attorney of No. 125 Linden avenue, was last night unanimously elected to the lay electoral conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here October 8, by the congregation and trustees of the Lincoln Avenue Methodist Episcopal church of the East End. He was also unanimously indorsed for delegate to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church which meets in Los Angeles, Cal., in May, 1904. There will be five ministerial and five lay delegates from this district to the general conference.

Mr. Kinnear is Sunday school superintendent of the Lincoln Avenue church, and was one of the original trustees of the church. He is a graduate of Allegheny college, Meadville. There is a general desire in Methodist Episcopal circles, both inside and out of the Lincoln Avenue church, to have Mr. Kinnear go to Los Angeles, and it is expected he will be elected by the Pittsburgh conference.

PRAISES COMPANY D.

Capt. M. B. Stewart of U. S. Army Inspects Allegheny Guardsmen.

Company D of the Fourteenth regiment was last evening inspected at its Allegheny armory by Capt. M. B. Stewart of the Eighth United States infantry. Capt. Stewart is making the general inspection of the local guardsmen in preparation for the issue of Krag-Jorgensen rifles. Company D turned out with only one member absent and Capt. Stewart paid it a compliment for its fine appearance and discipline.

While J. Hullings, commander of the Second brigade; Maj. S. W. Jeffries, brigade inspector; Maj. R. M. Ewing of the Second battalion of the Fourteenth Regimental Adjutant A. C. McCoy of the Fourteenth and Battalion Adjutant C. C. McGovern were also present. Franklin Blackstone is captain of D Company; David C. Farrar, first lieutenant and Maurice E. Barr second lieutenant.

TENNESSEE CITIZENS REGERT THE AFFAIR

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Postmaster General Payne has received a letter from W. F. Conger, special agent of the rural delivery service at Nashville, who is investigating the intimidation of Aligned, the negro mail carrier near Gallatin, Tenn. Mr. Conger reports an almost unanimous sentiment at Gallatin deprecating the occurrence and a general willingness to clear the situation and to fix the responsibility on the guilty parties.

This is to be the greatest Sailor season ever known, and may their use continue for all time! For there never was such another demure and winsome headpiece for women as the sailor hats.

And the new shapes we have are so very captivating—Palm Beach, Knox Block, and 4 and 4½ inch brims.

Ready to put right on and the cost ever so little—$1.50, $2.25, $3, $3.75 each.

You will be as much surprised at the great variety as we were over our great good fortune in securing it. Best sailors are scarce.

Ladies' Special-Order Tailoring.
This department, third floor, is ready to execute orders
For Coats for all occasions,
For Costumes,
For Riding Habits,
New Cutters,
New Fitters,
New Designers.
Each and all experts in their several lines.
Immediate orders will be executed promptly.

More New Cotton Waists.

And there need be more coming in daily else this department of the second floor would be in a pretty state. Waists never went out so fast. White, of course, is the favorite. Yet the other morning, in a desultory way, we noticed a line of black waists. And do you know that women came trooping after those blacks the whole day long. To be sure, black waists are the best sort of a rumabout waist—for Pittsburg.

Here is a line of real warm weather waists—or rather mention of part of a line—because to take up the whole would require too much space:

Waists of sheer white Persian lawn, made with 8 tucks to form yoke, a finish of briar stitching between tucks and two rows down center of pleat; tucked back; pouch sleeve, ending with dainty hemstitched turnover cuffs. Stock to match. The price, $2.

A new Waist of white linen just arrived has many points of beauty. It is made with a yoke tucked yoke, the back tucked, and large pearl buttons are used for fastening; linen stock with turnover; sleeves that are pouched complete this simple and pretty waist, and it will cost you only $3.

Plain tailor-made Shirtwaists are ready in a variety of stuffs—white linen, madras and dimity—full front, plain back, shirt sleeve, link cuff, $3.50

We have a very handsome white linen Waist, beautifully trimmed with renaissance lace; the back is tucked as well as the sleeves; fancy stock, $5.

White Quilts, 95c Each.

The Bedding Store in the Basement has 1,000 of them to sell for 95c each. The quilts are large size in Marseilles patterns, and are already hemmed.

Basement Specials in Dress Cottons.

Dress Cottons of American make, as good as the best imported—and many pennies less a yard.

The first bit of news that we have to tell you is that on a special table will be found short pieces of Percales, Ginghams, Batistes and Lawns that have sold for 12½c and up to 18c. Now the newsy part of this paragraph is that we are going to sell them to you for 7½c a yard.

At 15c a yard, reduced from 25c—Swisses that have embroidered stripes, over tinted and white grounds.

At 18c a yard, that fine cloth for Summer use known everywhere as Galatea. Plain colors and striped effects. Admirable for outing suits and for children's dresses. Nothing more so.

At 15c a yard, reduced from 25c—1,500 yards of choice Woven Madras. Let us repeat that the colors of this madras are woven in, not printed. A great difference. All the preferred colors of this season.

Special Sale Today.

Here's a great lot of ribbons—new and fresh—that will go on sale today, special table, center aisle, for 20c a yard. Notice the regular prices:

Short Ends of Laces, Half Price.

For half of former prices today we will clean out the week's accumulation of short ends of Venise, Valenciennes, Torchon and Chantilly Laces, and also Liberty Silk, Chiffon and Mousseline de Soie.

Special table, Fifth street aisle.

FIGHT FOR CLERKS TO COME NEXT

Citizens Are Determined to Oust Martin and Gearing.

LEADERS PLAN CAMPAIGN

Will Try to Capture One Republican Councilman—E. Z. Wainwright Is to Be a Democratic Candidate for Sheriff.

An election of Citizens city clerks without the assistance of the courts will now be attempted by the administration. The crushing defeat administered on the technological school site ordinance is making the Citizens leaders determined in the city clerk contest.

At a conference of the leaders yesterday it was decided that a mighty effort must be made to elect new city clerks. To suffer another defeat at this time would bring fresh discredit on the administration and organization. The party bosses are also opposed to asking the courts for a mandamus to compel select council to meet in joint session, until every other means of bringing about a meeting has been exhausted.

The leaders believe that the power of the administration should be strong enough to break through the Republican wall in select council and capture one of the 19 members. Ways and means are now being considered and a mighty effort will be made to get one Republican councilman.

WAINWRIGHT FOR SHERIFF.

E. Z. Wainwright of the Nineteenth ward may prove a disturbing factor in the fusion game this fall. Wainwright has decided to be the Democratic candidate for sheriff and is now in the field. Under the new rules the county convention is composed of 99 delegates. A year ago James A. Clark, then a candidate for re-election as county commissioner, corralled the delegates and the Citizens had to put him on their ticket. From present appearances Wainwright intends to do the same thing. He is strong individually and has powerful interests behind him.

The effort of Wainwright to secure the shrievalty nomination is said to interfere with the plans of Thomas S. Bigelow. The head of the Citizens party is favorable to naming a Citizen for the office of sheriff. E. L. Braun of Allegheny is picked by some as Bigelow's man. Should Wainwright get control of the nominating convention he would be in a position to dictate terms on the whole fusion ticket. The recognized leaders of the Democracy are all friendly to Wainwright and the majority of them are of the opinion that the fusion candidate for sheriff should come from the Democratic party.

WILL SEE THE GOVERNOR.

Sealers of weights and measures may not be appointed in Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The county commissioners yesterday decided that they would not designate the number of inspectors until they were satisfied that the act authorizing their appointment is constitutional. The question has been raised and several applicants for positions intend to go to Harrisburg to confer with Gov. Pennypacker and Attorney General Carson. They will ask for an opinion on the constitutionality of the law, it being held to be in violation of article 3, section 27 of the constitution. The section cited forbids the creation of a state office for the inspection or measuring of any merchandise, manufacture or commodity. The inspectors are appointed by the governor and paid by the county. The commissioners will delay action until they hear from Harrisburg.

There are 25 or 30 applicants for inspectors of sealers of weights and measures. Every day some of them call on the commissioner and urge them to designate the number of inspectors. The Citizens are anxious to have the jobs created, as they hope to control the appointments.

SCHOOL CONTRIBUTIONS BREAK ALL THE RECORDS

Returns received from the schools by the Hospital Saturday and Sunday association break the records of previous years. In both cities and in the townships and boroughs the contributions exceed those of last year, which was the banner year. The contributions are as follows:

This makes a grand total of $2,483 28, an increase of $354 42 over last year. The increase in Pittsburgh was $182 64; in Allegheny $17 25 and in the boroughs and townships $154 53. There are several schools yet to report, which will put the mark above $2,500.

The managers of the association hope to get at least $2,000 from the street booths tomorrow if the weather conditions are at all favorable. The fiscal year of the association begins June 1. Returns of the actual free resident days will be made immediately after that date, when the distribution to the associated hospitals will be made.

German-Americans Organize.

German residents of the Thirteenth ward who have served in the German army, have formed a society to be known as Eighth Company, Germany Military society of Pittsburgh. The officers are: President, Charles Scholz; vice president, Martin Abel; treasurer, Christ Wolff; secretary, John A. Scholz. The society has 69 members and will apply for a charter. The object of the society is to pay sick and death benefits to members and their families.

VIOLATORS OF THE BLUE LAWS MUST PUT BLINDS ON STORES.

Beginning Sunday the small cigar and soda water stores must do business behind drawn blinds. If the blue laws are to be broken, Police Superintendent John P. McTighe proposes that the violation shall not disturb the peace of those who stand for a Puritan Sabbath.

In the hill district stores of all kinds have been open. The proprietors of all but cigar and soda water stands have been ordered to close. The butcher and milkman will be permitted to deliver goods until noon on Sundays during the hot weather. McTighe says this regulation is made in the interest of those too poor to afford ice. All bootblack stands throughout the city have orders to close at noon.

"I believe that cigars and soda water are necessities," said Supt. McTighe," and it is not the intention of the department to prohibit their sale. I do believe, however, that blinds should be placed on the windows. The order to use screens does not extend to the drug stores, but I think that the proprietors of these places should put up blinds without being ordered."

SOME DRUGGISTS DEFY THE BURGESS

Keys Issued Orders to Stop Sunday Soda Water Selling in Wilkinsburg.

DEALERS ARE INDIGNANT

Several of Them Declare They Will Continue to Dispense Cooling Drinks in Spite of the Blue Laws or Executive Orders.

Burgess James S. Keys served notice on all venders of soda water, ice cream and cigars in Wilkinsburg that these articles must not be sold on Sundays hereafter. Burgess Horner, the predecessor of Mr. Keys, created a sensation last winter by fining all citizens who did not keep their sidewalks free from ice and snow. Mr. Keys' action yesterday has put Burgess Horner's order in the shade.

The enforcement of the blue laws was the talk of the borough of Wilkinsburg last night. The drug stores do an enormous trade in the prohibited articles and many of the proprietors feel very indignant.

W. R. Patterson, who also has been in the drug business longer than any other man in the town, said: "The best way to get rid of an obnoxious law is to enforce it. The result of this action will be to open wide everything in the town. What about the street cars?"

W. L. Smith, who has one of the largest establishments in the town and who does an enormous soda water business, said: "We'll go ahead anyhow. They cannot shut off our business; we will fight it to the bitter end. The fine is only $25. It is a shame."

W. S. Stout of the Colonial pharmacy said: "If a man comes in here on Sunday and wants a drink or soda he will get it. The class of people behind this movement has no stamina."

J. C. Pauly of the Trenton Avenue pharmacy said: "The habit of selling these articles has established a custom and the custom will make the continuance of the trade a necessity. We make our living from the people and we will furnish the people with the goods they want. We will take no notice of the ordinance."

THE RINGLING SHOWS.

This Big Circus, Menagerie and Spectacle Is Bigger and Better Than Ever This Year.

A community of a thousand or more people will drop down in the old Exposition grounds early next Sunday morning. These strangers will come in their own trains, showy cars in green and gold, and will spread their sheltering roofs quietly and quickly before most readers have risen for breakfast. Ringling brothers have brought the circus idea to a point of public appreciation unequaled before. Two years ago, when they were here, the street display and the ring program were admirable. This season they have a larger show, and the street pageant and circus features are said to be even more attractive. In the menagerie part there is a real baby elephant, born in this country, and about four months old. It is said to be in splendid health and spirits and gives every promise of growing to maturity. This is against all tradition, which holds that an elephant cannot be reared in this climate.

Two giraffes, a rhinoceros, and a baby camel, are other curiosities in the animal department. The big parade will leave the show lots Monday morning at 9 o'clock, and go over the usual downtown streets of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The circus will be here for two days, Monday and Tuesday, and give two performances each day.

NURSES FIND $7,000 IN PATIENT'S CLOTHES

After Michael Nolling of White Rock, Pa., had his legs amputated at the West Penn hospital late Wednesday night, he surprised the surgeons and nurses by asking what had become of his money, which seemed to worry him more than the loss of his legs. When his clothing was searched it was discovered that Nolling had $7,000 when brought to the hospital. Nolling's legs were crushed by a fast train, which struck his buggy at White Rock station, on the Allegheny Valley railroad, where he intended taking a train for Pittsburgh Wednesday evening. His horse was killed and the buggy smashed.

MOORE REMOVES EIGHT FIREMEN

POLICEMEN ARE LET GO

Over a Score of Patrolmen Are Ripped Out for Political Reasons — Councilman Schempp Has a Grievance.

Director Moore and Supt. of Police McTighe have made a number of dismissals among the firemen and policemen during the last week. Twenty policemen have been discharged and yesterday Director Moore dismissed the following men from the fire bureau:

CAPT. WILLIAM ZIPF, No. 3 engine house.
THOMAS CARMICHAEL, No. 6 engine house.
SAMUL CARMICHAEL, No. 6 engine house.
HARRY PARDINE, No. 6 engine house.
GEORGE MEEKIN, No. 7 engine house.
JAMES MILLER, No. 3 engine house.
A. N. BURNS, No. 2 engine house.
GEORGE SCOTT, No. 27 engine house.

These firemen were dismissed from the service by Director Moore on March 31. On April 1 they were instructed to report for duty until further notice was given them. The conditions of their reinstatements were not governed by the regulations of the new charter, which provide that dismissals can only be made after charges are preferred and a hearing has been held in each case. The provisions of the act had not become effective at that time, and hence all men retained on April 1 and 6 can be removed by Director Moore without a hearing.

Select Councilman William Schempp of the Thirteenth ward is thoroughly disgusted with the way the Citizens are distributing the city patronage. He says that two engine house matrons, Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. Mary Smith, have been discharged and their dismissal is an outrage. Both women need the positions. Mrs. Smith is the widow of a soldier. The women live in the Thirteenth ward and Schempp promises trouble if they are not reinstated. Schempp will make a protest to Mayor Hays when the executive returns from the Cleveland horse sals.

HOMEWOOD BANK NOW OWNED BY SYNDICATE

Interests Controlling Iron City National and Guarantee Title and Trust Make New Deal

The same interests which recently secured control of the Iron City National bank and the Guarantee Title and Trust Company have closed a deal by which they secure control of the Homewood Peoples bank, in Homewood avenue, near Hamilton. The price at which the stock was secured is not made known. J. R. Paull, president of the Iron City National, has been made a director and president of the newly acquired bank. C. M. Logue, a prominent member of the syndicate, remains as a director, and four Homewood men will be chosen to the directorate to bring to it local support. Those who remain on the board in addition to Mr. Logue are John F. Baxter, Jacob Hochburg, James M. Clark, J. A. Guinyon, J. W. Vandersaal and J. R. McCreary.

The capital of this bank is $50,000 and its deposits are something over $100,000. It has been in operation for two or three years.

The linking together of the institutions in this new group has been further carried out by the election of J. R. Paull to the vice presidency of the Guarantee Title and Trust Company.

PHILADELPHIAN ACCEPTS A CALL TO HOMESTEAD

The Rev. Harry Vincent Walker of the Oak Lane (Philadelphia) Baptist church has accepted the call to the pastorate of the First Baptist church of Homestead, which was recently extended to him. The Homestead charge was made vacant by the resignation of the Rev. W. Quay Rosselle, who accepted a call to Williamsport, Pa. The Homestead church pays $1,800 per year.

X-RAY PICTURE OF WOMAN'S INJURIES

Bullet in Mrs. Kountz's Breast Will Soon Be Located. Kountz Is Confident.

The physicians of the Homeopathic hospital yesterday used the X-ray camera in making a picture of the wound in Mrs. Margaret E. Kountz's breast and will use it in locating the bullet when the woman has recovered sufficiently to undergo the operation. The plate has not been developed and it is not known how deeply the missile is seated.

Mrs. Kountz has heard no further news from her first husband, C. P. Anderson, who is in Arkansas and was reported to be on his way to meet his former wife. If Mrs. Kountz continues to improve it is doubtful if he will come to Pittsburgh.

Walter P. Kountz, who shot John E. Walsh on Squirrel Hill last Saturday night, is calmly resigning himself to the routine of life in the county jail. He is in good spirits and declares his confidence that the trial will prove that his act was justifiable.

SAME TIN PLATE SCALE

Prices Did Not Charge and Wage Will Remain as Before for the Next 60 Days.

President Theodore J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers sent word to the local headquarters yesterday that it was decided that the present tin plate scale will remain the same for the next 60 days. The American Tin Plate officials and the committee appointed by President Shaffer are holding a conference in New York.

The tin plate scale is based upon the selling price of the product. According to the advice of President Shaffer the prices have changed but little, if any, during the last 60 days.

For the first time in many years the price of cotton has gone above eleven cents. This would be most encouraging to southern planters but for the fact that the high price is quite evidently the result of manipulation. In other words, cotton has been cornered and the mills are suffering. Later there is likely to be a reaction unfavorable to the planters, since the artificial price is disturbing to trade. Even the cornerers may find it far more difficult to realize their paper profits than it has been to create them.

Investigation into the case of intimidation of the colored mail carrier on the Gallatin, Tenn., route elicits the fact that a majority of the people of that section are not in sympathy with the intimidators. They are satisfied with the carrier and they promise to give him such protection as they can if the service is renewed. It is probable the route will be reopened soon and the carrier given armed protection for a time. The most gratifying feature of the case, however, is the evidence of a healthy public sentiment in that district in favor of peace and justice.

Despite attacks in the courts the beef trust appears to be working the old game. In the face of unusually heavy receipts of cattle there has been a sudden lift in the price of beef to retailers, which will naturally be followed by an advance to the consumer. There is not on this occasion the same excuse for the advance that there was a little more than a year ago for the advance that caused so much popular indignation and led to the beginning of court proceedings. It is likely this movement will cause a quickening of public sentiment again and also a pushing on the court proceedings that are likely to demonstrate the unwisdom of the untimely exhibition of greed.

James Connell, national president of the Machinists' union, advocates a novel plea for the nine-hour day for the men of his craft. It is that the ten-hour day for the machinists imposes a twelve-hour day upon their wives and needless hardships upon their children. There is a strong element of truth and justice in this view, but to give it full force Mr. Connell ought to give assurance that if the machinists are let off an hour earlier they will devote that time to relieving the wives of all labor after their return home. In that way the machinists and their wives will have an equal ten-hour day each, or at most a day of ten and one-half hours. Is Mr. Connell prepared to give this assurance in the interest of the most overworked class of labor?

Prince Henry's visit to France with a squadron of seven-line of battleships and six cruisers is an international event. It is less exciting at this distance than if the German had gone to Brest with that many vessels and a hostile intent, but in Paris it is regarded with pleasurable interest as an overture for better relations. No doubt it was so intended. To the disinterested observer it looks like a counter move to the recent Parisian visit of King Edward. It was while King Edward was dallying in the capitals of Portugal, Italy and France that the awful blow to Kaiser Wilhelm's Bagdad railway was prepared and fell, and it is but natural that the quickly following visit of the kaiser to Rome and this cruise of brother Henry to Brest should be in some way coupled with the English king's journeyings. There may be no connection, but the circumstances arouse suspicion.

The declaration made yesterday by the Rev. R. J. Campbell of London that he would refuse to pay taxes imposed by the new education bill implies an attitude on the part of the non-conformist churches of England that may give the government a great deal of trouble. Mr. Campbell is the successor of Dr. Parker at the City Temple, and is a leading non-conformist clergyman. The education bill provides for payments to church schools when their course of study conforms to official requirements and the schools are subject to official inspection. The dissenting churches objected to this as favoring the established church at the cost of the community, and while the bill was under consideration there was some talk about refusing to pay the school tax on this ground. Mr. Campbell's declaration implies that this opposition is taking practical shape as a non-resistance movement, which means that the tax collectors will be compelled to levy upon goods and sell them for the unpaid taxes. A struggle of this kind would be a very unpleasant one for the authorities and would have serious political consequences.

An order for abandonment of the hearing in the matter of raising the Seventh street bridge is indicative of the opinion at Washington that raising the bridges over the Allegheny is wholly unnecessary. The same opinion prevails here outside an extremely limited circle of interested agitators. Navigation is not interfered with by the bridges and development along the river has not been checked. On the contrary, the check would come from imposing burdensome grades upon traffic over the bridges. But while the abandonment of this hearing is a welcome indication, it recalls the manifest unfairness of attacking the bridges singly instead of collectively in order to conceal in part the enormous disparity between the traffic passing under the bridges and that which passes over them. It is true the traffic over the Sixth street bridge is many times greater than that passing under it, but the total traffic over all of the bridges is simply beyond comparison with that passing under them. It is also true that years ago a much larger traffic passed under the bridges than now, and though the bridges were then lower, there was no complaint about obstruction. As a matter of fact it is the opinion of eminent lawyers that the proposal of Engineer Officer Sibert to raise the bridges would be a taking of private property without compensation within the meaning of the plain prohibition of the Constitution of the United States and that, therefore, the entire agitation is out of place and vicious.

Well Meant But Mistaken.

Throughout Gov. Pennypacker's defense of the Grady-Salus bill one hears echoes of the ideas of the Federalist period of our politics. The license acquired by the press during the revolutionary period was a source of deep anxiety to conservative statesmen. It was thought that authority would be brought into contempt if subjected to the comment of self-constituted critics. In one of his essays on government, Fisher Ames said: "The press is a new and certainly a powerful agent in human affairs. It will change societies; but it is difficult to conceive how by rendering men indocile and presumptuous it can change them for the better. It has inspired ignorance with presumption so that those who cannot be governed by reason are no longer awed by authority." A similar strain of thought appears in Gov. Pennypacker's remark that "the commonwealth is interested that those who render her service should be treated with deference and respect, so that when they go forth in the performance of their functions those to whom they are sent may feel that they are vested with authority." That is precisely the idea which prompted the passage of the sedition law during John Adams' administration, making it a crime to publish any false, scandalous or malicious writings against the government of the United States, or either house of congress, or the president, with the intent to defame them or bring them into contempt or disrepute. If any legislation could compass the purpose which Gov. Pennypacker desires, that would be it, but as a matter of fact it failed altogether to accomplish its purpose, but instead destroyed the party which enacted it. The fire lighted to roast the press burned down the Federalist house.

The indictment which Gov. Pennypacker brings in against the press will compare well in energy of statement with any that was framed by the leaders of the Federalist party. He says that "a whole generation of young men are being trained to a familiarity with crime and to disrespect for government." And again: "Many years' experience on the bench has led me to the conclusion that crimes are widely propagated not by the malice, but by the recklessness of the press." The anonymity of the press is made the occasion for sarcastic reference to articles "claiming the right to sit in supervision upon the courtesies of the parlor and the doings of public officials, and no one knows what their origin, whence they come, who is he that writes them, or who is responsible for them." If the press is an institution prone to such evil and addicted to such absurdity, why should it be tolerated at all? The efficient remedy would be to suppress it altogether. Throughout the greater part of its history the world got on without newspapers and can do so again if need be. Some historians regard Roman imperial rule as the greatest apparatus of government ever formed, and that the perfection of its operation in the age of the Antonines was the most felicitous period in the history of the human race. There was no newspaper press in those days, and it must be admitted that the existence of the press is inimical to any system of government founded upon magisterial authority. Fisher Ames was right and Gov. Pennypacker is right on that point. It must also be admitted that in his description of the evils of the press and in his sarcasm upon the self-constituted nature of its office of criticism, Gov. Pennypacker has the support of philosophic thinkers. Mr. Lecky in his great work upon the history of the eighteenth century vigorously describes the dangers and defects of the press as a social institution. He remarks:

> Few things to a reflecting mind are more curious than the extraordinary weight which is attached to the anonymous expression of political opinion. Partly by the illusion of the imagination, which magnifies the hidden representative of a great corporation—partly by the weight of emphatic assertion, a plural pronoun, conspicuous type, and continual repetition, unknown men, who would probably be unable to induce any constituency to return them to parliament, are able, without exciting any surprise or sense of incongruity, to assume the language of the accredited representatives of the nation, and to rebuke, patronize or insult its leading men with a tone of authority which would not be tolerated from the foremost statesmen of their time.

Mr. Lecky also regards it as "a strange thing, though custom has made it very familiar," that influencing public opinion should be carried on as a commercial speculation, for "a newspaper, as such, is and must be a commercial speculation," and hence "it must write down to the level of its readers." The historian goes on to declare that "no such powerful instrument as a corrupt press has ever been discovered for vulgarizing the national mind, for lowering the moral sense, for deepening, stimulating and perpetuating class hatreds or national animosities."

What justification is there then for the existence of such an institution? The answer is that despite its defects and its liability to abuse, the growth of the press has supplied a representative system responsive to the needs of modern society. Mr. Lecky says:

> Side by side with the recognized constitution another representative system has grown up, in which the various wants, aspirations and opinions of the nation are reflected with at least equal accuracy; another debating organ in which political questions are so fully discussed that the debates of parliament are frequently little more than its echo. * * * Of all the instruments which human wisdom has, devised, a free press is the most efficacious in putting an end to jobs, abuses, political malversation and corruption. A public writer has strong motives to expose these things, and except in very rare cases he has no motive to conceal them. They wither beneath the blaze of publicity which is thrown on all the details of administration, on the discontents and grievances of every class of the community. The newspaper press not only reflects the many phases and modifications of public opinion, it also gives it an irresistible volume and momentence. Organizing, directing, intensifying, and sometimes creating it, bringing the ablest leaders speedily to the surface, adding immensely to the facilities of co-operation, diffusing the popular arguments with unparalleled rapidity and over an enormous area, repeating them day by day until they have become familiar to all classes, and watching with an unceasing vigilance the smallest encroachments of power, it has strengthened immeasurably the spirit and resources of liberty, and has made dangers which once appeared very imminent wholly chimerical.

It matters not that this representative function of the press has not been ordained by law, but has grown up spontaneously; it is a product of social development, and is a phase of the growth of free institutions. Good government is conceivable without the press; but it would not be popular, self-government. The press is an agency created by the people to subject the traditional organs of government to public supervision, and hence its position and its responsibilities ought to be different from those of ordinary citizenship or ordinary business enterprises. Gov. Pennypacker in commending the application to the press of the law of negligence, says:

> When we walk the streets, or drive a horse, or light a fire, or make a shoe, or build a house, we must take care that we do not cause harm to others. It applies to the gatherer of garbage. Why should it not apply to the gatherer of news?

The reason why is that in the cases cited there is no obligation to cause harm to others; the press is under an obligation to cause harm to others upon public grounds and for public purposes. It should do harm to jobbers, grafters, bribers and malefactors of every sort; it should so far as possible through criticism and exposure, damage their business, and if possible destroy it altogether, and in the discharge of that function it is entitled to protection on the same principle that members of the legislature are relieved of liability for acts done and things said in the exercise of their representative character. This special function of the press has secured gradual recognition from the courts, and some area of privilege is conceded, but that area is undefined; Gov. Pennypacker does not err in holding that there are abuses of the liberty of the press calling for correction; the defect of the Salus-Grady bill is that it does not strike directly at the abuses, but increases the risks and perils of all newspaper function. It does not define rights or duties, but accumulates penalties, and in effect penalizes the exercise of a public function assigned to the press through the growth of popular self-government. The history of the bill and the official explanations made in regard to it show that it was conceived in a vindictive spirit. In order to strike at one paper the entire press is subjected to new liabilities of whose nature and extent it is impossible to form any idea.

Such legislation is apt to increase the very evils at which it is aimed, and there are already indications that such will be the effect of the Salus-Grady bill. Repressive legislation directed against the press has invariably heretofore acted both as a provocation to scurrility and as an excuse for it, and that is just what is taking place now, as Gov. Pennypacker is finding out by personal experience. We admire Gov. Pennypacker's imperturbable firmness in the discharge of duty, and we recognize that in this matter he has been actuated by a sense of duty, but we deplore his action as a great mistake which will have evil consequences.

Ten Thousand a Year.

The best that can be said of the proposition of Councilman D. F. Crawford, chairman of the committee to which is referred the resolution relating to the compensation of the delinquent tax collector, is that it is a step in the right direction. But it is not a long enough step. The resolution before the committee asks the mayor and city solicitor to frame an ordinance providing a salary instead of fees, and President Crawford of common council, under authority of that body, has referred it to a special committee composed of Messrs. D. F. Crawford, Joseph Zueger and Harry Lamb. It is to be presumed that the chairman of the committee has not spoken without consultation, and it is therefore to be assumed that in higher administration circles and in the inner councils where administration policy is incubated, $10,000 a year is considered to be a proper let down from the present emoluments. Indeed, as the resolution contemplates the fixing of the salary by the mayor subject to the approval of councils, there can be no other conclusion than that mention of $10,000 is an inspiration. But such compensation is admittedly excessive. It may be excused, but not justified by the circumstance that the collector's revenues are now so much greater and that there is no power aside from the pressure of public opinion to force abatement of the exactions. The proper measure of the salary that ought to be paid can perhaps best be obtained by assuming that the office of delinquent tax collector is about to be newly created and compensation provided. Would anyone under such circumstances have the temerity to suggest a salary equal to that of the mayor and double that of any salaried office under him? The person who would make such a suggestion, were the office about to be created de novo, would be laughed off the scene, and would deserve to be. No one can advance a sufficient reason for paying the delinquent tax collector twice as much as is paid to the city treasurer, or to the director of public works, or of public safety. Any well-balanced person looking at the situation calmly and without prejudice would declare that the compensation should not be as large as that of either of the officials named, to say nothing of being equal to the compensation of any two of them. If, however, it is intended to limit the whole salary list of the delinquent tax collector's office to $10,000 a year, that is a different matter. But we do not understand that to be the suggestion. After the collector has been provided for there remains the clerical force, so that if the collector is to have the $10,000 the amounts necessary for those who really do the work will make a considerable addition. The ante-election pledge of Mayor Hays was not understood by the people to contemplate so princely a salary for the delinquent tax collector as Councilman D. F. Crawford names, and we advise the mayor that in changing the manner of compensating the holder of the office such a change ought to be made as will need no defense, and as real reform sentiment can approve.

President Roosevelt has ordered all the disfiguring signs torn from the big trees in the California groves. Should he decide to extend his crusade to the flaring and ugly billboards there would be cause for further congratulation.

HISTORIC INACCURACY.

From the Philadelphia Record.

Gov. Pennypacker is not ignorant of history. On the contrary, he pretends to much historical learning. He is president of the Pennsylvania Historical society, and in delving among colonial annals he has brought up some curious things and some that are instructive. Among the latter is his account of the two honest Quaker judges in the trial of the printer Bradford for libel. But as is just seen by his official approval of the Salus-Grady muzzler, he is one of those students who are incapable of making a right application of the philosophy of history.

Thus with a strange display of ignorance he says of certain harmless cartoons in his jumble of excuses for signing the muzzler that "a hundred years ago the offender would have been drawn and quartered." From what store of learning has he drawn this knowledge? Whether he has deceived himself or has boldly designed to deceive others by this assertion, there could not be a more absurd travesty of historic truth. It was just a hundred years ago that James Gilray, the great English caricaturist, was in the height of his success. It is true that his cartoons were not printed in the newspapers, for journalism had not then made such progress. But they were openly sold in the print shops of London and scattered by myriads over England. Gilray and his artistic rivals did not scruple to make the most grotesque caricatures of George the Third, the prince of Wales and other members of the royal family. Compared with the ferocious malignity of some of their libels of high personages the cartoons which so wound the sensitive nature of Gov. Pennypacker are but harmless strokes of good humored pleasantry. But so far from incurring the risk of being "drawn and quartered," as he asserts, the artist lived securely under protection of British law and of the saving good sense of the English people.

To go a step further back in the history which Gov. Pennypacker so strangely misrepresents in his plea for this feeble and foolish attempt to muzzle the press of Pennsylvania, the prosecution of John Wilkes for a libel on the king and his ministers in the famous No. 45 of The North Briton was a dismal failure so far as the government was concerned. Its ultimate results were to overthrow the ministry and to establish the freedom of the press more firmly than ever. In a smaller way the authors and instigators of the miserable Salus-Grady muzzler will be extremely lucky if they shall escape the penalty of their stupid blunder. Such, at least, is the philosophy of history, teaching by example.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

In the four quarters of the globe, who reads an American book, or goes to an American play, or looks at an American picture?
—Sidney Smith, 1820.

Sidney is dead now, or he might find it in his heart to say something nicer about us. If not, it is just as well that he is dead.

Of course, things were very different away back in those times—those early days, long and long enough before the war, and before Young America had gone into long dresses. She was only a chit of a girl then, and couldn't reasonably have been expected to have a real old mandom in which to live, nor to be surrounded with masterpieces of her own writers and artists.

But let Mr. Sidney Smith, or any other Smith, come around now and he will find books and pictures and plays and lots of things just as good as they have in old England, or anywhere on the face of the earth. True, we haven't as much moth-eaten, wormy, moldy old truck lying around, and much of what we have has been brought from England to look at, or to give freshness and lustre to our own by contrast.

* * * * *

That was a long time ago—1820. And yet there are a good many people living today who were living then. These very well know that Mr. Smith's observations were justified by the facts, in a measure.

At that time nearly all that was artistic or clever came across the water, for our people had been too busy clearing up the new ground, building mills and workshops, to bother much with things esthetic.

Pittsburgh was only a small affair at that time, and had not begun to turn out authors and artists and millionaires, as was clearly set forth in Seybert's Annals, which work Mr. Smith was reviewing when he made the observation referred to.

These annals were something like the report of the Moseley commission which made a tour of this country recently, except that Seybert was an American, and endeavored to give facts and figures as they occurred to him. In reviewing these, Mr. Smith—Sydney Smith—one of England's greatest Smiths, tried to belittle us, but he couldn't do it now, were he living, for we have the books, and the pictures, and the plays, as he could see right in England, or anywhere.

* * * * *

There is a time for making books, and a time for reading them, but reading and making books will not make a nation strong and successful.

Action is the thing when there are obstacles to be overcome.

It may have been well for this country that there were so few books to read while there was so much physical labor to be performed. There were great forests to be overcome, fierce enemies to be mastered, and new homes to be established and maintained.

For this work there was little need of mathematics, grammar or logic. And as for fanciful Indian stories there was no need, the real thing being handy at all times. Nor did the young folks need love stories, chapters on kissing, or books on etiquette. They simply met and loved and married, and then went forth into the woods, built cabins, cleared patches of ground, and grew up with the country.

In those days a home without a family was regarded as a failure, and no credit to those making it.

Boys and girls were not wanted for pets, but for the good they might be to the country, and particularly for the help they would be on the farm and about the house.

* * * * *

Books and books everywhere, but not a book to read.

That is about the way one feels on going into a book store to look for something just to read.

It might be better for the country if there were not so many books printed. They tempt people to read them, and only too often it is time wasted, if not worse.

The few books read by our forefathers were good ones, and they were read with care, re-read ones, and they were read with care, re-read ones, and they were read with care, re-read, and talked about until their contents were understood.

As much cannot be said of books in this age of many books.

Too much reading is no less harmful than too much of any other good thing.

What would you think of women reading a novel a day? Strange as it may seem, it is not an unusual feat. They are paper-backs, of course, and not very heavy.

There is such a thing as reading mania, and a very bad thing, too. The victim must have her daily novel or she becomes nervous, and suffers almost as much as does the victim of the opium habit when denied the usual supply of the drug.

These are exceptions, of course, but the mania for light reading prevails to a much greater extent than is generally known.

* * * * *

Our schools come in for a large share of the blame for this social disorder.

It is a social disorder because it creates disorder in society by unfitting its members for exercise of more important duties. A confirmed novel reader, or book gourmand, is of comparatively little benefit to society, or to themselves.

Were reading taught and practiced in our schools it would have a marked and salutory effect on the literary tastes of our young people. With reading books such as the English reader, McGuffy's readers, and some others now out of date, such an interest could be aroused that boys and girls would naturally take to reading, with a preference for material of the better class.

But our school heads seem to have been filled with the notion that reading in school is a waste of precious time. The anti-readers argue that children get enough reading out of school. They get too much, such as it is.

And who is there to tell them what to read, or to help them to read and understand? Parents are supposed to do this, but do they? And if they happen to be graduates from our common schools their taste may not be altogether commendable.

A taste cultivated in school for reading that is both entertaining and instructive will be far more beneficial than much of the modern stuff that has been crowded into school courses.

* * * * *

It may be no fault of school directors, and certainly not of teachers, that reading as an instructive and generally beneficial branch of school work has been sidetracked, or kicked out, but it is somebody's fault, and that particular somebody ought to be located, and when located be required to explain.

The charge has often been made, and the people are beginning to believe it true, that publishers of school books, and not those engaged in teaching, determine what books shall be used. If this be the case it doesn't matter much what the book is, or whether it is worth more than the one thrown out, just so it gets in.

Practical training in politeness, good manners and deportment in reading interesting and instructive books, and in using clean, decent language, are among the things that demand the immediate, earnest, careful attention of those in charge of our schools.

Too many of our young people are ill-mannered, coarse and vulgar of speech, and vicious in taste concerning books and periodicals.

Than this what greater menace to society can there be?

'Tis education forms the common mind:
Just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined.
—Pope.

SPRINKLE SUNSHINE.

If you should see a fellow-man with trouble's flag unfurled,
An' lookin' like he didn't have a friend in all the world,
Go up and clap him on the back, and holler "How d'you do!"
And grasp his hand so warm he'll know he has a friend in you.
Then ax him what's a-hurtin' him, an' laugh his cares away,
And tell him that the darkest night is just before the day.
Don't talk in graveyard palaver, but say it right out loud,
That God will sprinkle sunshine in the trail of every cloud.

This world at best is but a hash of pleasure and of pain;
Some days are bright and sunny, and some all clothed with rain;
And that's just how it ought to be, for when the clouds roll by
We'll know just how to 'preciate the bright and smiling sky.
So learn to take it as it comes, and don't sweat at the pores
Because the Lord's opinion doesn't coincide with yours;
But always keep rememberin', when cares your path environed,
That God has lots of rambling to split behind the cloud.
—James Whitcomb Riley.

Talked of in New York

(By Private Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, May 14.—Gen. Greene, commissioner of police, is responsible for a flurry of excitement among the city magistrates. The commissioner is quoted as saying at the annual dinner of the Civil Service Reform association last evening that out of the 12 magistrates in Greater New York only four attend to their duties properly. He also said, according to reports, that five magistrates have such views of the laws that the result of bringing any complaint on certain sorts of offenses before them, no matter how strong the evidence may be, is largely a matter of speculation. This is enough to ruffle the disposition of any set of magistrates, no matter how angelic they may be. No one has asserted that New York magistrates are better tempered than those of any other city, while some of them are decidedly peppery. Magistrate Deuel, president of the board of magistrates, said this afternoon that he believed he was one of four well behaved magistrates to whom the commissioner referred. Magistrate Zeller, who presides on the breezy heights of Harlem where the Polo grounds are, seems to think he may be one of the unregenerate five, for he declared with some heat today that if the commissioner had dared to mention his name, he (Zeller) would have had the commissioner before him pretty quick to answer for his contumacy. The commissioner smiles gently at these outpourings. He is used to being criticised, and because he is used to it does not allow it to trouble him. One of the statements made by Greene was that two magistrates have not sat on the bench for nine months. This is true, but it is also true that neither of them are likely ever to sit again. They are Magistrates Mott and Meade, both of whom are very ill, with no chance of recovery. Mott distinguished himself for years as the most irascible magistrate that ever frightened a prisoner in a New York police court.

Dr. Devins to Visit Foreign Missions.

Dr. John Bancroft Devins, editor of the New York Observer, the Presbyterian organ, left New York today with Mrs. Devins for Los Angeles, where they will attend the general assembly. Afterward they will sail from San Francisco to Manila and thence will visit foreign missions in Corea, Japan, Mexico and other countries, being away for 15 months. Dr. Devins has a great many friends in Pittsburgh and is well known there to the entire Presbyterian community.

Dr. Manning Invited to Preach.

Dr. Manning, the new vicar of the fashionable St. Agnes chapel in West Ninety-second street, has been asked by Dr. Morgan Dix to preach at old Trinity church on Ascension day, May 21, which will be next Thursday. The anniversary of the consecration of old Trinity occurs on Ascension and it is a great parish day. There will be an augmented choir with an orchestra and the impressive procession through the church, which is one of the features of the anniversary, will take place. There is always an immense congregation to take part in ascension services at the historic old church at the top of Wall street and one has to arrive early in the morning even to get into the church at all, much more to get a seat. Dr. Manning came from the south only a few Sundays ago, but he has established himself already as one of the most forceful and flowery pulpit orators in the metropolis.

Work Resumed in the Subway.

Anyone glancing into the Rapid Transit tunnel today saw apparently a full complement of men at work. The contractors say they have all the men they want and that the strike trouble is over. Whether this actually be the case time may tell. There are hundreds of muttering strikers hanging about, and strike leaders indignantly deny that the contractors have been able to fill the places of those that have given up their employment for the sake of unionism. As for the public, it is mainly concerned in seeing the work go on, regarding McDonald's fight with the unions as his own personal matter, which he must deal with as seems best to him.

Contractor McDonald a Great Man.

A Baltimore man, talking to me about John B. McDonald this afternoon, as I stood looking into the enormous hole at Forty-second street and Broadway, pointed to the masses of rock that line the excavation and said: "That is the stuff that has given McDonald his hard work. He is a great man, McDonald, and the way he has forced through the thousands of tons of solid rock that have stood in his road while making this tunnel, proves that he is. He first came into notice as an engineer by making the tunnel in Baltimore. He never disturbed the streets there. He hired houses at intervals along the route and worked in the cellars, bringing the dirt up through the houses. All the trouble he had was in paying damages where he had undermined buildings here and there, but there was none of the breaking open of streets that New York has suffered for the last two years. Of course, McDonald only had earth and sand to go through in Baltimore. There was none of the rock that we see in New York. This is a much bigger job, but he never would have got it had he not shown in Baltimore that he understood the principle of the thing. He has done the work here as well as he did it in Baltimore. In my opinion John B. McDonald is one of the great men of the age."

Schwab Coming to Pittsburgh.

Charles M. Schwab and a party of friends will be in Pittsburgh tomorrow evening to witness the dedication of the new trade school in Homestead, which has been presented to that city by Mr. Schwab. The party will leave Jersey City at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Vanderbilt Fears Jerome.

It is believed in Boston that Reginald C. Vanderbilt was afraid that Jerome, the "demon district attorney," might serve a writ of subpoena on him if he ventured to come to New York to sail for England with his bride. The young man has always feared some such move on the part of the district attorney ever since the row was raised about Cashell's "art gallery" in Forty-fourth street, where it was intimated Mr. Vanderbilt dropped some thousands of dollars "looking at the pictures." So the Boston folks think he sailed from that city to protect himself. New Yorkers who are supposed to know a thing or two laugh at this story. The feeling is that Reginald is quite safe. Jerome is not altogether demoniacal.

Trouble for Automobilists.

More trouble looms up for automobilists. Magistrate Zeller of Harlem, who is nothing if not energetic, held for trial today two chauffeurs and a young man on a motorcycle. The latter was going at the rate of 42 miles an hour, declare the police. How the police ever caught him is not explained. The average Harlem policeman is not built for speed. One of the automobile drivers offered as an excuse that his machine was new and it got out of order and beyond his control. To which his honor snapped that he did not care. He would hold every automobilist who came before him. So that it is becoming as dangerous to run an automobile in New York as it used to be to ride a bicycle with a dim lamp.

Pennypacker's Error.

In a time when enlightened sentiment and common justice are everywhere demanding, and in some states carrying, amelioration of the barbarous libel law, the legislature and governor of Pennsylvania have achieved the unsavory notoriety of putting on the statute books of that commonwealth an act denounced by the press as conceived in iniquity and well calculated to foster the worst abuses that have damned the existing law as a weapon, in unscrupulous hands, of injustice and blackmail.

Not less extraordinary than the law is the long message in which Gov. Pennypacker offers his reasons, or rather apology, for signing it. A perusal of this strong hope wisely the governor might have acted on the advice of Lord Mansfield to a judge going to the West Indies, "Announce your decision, but give no reasons." A more amazing official document has rarely come from a state executive, or a more sweeping tirade against newspapers from a blatant ruler.—New York Herald.

After clearing away the rubbish of excuses and pretexts, we come back to the central act itself. This measure, now made law, had a double source and a double import. The governor wanted it in the hope of escaping from the inescapable cartoons. The gang wanted it in the hope of muzzling the opposition to jobs. The gang plumed on the governor's weakness for its own purpose, and the governor sanctioned the gang's methods of passing the bill for his own ends. The act is distinctly designed to gag the press in the interest of the plunderers and against the interest of the people. It was plotted in secret, withheld from the knowledge of all whose rights and interests were at stake, sprung upon the legislature at the last moment, rushed through in defiance of the constitution, all opportunity of hearing and amendment denied, and forced on unwilling legislators under lash and spur. Even then it was passed only by deception as to its intent and scope. The inefaceable stain which will ever rest on the name of the governor is this: that because of a petty personal grievance, he stultified his own record, sanctioned those public crimes and joined in the enactment of a law aimed at the liberty of the press.—Philadelphia Press.

+ + + +

The law itself is not perhaps so drastic as some of its opponents conceive it to be. But the spirit in which it was passed, and the temper of the governor in signing it, as expressed in a long memorandum, fully warrant the charge made by the leading newspapers of the state, that this is an attempt to gag the press to order that known corruptionists may ply their trade with less interruption. * * * In its more serious light, his approval of the bill and his memorandum constitute one more attempt on his part to shield, by his abilities and reputation, men who are known to be the worst of public plunderers.—New York Evening Post.

+ + + +

With all due respect to the governor we cannot but feel that the spirit breathed by this law is that which might have been expected in the dark ages, a spirit opposed to freedom of discussion, to liberty and independence. Of course, such a law will not stand, but meanwhile Pennsylvania will attract the eyes of the other states of the union, before which it will be placed in a most unfavorable light.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

+ + + +

It was a Pennsylvanian, Andrew Hamilton, whose eloquence established the right of the press to free discussion of the conduct of public men. It must be a melancholy reflection to the citizens of that great commonwealth that nearly two centuries later Pennsylvania should be dragooned into adopting a foolish measure, calculated to promote blackmailing of newspapers, at the behest of politicians sore as Chief Justice De Lancy was sore under Zenger's criticisms, and as the ministers of George III. were sore under the shafts of Junius and John Wilkes, and anxious not to protect the people from the real faults of journalism, but only to stifle criticism of themselves.—New York Tribune.

+ + + +

The Salus-Grady act is now Salus-Grady law until it shall be overturned in the courts as it already stands reprobated in the forum of public opinion. It will no doubt be observed in all the detail of its requirements by newspaper publishers, because it is the law; but its obnoxious features will be resented and resisted to the uttermost upon the first proper occasion. That is a duty which the united press of Pennsylvania owes for the maintenance of its self-respect and in the defense of its liberty as one of the strong bulwarks of free government.—Philadelphia Record.

+ + + +

With us it is a matter of regret that a governor who entered upon his official duties under such favorable auspices, and whose acts up to the present time have been so frequently lauded by both press and public, should put a stain on his record by attaching his signature to such a villainous and inexcusable law as this particular one bearing the names of Salus and Grady.—Scranton Republican.

+ + + +

When a political boss, when a political organization or machine, is able to put upon the statute book a law practically muzzling the press, a law which is pretty plainly fashioned to prevent attacks upon bosses and machines—as, for instance, in those of its provisions which are aimed at disguised headlines and cartoons—there is warrant for the declaration that one of the chief safeguards of the public welfare, one of the main instrumentalities by which the corrupt designs of evil men are thwarted, is destroyed.—New York Times.

+ + + +

By signing the libel bill passed at the recent session of the Pennsylvania legislature, Gov. Pennypacker disappoints many of his admirers, and gives some warrant for the charge that he is under machine influences. The bill originated in machine circles, was pressed by machine agents, and, as was shown, had machine ends in view. The machine will greatly rejoice that the measure has now become law.—Washington Star.

+ + + +

Gov. Pennypacker of Pennsylvania has signed the harsh Grady-Salus libel law, designed to protect from cruel criticism sensitive souls in the public service like Mr. Quay. It was evidently a bitter dose for the governor. He waited a month before swallowing it, and his remarks up

TECH SITE BILL THROUGH SELECT

The Ordinance Unanimously Passed Higher Branch of Councils Yesterday.

FEW AMENDMENTS MADE

Measure Will Have to Go Back to Common Council. Bigelow Makes a Denial As to Joncaire Street.

Select council passed the technical school site purchase ordinance yesterday. Had it not been for some amendments proposed by the city solicitor the city would be able to buy the land a little sooner, but the ordinance will now have to go back to common council for passage. The ordinance amended by select council is the one adopted by the common branch at its last meeting.

The meeting was a special one called for the purpose. Assistant City Clerk W. C. Gearing presented the ordinance adopted by common council, and the select council committee on finance received permission to sit during the session to consider the ordinance.

While the members of the committee were absent, the council, under a suspension of the rules, transacted some routine business. When the committee returned Chairman S. J. Wainwright reported that the committee had recommended the bill affirmatively. The original purchase bill introduced in select council at the last meeting was also before the committee, but on motion of Councilman John A. Murphy the bill was laid over for the present and the common council bill was taken up.

READING OF THE BILL.

The bill was first read as it had passed common council and then the amendments were read. They were verbal corrections of certain parts of the bill and of several sentences, recapitulating the ordinances under which the bond issue election was held that provided the $350,000 to be expended for the site. After the bill was read the rules were suspended and the bill as amended was placed upon final passage. Every member present voted for the bill. Two Republican and five Citizens party members were absent, there being 30 members present.

"The chair does not want to throw cold water on this matter," said President John S. Lambie after the bill had been passed, "but I scented trouble, and I see that in the newspapers the director of the department of public works says that Joncaire street, which passes through the property to be bought for a technical school site, will never be vacated. Now, I think the trustees of the institution will not go ahead with the work until the streets have been vacated, therefore I would suggest that a resolution vacating the streets be introduced."

A GUESS BY COUNCILMAN WEST.

Councilman C. W. West said it was possible the trustees did not want Joncaire street vacated, and he thought it wise to ascertain their wishes before introducing street vacation resolutions. Mr. Lambie merely suggested that the members think it over and he did not press the matter.

After adjournment Director Bigelow was asked if he had made the remark referred to by Mr. Lambie.

"I did not say that Joncaire street would not be vacated," he replied, "but I did say that if Joncaire should be vacated the city would have to pay damage to owners of property that abuts on the street and that would be affected by the vacation. I have known the street for 30 years. It is a regularly located thoroughfare and the question whether or not it has not been opened will not affect the question of damages. I said nothing that would justify any one in believing that I am opposed to the vacation of Joncaire street."

"Would Joncaire street interfere with the use of the property for school purposes?" Mr. Bigelow was asked.

"Not for many years, in my opinion," he responded.

LOTTERY SCHEME DID NOT WORK OUT WELL

John A. Koch Brought Back from Baltimore on Charge of False Pretense.

John A. Koch, alias J. A. Cook, will arrive in Pittsburgh from Baltimore this morning in custody of Constable Charles H. Stewart of Alderman Charles F. Anderson's office. Koch is charged with obtaining money by false pretense.

Michael Geyer of the South Side says that on December 27 Koch, who was living at No. 2103 Wylie avenue, went to Geyer and some friends of the latter with a proposition to invest in a lottery scheme. Eight men went into it, two from Pittsburgh, two from Allegheny, two from Ellwood, Pa., and two from Youngstown, O. They put up $2,500, Geyer's share being $700. Koch said he represented the Honduras Lottery Company, which was the successor of the Louisiana lottery. Geyer was promised that by January 20 his $700 would bring him $35,000 less $1,875, which was to be Koch's commission and allowance for expenses. In the meantime, if he became alarmed and wished to withdraw, Koch would return the $700 with 8 per cent interest.

The investment did not turn out as represented, and Geyer, going before Alderman Anderson, entered suit against Koch. The latter could not be found, and it was reported he had left the city. A few days ago Alderman Anderson learned that Koch had been arrested in Baltimore for a somewhat similar offense, but had not succeeded in getting any money. The Geyer case was taken before the grand jury, which returned a true bill, requisition papers were obtained and Constable Stewart was sent to Baltimore for his man.

Brickmakers Hopeful of Winning.

Word reached the city yesterday that Thomas H. Flynn, national organizer of the American Federation of Labor, is stationed at Soudersport, from which place he is conducting the strike of the brickmakers and clay miners, who have been out since last Saturday. Mr. Flynn says matters look favorable for the men to win in the struggle for the recognition of the union. The Harbison-Walker Refractories Company officials still refuse to give out a statement regarding the matter.

Doctor Robbed on Street Car.

Dr. M. J. Buck of No. 4599 Fifth avenue, yesterday reported at No. 6 police station that he had been robbed of a gold watch and chain valued at $100 while returning home from a theater Wednesday night on a Pittsburgh Railways Company car. Dr. Buck says he rode on the back platform, as the car was over-crowded.

Only a Sheep in Wolf's Clothing.

Michael Lewis, who poses as a fierce pugilist on the South Side, and who, it is alleged, often made the boast that no officer on the South Side could arrest him, is a prisoner. Policeman Charles McAfee met Lewis yesterday and the latter abused and defied the officer to attempt to arrest him. Policeman McAfee surprised Lewis by taking him by the collar and walking him to the police station without any bother.

MAY BE A LIVELY TIME.

Union Laborers' Demands Refused and an Attempt to Be Made to Start Work.

A lively time is expected today when the George A. Fuller Company will make an attempt to resume work on the Nixon theater and the Wabash terminal station. It is said the strike of the building trades laborers will not be supported by the skilled workmen, as they are not in sympathy with the demands made by the laborers' union.

The Fuller company agreed to pay the men $2 for nine hours, but decline to recognize the union by signing the scale. This caused the strike, which has been on for a week. Yesterday the carpenters, bricklayers and machinists went back to work.

Most remarkable thing ever done.

Genuine hand tufted carpets from India on a sale basis almost as cheap as ordinary Turkish Ghiordes.

Many of them 10 by 10 stitch—100 knots per square inch.
Sizes 9 by 12 feet to 10.4 by 14.4.
Regular selling values, $135.00 to $200.00.
Sale Prices, $75.00, $85.00 and $100.00.
Thirty pieces in the purchase.
Drawing Room, Library and Bed Room styles.

For very little more than Domestic Rugs opportunity is now presented to get genuine hand-made Oriental Rugs that will last a lifetime.

You'll find them all in one pile on the floor, so you won't need to waste any time to see just what there is, and pick out what pleases you.

Some dark Rugs in the lot that will be fine for offices.

Imported direct from China and Japan, and for sale on a small profit basis,

$3.50, $6.50, $8.00, $10.50 to $18.50

10c to 50c a yard.
Two important things necessary to sell goods cheap.
First is to own them right—buy in the best market on the bottom basis.
Then be satisfied with a small profit.
Cheaper than other importing houses sell because we do it for less profit.

DEDICATION OF SCHWAB INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL BRINGS A BIG HOLIDAY

BIG PARADE PLANNED

Girls in Cooking Class Will Entertain Mr. Schwab at Luncheon—History and Growth of the New Institution.

The Charles M. Schwab industrial school in Homestead will be formally dedicated tomorrow, and the day promises to be one of the greatest in the history of the steel town. All business will be suspended and preparations are being made for the celebration of a big holiday. Residences and business places will be decorated with bunting and flags to pay homage to the donor of the new institution and the prominent men who will accompany him to Homestead.

The school will be in full operation during the morning to enable Mr. Schwab and a few personal friends to make an inspection of the institution and see what work is being done there. The young women in the cooking classes will serve luncheon at noon. They have been working for a week in completing a menu of dainties to tickle the palate of the steel magnate. Mr. Schwab will visit the assembly hall and the drawing class rooms, when he will see the wonderful exhibition of art work arranged by Miss Agnes Lawton and her pupils.

ALL THE MONEY NEEDED.

The borough authorities have authorized the committees in charge of the dedication to draw upon the treasury for whatever funds that may be needed, no limitations having been placed upon them.

In the afternoon there will be a big parade. The uniformed troop of Homestead will act as an escort for Mr. Schwab. The young iron master will be followed in the line of march by the Boys' Brigade of Pennsylvania from Pittsburgh, numbering over 700. The Knights of Pythias, Red Men, Masonic orders and other secret societies in uniform will complete the first division.

The second section will be made up of over 1,000 children from the public schools of Homestead led by Superintendent J. C. Kendall, the borough school board and teachers, while the local fire companies will constitute the third section, and the thousands of steel workers from Homestead, Braddock and Duquesne and surrounding country will complete the parade. It is expected that over 10,000 persons will be in line. After parading about the principal streets of the borough the line will be reviewed by Mr. Schwab in front of the industrial school.

DEDICATION OF THE BUILDING.

At 3 o'clock the dedication of the new building will take place. A large platform has been erected in front of the school building where the exercises are to be held. Mr. Schwab will present the building and equipment to the borough, and W. S. Bullock, chairman of the committee of arrangements, will accept the gift in behalf of the school board. Addresses will be delivered by Prof. C. M. Woodward, president of the University of St. Louis and father of manual training in the public schools; Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction of Pennsylvania, and his deputy, Dr. Henry Houck, one of the best known public school men in America; Prof. J. A. Brashear, acting chancellor of Western university; Congressman John Dalzell, County Superintendent of Schools Samuel Hamilton of Braddock and others.

The industrial school is the outgrowth of an idea long cherished by Mr. Schwab and which he hoped to see materialize. Himself born amid modest surroundings, he appreciated the benefits to be derived from a manual training and during his early experience in the mills of the Carnegie Steel Company at Braddock the belief that a manual training early in life helped all boys to success became more firmly rooted in his mind. The building is of buff pressed brick with stone trimmings and presents a handsome appearance. It is located in Ninth avenue, near Amity street, and cost completed $125,000, all of which was given by Mr. Schwab.

INSIDE OF THE STRUCTURE.

The main entrance is from the Ninth avenue side. In the basement are the engine rooms and power plant used in driving the machinery in the various departments. To the right of the power plant are the hot water boilers used for heating the building. To the left of the main entrance are the principal's offices. To the right are the rooms devoted to the metal-working trades. These rooms contain forges for mechanical work in iron and steel, lathes, shapers, planers and other machines incidental to the trades.

Passing through the main mechanical department the visitor enters an adjoining room, where uses of the vise, the anvil and various hand tools are taught. In this room iron and steel are converted from crude shapes into useful and ornamental objects. The room was designed with the object of having everything in the most convenient position. A long row of marble wash basins extends the entire length of the room along the wall and the comfort of the workers in this department has been carefully provided for.

WHERE THE BOYS ARE TAUGHT.

The second story is fitted up for woodworking, and here the boys are taught the use of the saw, hammer, chisel and other tools that belong to the carpenter and joiner. Every detail of carpentery is taught and the rough lumber is made into finished and highly polished designs without interruption.

On the third floor the domestic art and science department, where the girls are taught housekeeping in its many branches as well as the use of the needle.

In one room are a number of sewing machines and many sewing tables, where the girls are taught the making of garments of every description. Cutting, fitting and the proper stitches are taught in detail, and the pupil after completing the course will be capable of making nearly any garment used in the ordinary wardrobe, as well as many articles for the home. Art needle work and embroidery are taught as well.

The kitchen is a wonder and the order and arrangement are most striking. A large double range and a semi-circle of small gas stoves are used in baking, frying and broiling. Every known utensil for the kitchen can be found, and in an adjoining room is a complete dining room, where the girls are taught the proper way to serve after the work in the kitchen has been mastered.

AUDITORIUM AND A STAGE.

In 1896 Mr. Schwab started a manual training school in the basement of the Fourth ward school building of Homestead. Here he fitted up and maintained several rooms where boys and girls in the higher classes were taught how to handle tools and to sew and cook. This innovation was hailed with delight by the patrons and taxpayers of the borough, and when Mr. Schwab learned how his efforts in this direction were appreciated he decided to erect the new building. It was completed last October and by December 1 it was equipped and opened for use, with Prof. D. W. McKenney as principal, Prof. W. A. Hillman assistant, Miss Grace M. Austin teacher of domestic science and Miss Agnes Lawton instructor in art. Four teachers will be secured next year. This week Mr. Schwab said to a friend in speaking of the education of the coming generation:

WORDS OF THE DONOR.

"The prosperity of the community depends largely upon the practical capabilities of the people. Too many try to get into the professions. My idea of the industrial school at Homestead is to encourage the coming generation to acquire practical ideas in the industrial world. The times have changed so much within the last 10 years that what was considered an ideal education then is now much improved upon, and the trend of a successful education must naturally be toward the practical.

"Corporations and business men find that the best results are obtained only from their assistants whose education has been along these lines."

REV. DR. MOORE LIKELY TO BE CALLED AS PASTOR

East End Presbyterian Church of Wilkinsburg to Meet Next Week.

The congregation of the East End Presbyterian church has been cited to meet on May 20 to transact any business that the want of a pastor may make necessary. It is expected that steps will be taken at this meeting to secure the services of the Rev. Dr. Samuel Moore of New Castle.

The East End church has struggled from its incipiency with a tremendous debt. The late pastor, the Rev. Alfred Nicholson struggled with this debt for four years, and it finally broke his back, although he raised $11,000 for the enterprise. The leading men in the East End church and prominent men in the First church of Wilkinsburg, of which it is an offshoot, say that Dr. Moore is the logical solution of the financial question in the East End church. He has an excellent reputation as a financeer. He raised the money to pay the enormous debt of his present charge at New Castle and put in a fine new pipe organ.

The Rev. Dr. Moore was formerly pastor of the Wilkinsburg Presbyterian church. It is asserted that a large number of his wealthy friends will join this church if he becomes its pastor. Apart from Dr. Moore's well-known gifts as a pulpit orator, these reasons are growing into a conviction that Dr. Moore is the man for the place. While his services for the past years have been given in Peoria, Illinois and latterly in New Castle, those who know him best say that his heart has all the time been in Wilkinsburg.

Dr. Moore will preach his trial sermon on Sunday and the officers of the church are looking for a large audience.

WILL DEMAND AN EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Tube Workers Secured Quarters for Convention and Hold a Meeting.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED

Several Committees Were Appointed to Make Reports on Matters Pertaining to the Organization.

The tube workers, who now toil from nine to 12 hours a day, will demand an eight-hour day from the manufacturers. The delegates to the first annual convention of the International Association of Tube Workers secured the Moorhead hall, Second avenue and Grant street, in which to hold their meetings. Two sessions were held yesterday, with Henry Sabel, national president, presiding. There are about 100 delegates present, representing employes of 22 mills, located at different places between Boston and St. Louis.

The president's, secretary-treasurer's and the auditors' reports were read at the meeting, and committees were appointed, after which the session adjourned to give the committees a chance to compile their reports. The appropriation committee's report was acted upon. The ways and means report was also presented. The secret work and grievance committee and the committee on appeals were completed in time to present to the convention, but were not acted upon.

In order to facilitate the business of the convention the officers were elected. It resulted as follows: President, Henry Sabel, Washington, Pa.; first vice-president, W. J. Cunningham, Boston; second vice-president, George Dreusedow, Washington, Pa.; third vice-president, Alexander Frazier, Kewanee, Ill.; secretary-treasurer, J. B. McDonnaugh, Reading; trustees, George Allshouse, Charles H. Rogers and William L. Plunkett. William J. Cunningham was appointed representative to the convention of the American Federation of Labor to be held in Boston.

The wage committee will present its report the first thing this morning. A radical change in the scale is to be made. One of the features will be a clause making a day's work consist of eight hours. At present the men work from nine to 12.

It is expected the convention will close today. Probably three sessions will be required to finish the business.

The tube workers' organization is young. Most of the locals have been organized only a few months. No scale is in vogue, although all the men are receiving a similar wage. There is difference of wages between the western and the eastern mills. For that reason the new wage scale will contain two rates. The delegates do not anticipate any trouble in having the manufacturers sign the scale.

LEBANON HEIGHTS

UNTIL TUNNEL LINE IS COMPLETED, ON JULY 1st, 1904, YOU TAKE MT. LEBANON HILL TOP CARS TO LEBANON HEIGHTS.

You can catch these cars at the Union Depot on Liberty avenue between the Union Depot and Smithfield street, anywhere on Smithfield street, at the B. & O. Depot and at the P. & L. E. Depot. Dont leave your car until you pass Fetterman. Lebanon Heights is located in the fine level section where the Tunnel Line crosses the tracks of the Mt. Lebanon Hill Top Line.

The most commendable feature connected with this whole exciting proposition is the way in which we are backing up our advertisements. We are doing it with prices and property positively unapproached at any sale that ever can occur again in the real fine part of the grand Mt. Lebanon or West Liberty district.

$100 to $750 per site for the very section which has the great TEN-MINUTE TUNNEL LINE and the present Mt. Lebanon Hill Top Line in front of or within a square of every lot in the Plan, looks at first glance too wonderful to be true. But when you see the enthusiasm and the crowds pushing in you will understand.

You will understand how marvelously the opportunity is appreciated the moment you behold the multitudes of investors standing by eagerly waiting for the final tagging of the lots, urging our ticket men to make haste and accept their money for locations to which they have taken some special fancy.

The sale, in truth, is opened a week before the scheduled date. Even the street-makers and their teams are only fairly started on their splendid mission of improvements.

When the crowds look across West Liberty Avenue at Fetterman and learn by actual observation that they're in the very midst of where the Tunnel Land's building activity has begun, they become astonished. They realize that there can be no doubt as to how fast property in this remarkabe locality will increase in value. They know that no corporation to-day can go in and buy level land anywhere within a mile of where the Tunnel Line touches and sell it for less than double the figures which will make this sale famous.

Even farmers owning land located as far as fifteen minutes drive from the Tunnel Line won't part with their holdings under $3,000 to $5,000 an acre.

They have figured up the situation just as other folks have. They know that $2,000,000 expended building a traction road through the Mt. Washington hills, so cars can reach the Pittsburgh postoffice from Lebanon Heights in ten minutes, will in the very near future put the value of their land away up. They know that after the Tunnel Line is built to Lebanon Heights that the building of branch tunnel lines is bound to follow and in course of time also reach their property.

While this fact has no direct bearing on Lebanon Heights property, it certainly shows that Lebanon Heights property is the most attractive from an investment standpoint. Lebanon Heights being just where the improvements and building operations have begun make this glowing truth stand out powerfully. Before the wonderful work of home expansion reaches the other neighborhoods, the value of our property will have advanced enormously. This is true because our Plan is the very center around which all this other growth is forming and clustering.

We need not tell you this. You can see it for yourself. You can tell where "the star of empire" is pointing as soon as you arrive on the grounds and make a personal investigation.

All you pay down for this fine level Lebanon Heights property is five per cent. Balance two and a half per cent a month.

No Interest! No Taxes!

Title of property is insured by Fidelity Title and Trust Co., capital and surplus $8,000,000.

If the Farmers Bank Building was three stories higher a man on its roof could see the flag waving on the Tunnel Land---Lebanon Heights.

You can see the tree tops in Lebanon Heights from the roof of the Farmers Bank Building, even at the present height of that towering edifice.
You can see the handsome Mt. Lebanon Presbyterian Church. You can see the traction cars as they wind out away beyond Lebanon Heights.
But if that noble structure was just three "lifts" higher (just three) you would be able to see the new buildings which are sprouting all round Lebanon Heights.
You would see the infant child of expansion making ready to grow into a grand city of beautiful homes—the child that will make investors who get in now rich and richer as the years roll on.

MISS BIGGAR GETS ORIGINAL SHARE

In H. M. Bennett Estate Settlement She Receives Property Worth $620,000.

ALSO AN $1,800 ANNUITY

Miss Laura Biggar will receive $620,000 from the estate of the late Henry M. Bennett. This settlement was made in Philadelphia this week through an agreement reached after a conference between her attorneys and E. G. Ferguson, counsel for P. J. McNulty and R. M. Gulick, the other heirs. McNulty and Gulick have purchased the Bijou building at Penn avenue and Sixth street, Pittsburgh, outright on a basis of valuation at $800,000.

In the original will Miss Biggar was given a life interest in 60 per cent of the property after five years. Under the terms of the settlement McNulty and Gulick purchase her 60 per cent on the above valuation, and the settlement, therefore, becomes a direct purchase, the amount involved being $480,000. The papers in the transaction, it is said, will be recorded in a few days.

Miss Biggar is left in undisputed possession of all her personal property, consisting of diamonds, jewelry and household furniture, estimated in value at $100,000, and will receive further during her life annuity of $1,800. She is also to retain possession of the apartment house at No. 119 East Eighty-third street, New York city, valued at $40,000.

In his will Bennett left Miss Biggar about $600,000. Shortly after his death she tried to get the whole estate, claiming that a posthumous child to Bennett had been born. Dr. Hendricks, a New Jersey physician, certified to the death of the child, which is said to have died shortly after its birth. Former Justice of the Peace Stanton of Jersey City produced a marriage certificate, but through the efforts of Detective Roger O'Mara of this city, the two men were tried and convicted of conspiracy. Miss Biggar was acquitted and since that time has been on the stage. She is now in good health and announces that she will retire from her profession.

A special telegram from Freehold, N. J., says: "The Bennett estate has several large outstanding claims and that after these are paid little or nothing will be left for Laura Biggar. It is said that the entire Bennett estate is not more than $500,000. Miss Biggar's friends here say that while they are glad to hear that the dead man's heirs have made a settlement with her, they doubt if she will receive $25,000."

TRIBUTES FROM ALL WABASH MEN

MANY AT THE SERVICES

With all the memories of the recent trouble put aside, Wabash employes, who two months ago were threatening strike, yesterday sent beautiful flowers to grace the obsequies of Miss Anna Laura Ramsey, eldest daughter of the chief executive of the Wabash system. All the bitterness of the dispute with the president was drowned in sympathy for the father.

From the Brotherhoods of Locomtive Engineers and Firemen on the Wabash system came a broken wheel, while the Wabash conductors sent a representation of the gates ajar.

These were but a small part of the great mass of floral tributes that marked the funeral services of Miss Ramsey yesterday afternoon at the residence of James W. Patterson in Baum street, East End. From the officers of the Wabash was received a casket cover and this whole cover was hidden by the mass of flowers. A large pillow "At Rest," an immense wreath of roses from the general eastern agency, wreaths of laurel, and of lilies all went to make one of the most striking tributes ever paid at a funeral in this city. There were upward of 100 pieces in the aggregate.

The attendance at the funeral was also notable. Relatives and friends, and officials of the Wabash came from all parts of the country to show their respect for the father. Many also had known Miss Ramsey.

The special car bearing the remains, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey and a few others from New York, reached Pittsburgh yesterday morning. About the same time there arrived from St. Louis two more special cars bearing a large numebr of family friends and Wabash officials who came to attend the funeral. The services were opened shortly after 2 p. m. The Rev. Dr. R. M. Rhodes, pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran church, St. Louis, officiated. Of this church Miss Ramsey was a member. Interment followed in the family plot at Homewood cemetery where she was laid to rest beside her grandfather and a brother.

The pallbearers were all uncles of the deceased. They were: N. P. Ramsey, Dayton, O.; the Rev. Alfred R. Ramsey, Minneapolis, Minn.; John P. Ramsey, El Paso, Tex.; Col. E. D. Palmer and A. D. Palmer, New York, and W. D. Holliday, Pittsburgh.

Misses Helen and Mary Ramsey, sisters, and James, Palmer and J. P. Ramsey, brothers came on for the funeral. The brothers are students at Lawrenceville, N. J. Miss Helen Ramsey was with her sister on the fatal trip to Egypt. Others who attended the funeral were:

All the out-of-town visitors and Mr. Ramsey and his family left last evening. Mr. Ramsey went directly to St. Louis headquarters. He expects to return to Pittsburgh in a couple of weeks.

Curry's Trip Still a Mystery.

W. F. Curry of No. 525 Shady avenue, who disappeared from his home, arrived at the Union station at 2 a. m. yesterday. As told in The Gazette yesterday, his wife had received a telegram from him at Philadelphia saying he would leave there on the 4:30 p. m. train. Mrs. Curry took her husband home and he went to bed and slept until 2 p. m. yesterday.

BOYS CONFESS TO ROBBERIES

Braddock Youth Entered a House and Secured About $800 Worth of Jewelry.

HIS BROTHER ARRESTED

John Minor, aged 15, a son of prominent parents of Braddock, is in jail at Braddock and has confessed to robbing the residence of George Moore of Braddock avenue, Braddock, of about $800 worth of jewelry, watches and other valuable articles. Moore's house had been robbed Wednesday morning and Sergt. George Berthold of the Braddock police force took up the case. He suspected young Minor, who lives in Center street, and closely watched his actions. While the youth was riding in a buggy yesterday afternoon Sergt. Berthold stopped the vehicle and placed the suspect under arrest. In the evening the brother, William Minor, was arrested on a charge of robbing a house two months ago.

After being placed in a cell Sergt. Berthold told Minor that the police knew all about the robbery. He said that Mr. Moore, who is a well-known feed dealer, had left the house with his son about 7:30 Wednesday morning. Before Mrs. Moore had arisen the house was entered and there were taken a silver casket containing two diamond rings, four emeralds, four pearls, a long gold neck-chain with a jeweled pendant, a diamond-set breastpin and two gold watches set with diamonds.

After being in the cell for a few hours the youth called Sergt. Berthold and confessed to the theft, saying he had hidden the stolen articles in Kennywood park, near a big tree. The boy accompanied the policeman to the place, where the articles were found.

Young Minor was given a hearing last night before Justice of the Peace Louis Heitzman and the case will go to the grand jury. During the hearing William Minor, brother of the boy, sat on a bench where the light fell on his hand, which showed plainly a diamond ring.

James L. Quinn entered the office and on noticing the ring stepped nearer. Minor tried to conceal the ring, but Quinn grabbed his arm and said, "You have one of my rings." Minor was then arrested and his bail placed at $500. He will be given a hearing this evening. About two months ago the Quinn residence was robbed.

Chief of Police Louis E. Rotzsch and Detective Fred Lamp of McKeesport yesterday cleared up a mysterious robbery by arresting George Horner and Harry Charlesfield, aged 12 and 11 years, respectively, who reside in Wilmerding. The robbery occurred last Sunday at the residence of John W. Taylor, a Fifth avenue saloonkeeper, from whose bedroom $127 in bills was taken while the family were absent from the house. A large bag of silver was left unmolested.

The boys under arrest were suspected and arrested. After the boys were placed in the Homestead police station information was secured that led to the recovery of $80 from four different places in a hillside at Wilmerding, where it had been buried.

Two McKeesport boys are suspected of being implicated in the robbery, but they have not yet been arrested.

William White of Homestead was placed in jail last night charged by Michael Homer with aiding White's brother, Thomas White, to escape. Homer alleges Thomas White stole $160 from him.

PROMOTERS GIVE UP THE ATTEMPT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 14.

For the time being all is off between the Delaware Valley Traction Company, in which a number of Pittsburgh people are interested, and the board of freeholders of the county. The traction company withdrew its application for a meadow boulevard franchise which was filed some months ago and which has been opposed by the business men of the city who do not wish the new drive from the city to the mainland marred by trolley tracks. It may be that the company will renew its application in the near future. None of those who have been active in the opposition to the trolley company appeared at the meeting today, nor was there a representative of the board of trade here, though that body had passed numerous resolutions against the granting of the franchise, and the withdrawal of the application was therefore a surprise.

The franchise asked by the company is a valuable one. The county is about to build a magnificent boulevard across the meadows at a cost of $300,000. The boulevard will connect the city with the shore road, a magnificent stone road which runs all along the mainland of the Jersey coast and connects up all of the resorts. It is the purpose of the company to tap all these resorts and to eventually reach Philadelphia and Jersey City. Attorney Spangler of Pittsburgh is president of the company.

HUNGARIANS FEAST ON HIGH PRICED VIANDS

Twenty-four valuable homing pigeons, many of them holding records for long-distance flying, were stolen from a cote in the yard of Joseph Reymor in Fourth avenue, Homestead, early yesterday morning. The pigeons were killed and the heads thrown in the yard. The total value of the stolen birds is placed at $120, and it is thought they were stolen by Hungarians and eaten.

OPENING FOR BOYS.

Free Scholarships Offered to Bright Catholic Youths.

Boys attending parochial schools in Pittsburgh and Allegheny will be given an opportunity to secure a college education free of charge. The Pittsburgh College of the Holy Ghost has decided to give a free scholarship to the most deserving boy in each of the parochial schools in the two cities.

The prize will go to the boy who makes the highest average in the most advanced grade in his school, preferably one desiring to become a priest will get the scholarship. The choice of candidates is left to the pastor of the church with which the school is connected. The boys selected will have to give satisfaction in conduct and to have obtained an average of not less than 70 per cent at each of the quarterly examinations during the school year.

The Death Roll.

Jonathan Frantz.

Jonathan Frantz, 78 years old, for many years a leading hotel keeper in Braddock, died late Wednesday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Louis H. G. Brackenreyer, in Dennison avenue, Swissvale, where he has been making his home for the past several months. He was stricken with paralysis more than a year ago. Mr. Frantz was born in Confluence, Pa. He had been engaged in the hotel business all his life, having started with his father. He went to Braddock in 1880 and conducted the Central hotel for many years, after which he established the Frantz hotel, which he conducted until recently. Mr. Frantz's wife died some years ago. He is survived by two daughters and one son, Mrs. Brackenreyer of Swissvale, Mrs. Robert J. Kluter of Braddock, and Hiram Frantz of Confluence. He was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Braddock.

Miss Nina Stucki.

Miss Nina Stucki, oldest daughter of A. Stucki of No. 1916 St. Clair terrace, Allegheny, until recently mechanical engineer of the Pressed Steel Car Company, died yesterday morning of typhoid fever. She was born in North Carolina on February 11, 1880. She was a student in the commercial class at the Allegheny High school, attended the German Lutheran church in Chartiers street, Allegheny, and had been for some time studying very hard in preparation for confirmation in that church. The remains will be taken to Altoona, Pa., tomorrow morning, and the funeral services will be held in St. James' Lutheran church, Altoona, at 2:30 in the afternoon. Interment will be in Oak Ridge cemetery. Services will also be held at the residence in Allegheny this evening at 8 o'clock.

Elisha Whitehead Paxton.

Elisha Whitehead Paxton, aged 76, died yesterday at Washington, Pa., of pneumonia. Several years ago he removed to Washington and was well known as a business man. In 1853 he was married to Miss Flora Wellman of Massillon, O. He is survived by the following children: Albert B., William E., Richard M. and Jesse W. Paxton, engaged in glass manufacturing, and Mrs. Charles N. Brady and Mrs. A. M. Hensell of Washington; George Paxton of New York and Mrs. Pendleton of Tacoma, Wash.

Mrs. Alice Beaver Fleming.

Mrs. Alice Beaver Fleming, eldest daughter of Henry L. and Mrs. Cynthia E. Beaver, who died within the past five weeks, died of pneumonia yesterday morning at her home, No. 325 Jackson street, Allegheny. Mrs. Fleming was an active worker in the Arch Street Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny. She is survived by two brothers, John A. and Harry S. Beaver, and one sister, Miss Ida B. Beaver. Funeral services will be held at her late home this evening at 8 o'clock. Interment will take place at Freeport, Pa., tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Mary A. Weldon Buried.

The remains of Mrs. Mary A. Weldon, widow of James G. Weldon, a former well-known resident of Pittsburgh, were buried in Calvary cemetery, after solemn requiem high mass at the Sacred Heart Catholic church in Center avenue, East End, yesterday morning. For many years Mrs. Weldon resided at No. 304 Stratford avenue, East End.

Isaac Adolph.

Isaac Adolph, aged 62 years, a former resident of Pittsburgh, died suddenly on Wednesday at New Philadelphia, O. He is survived by his widow and three children, Jacob Adolph of No. 512 Baywood street, Pittsburgh; Elias Adolph of Allegheny and Mrs. Celia Solomon of New Philadelphia, O.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Rebekah Waires Beatty, aged 82, is dead at Latrobe, Pa., where she resided for 56 years.

Mrs. George S. Batcheller of Saratoga, N. Y., wife of Judge Batcheller of the International tribunal of Egypt, died at Alexandria, Ekypt, yesterday.

Henry A. Engilkerger, 72 years old, died early yesterday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Frederick Schuette, No. 2117 Seventh avenue, West Homestead. He was born in Ohio and had been a resident of West Homestead for the past year.

BUILDING AIRSHIP TO RIVAL SANTOS-DUMONT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., May 14.—Samuel J. Beam, of Derry and W. P. Kline, of Pittsburgh, have built at Derry a flying machine which they claim will rival the invention of Santos-Dumont.

The machine is nearing completion and trial trips are scheduled for next week. The machine consists of a cigar-shaped balloon, 63 feet long and 30 feet in diameter. It is made of oiled silk and will contain about 30,000 cubic yards of gas. The basket is suspended 20 feet below the balloon. It is six feet long, two feet wide and three feet deep. The propelling power will be furnished by a three and one-half horse-power gasoline engine. It is made of aluminum and steel and weighs only 50 pounds.

It is estimated that a quart of gasoline will last for 24 hours. The propellers will be made of blades 12x24 inches in dimensions, and when revolving at a rate of 1,000 times a minute will exert a pulling power of 500 pounds. Wings are attached to the sides of the balloon. They are 40 feet long and 30 feet wide. In case of an accident they expand like a parachute.

Mr. Beam is a skilled electrician. He is employed by the Derry Electric Company. He is an aeronaut of prominence, having made ascensions in hot-air balloons for many years.

CLASSIS OFFICERS ELECTED.

Annual Meeting of Reformed Church Held at Scottdale.

GREENSBURG, PA., May 14.—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the Westmoreland classis of the Pittsburgh synod of the Reformed church at Scottdale this morning the Rev. H. S. Garner of Greensburg, was elected vice president; J. F. Whitesel, Salina, corresponding secretary, and the Rev. A. J. Heller, D. D., Connellsville, treasurer.

The standing committees were announced by President Tussing as follows: Minutes of general synod, the Rev. Messrs. Cort and Krebs and Elder Leighty; minutes of Pittsburgh synod, the Rev. Messrs Leader and Evans and Elder Beighley; overtures, the Rev. Messrs. Heller and McClellan and Elder Fisher; minutes of classis, the Rev. Messrs. Bowman and Bauman and Elder Pool; examination, licenses and ordination, the Rev. Messrs. Shaffner and Mickley and Elder Kuhns; Sunday schools, the Rev. Messrs. Garner and Mase and Elder Whitesel; religious services, the Rev. Messrs. Ferner, Mickley and Gumbert.

MONUMENT TO MISSIONARIES.

Arch in Memory of Martyrs in China Dedicated at Oberlin, O.

OBERLIN, O., May 14.—The memorial arch erected to the memory of the 13 missionaries of the American Board of Foreign Missions, who suffered martyrdom in China, in 1900, was dedicated here today. The Rev. Dr. Judson Smith, of Boston, secretary of the American board, presided. The dedicatory address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Frank S. Fitch of Buffalo.

The arch is a magnificent structure of buff Indiana limestone, standing on the college campus. The central arch has on either side a colonnade extending out about 50 feet, there being six columns on each side. On each side are bronze tablets containing the names of the martyrs.

"CEDAR" ROSS TAKEN FROM PENITENTIARY

Accused Burglar Is Turned Over to Westmoreland County Authorities.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., May 1.—"Cedar" Ross was arraigned in the Westmoreland county court this afternoon for complicity in the robbery of the First National bank of Irwin on the night of December 9, and his trial will be bgun tomorrow morning. Ross was brought here by Warden Corbett of the Western penitentiary and turned over to the Westmoreland authorities this morning.

The commonwealth will produce two witnesses, Miss Sylvester and Miss Critchelow of Irwin, who will identify Ross as one of the gang who were implicated in the robbery. Miss Critchlow looked from her window opposite the bank and was told by a member of the gang not to make an outcery on the penalty of her life. After Ross had been arrested and when in the Allegheny county jail both Miss Critchlow and Miss Sylvester were taken to Pittsburgh and picked out Ross from a number of prisoners who were brought before them. Ross, it is stated, will endeavor to prove an alibi.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COAL CENTER, PA., May 14.—The body of an unknown man, supposed to be about 45 years old, was found this morning in a field on the farm of Thomas Lalley, about one and one half miles above this place on the Brownsville road. He is about 5 feet 9 inches tall, and of medium build, with sandy hair, and had $187 24 in his clothes.

Coroner Sipe was notified at Washington, Pa. The body lies at the undertaking rooms of Ghrist & Gleason, in California, awaiting the arrival of the coroner. Suicide by poison is the theory of the police. No letters or memoranda of any description was in his clothes by which he could be identified.

WRITES POEM AND DIES

Well Dressed Woman Commits Suicide in Fourth Avenue Hotel in New York.

NEW YORK, May 14.—A well-dressed and apparently refined woman committed suicide in a hotel in Fourth avenue today by drinking carbolic acid.

She had registered as Mrs. T. Foster of New York, but in her pocketbook were found letters addressed to Mrs. F. Whidden and Mrs. M. C. Whidden, 124 West Eighty-fifth street, New York. One of the letters was from the Finley-Acker Company of Philadelphia and had accompanied the payment of her salary. At the Eighty-fifth street address no information could be obtained.

TO SPEND ONE MILLION ON SEWER PIPE PLANT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNETTA, PA., May 14.—Architects and engineers have just completed plans for the erection of another big sewer pipe and brick plant at this place. It is estimated that it will cost $1,000,000 and will employ more than 500 men. It will be erected by the Pittsburgh & Buffalo Company, which has a big plant in operation.

The capacity of the concern will be increased from 50,000 paving and mill brick per day to 150,000, and the output of the sewer pipe industry will be increased from $50,000 list price value per month to $150,000 list price value. The company has sunk a new shaft and a valuable vein of fire clay 12 feet thick was laid bare.

In order to take care of the increased output the Buffalo & Allegheny division of the Pennsylvania railroad has 500 men at work double-tracking the line between this place and Kiskiminetas Junction. Switches are also being laid to the new works.

RAILWAY ROUTE SELECTED.

Proposed Line from Youngstown, O., to Lake Erie.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 14.—(Special.)—The route of Col. C. W. French's Youngstown-Cleveland road has been revealed by the filing of a mortgage for $2,000,000 in the recorder's office here today. The mortgage is in favor of A. L. Garford of Elyria, as trustee.

According to the documents the road will start from the center of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company's land at the Lake Shore station here, thence through the city to Girard, Niles, Warren, Phalanx, Garrettsville, Mantua, Troy, Burton, Mupson, to the headwaters of the Chagrin river; thence following the stream to Little Mountain, and to a point just one and one-half miles from Fairport.

To Make Public Improvements.

GREENSBURG, PA., May 14.—(Special.)—To provide for extensive street and sewer improvements an ordinance will be introduced at the next session of the borough council for a bond issue. The amount is not stated in the ordinance, but it is understood that the bonded indebtedness will be increased $150,000. It is claimed that the indebtedness can be increased without a change of milliage.

Secured Site for Brick Plant.

YORK, PA., May 14.—(Special.)—Henry C. Gill & Co., of Philadelphia, have secured a lease on 100 acres near the York county line in Cumberland county, from W. H. Bretz of Carlisle, and J. C. Bucher of Boiling Springs. The company will establish a brick plant and also a plant for the refining of white clay, which is used in the manufacture of paper. The plant will be built about one mile east of Boiling Springs.

New Superintendent in Charge.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

BUTLER, PA.—The United Presbyterian congregation of this place voted unanimously to extend a call to the Rev. A. R. Robinson of Martins Ferry, O.

GREENSBURG, PA.—A cold storage plant to cost $35,000 is proposed for Greensburg. The promoters are Drew W. Chichester, George W. Good and Richard Coulter, Jr.

IRWIN, PA.—There is quite a big slump in the coal business in this district and one of the local companies is laying off men at two of its mines for an indefinite period.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA.—Mary, the 6-year-old daughter of J. W. Carson of this place was bitten by a dog supposed to have hydrophobia. She was at once taken to Mercy hospital.

ERIE, PA.—The national convention of paper makers in session here voted to refer the matter of the eight-hour work day to the various local unions. A new trade label was adopted.

SHARON, PA.—Thomas Davidson of Hickory township, was waylaid and robbed by two men. One of the men went through his clothes while the other held a revolver in Davidson's face.

JEANNETTE, PA.—George R. Hart, a window glass worker, has disappeared from his home here and his wife and friends fear he has been a victim of foul play or an accident.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Alexander Curry, a song and dance man, was probably fatally injured while riding on a wagon after the performance of the Wallace shows. The six horses started suddenly, throwing Curry under the wheels.

ERIE, PA.—The molders' strike is settled and the men have returned to work after being out two days. The men claim that practically everything they asked has been given them. The principal contention was that a minimum day's pay shall be $2 80, a raise of 15 cents.

GREENVILLE, PA.—The commencement exercises of the Greenville High school took place in Laird opera house. The following composed the class: Etta Q. Frederick, Fred L. Hellman, Harold H. Hull, Olive Klinger, John G. McKay, G. S. McLellan and Ray Vosler.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA.—The Deckers Creek Sand & Stone Company contracted with capitalists of Saginaw, Mich., to put a brick plant along the Morgantown & Kingwood railroad, which will have a capacity of 20,000 bricks a day.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Samuel Myers and his wife Lena are under indictment and arrest here for the burning of a building which was occupied by Myers as a saloon. Mrs. Myers did not know that she was indicted and went to the county jail to visit her husband, when she was arrested.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—The relatives of John Trelse, who died on a vessel en route for the Philippines, are anxious that his body be sent home. He died nine months ago and the government promised that his remains would arrive here within three months. Nothing has been heard of the body since, and a visit to Washington elicited no information.

LONE HIGHWAYMAN IS CAUGHT IN ACT

NOW HE IS VERY SORRY

Judge Holds Him Under Bond to Keep the Peace—Senator Penrose to Take Horseback Vacation.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Public Ledger Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 14.

Armed with nothing more deadly than a water pistol, Edward McCarty, 15 years old, Sixteenth and Wood streets, amused himself last night by holding up trolley cars in Sixteenth street. Before he was arrested, he had managed to badly frighten two motormen and throw a carload of passengers into a panic.

Armed with the water pistol, which is a weapon on the lines of a horse-pistol, but which has a bulb instead of the ordinary grip, McCarty stood on the corner of Sixteenth and Wood streets at 10:15 o'clock. As a car approached the corner he sprang into the street, pointing the toy at the motorman. The motorman ducked, put on all the power and dashed past the supposed highwayman.

A square away the motorman saw Policeman Barnes of the Twenty-third and Brown streets station. He stopped his car and told Barnes of his adventure.

Barnes started off on a run, arriving at the scene just in time to see McCarty holding up a second car. This time the motorman came to a full stop, throwing the passengers into confusion by its suddenness. The motorman yelled as McCarty, pressing the bulb, sent a stream of cold water into his face. The passengers, seeing a figure pointing a revolver at the motorman, became excited and tried to leave the car in a body. In consequence four or five men became jammed and fought wildly to get out.

Barnes, after taking a good hold on McCarty's collar, explained the situation. Then everybody laughed. McCarty smiled, too, but he was serious to a degree when arraigned before Magistrate O'Brien this morning. Barnes told his story and the magistrate, after lecturing McCarty, held him under $300 bail to keep the peace.

PENROSE TO TAKE LONG RIDE.

Senator Penrose will spend about three months this summer on a trip through the wildest part of central British Columbia. He will be accompanied by his brother, Spencer Penrose, whose home is in Colorado Springs. Spencer Penrose will join the senator in this city, and they will make their start about the middle of June, returning some time in September.

At Lillooet, which is on the headwaters of the Frasier river, on the Pacific slope of the Rocky mountains, they will be met by an outfit of horses and their baggage. Their intention is to make the tour on horseback and penetrate the wildest parts of the rugged and beautiful country.

The Lillooet region, as it is known, is famous for its native grandeur and big game. Senator Penrose is an expert horseman and a good shot with the rifle, and he will devote the time to knocking about the woods and taking every chance that offers at the game.

Senator Penrose has not taken an extended vacation for a couple of years. His last outing was a trip through the western country on horseback, when he was one of a small party that spent a couple of months in the open.

The election of Senator Penrose to the chairmanship of the Republican state committee will not interfere with the contemplated trip. The campaign promises little interest and will not open until after his return, in the autumn.

FORTUNE WORRIES HIM NOT.

With little apparent concern, C. L. Burnett, a coal passer on the Minneapolis, worked on today as though he were not heir to a fortune and about to leave the service and get married. Through the death of his aunt, Miss Alice Klew, at San Francisco last week, the young recruit became the possessor of $20,000 from her estate. On Tuesday Burnett, whose home is in Oakland, Cal., received word from his aunt's attorney that she had bequeathed her nephew her fortune. Over $12,000 of her estate consists of real estate in Kansas City, while the remainder is in solid cash awaiting Burnett in a San Francisco bank.

Burnett enlisted only seven months ago. He made the trip to Philadelphia from the Pacific coast on the transport Hancock, which sailed the 17,400 miles in 60 days. A short time ago he received word from Miss Amy Drinker of Wichita, Kan., to whom he was once engaged, that the quarrel that had severed their relations had been forgiven and that if he would return the old acquaintance might be renewed. Almost simultaneously with this word came the good news that Burnett was no longer poor. A regulation in the army and navy stipulates that when by any honorable means any enlisted man in the service receives $5,000 or over he may obtain his discharge and become a citizen. This Burnett will do, and immediately upon receiving his papers he will start for the west to claim his fortune and later a bride.

CIRCUS WOOS SENIORS FROM THEIR STUDIES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—Part of the senior class of the Camden high school has been suspended and must remain so until the pupils bring their parents to explain why they failed to attend classes today. The circus, which is encamped on the lots near the ball ground back of the high school, was the cause of their dereliction.

The shouts and bustle of preparation for "the monster street parade" greeted the pupils while they were on their way to school. The senior class was imbued with as much excitement as the younger boys. The ultimate resolution of the meeting was:

"Why should we, the senior class of the Camden high school, be deprived of the educational advantages offered by the visit of this enormous aggregation of equestrian and equilibristic talent, to say nothing of the wonders of the foreign lands imported at an incredible expense for the sake of a few paltry lessons derived from the uninteresting pages of text books? Be it, therefore,

"Resolved, That we go to the circus in a body; that is, at least, the male members of the class, and that we tell the girls all about the circus in the morning, so that they will not lose its educational advantages by not being able to go with us."

After agreeing to the resolution the boys left in a body for the circus, where they were tempted by a leather-lunged man who vociferated that "he ate 'em alive."

CONQUERED REPUBLICS BARRED TO EMIGRANTS

Violators of Permit Regulations Are Punished Severely by the British.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, May 14.—In a report to the state department Consul J. E. Proffit at Pretoria says that the permit regulations are still in force in the Transvaal and Orange river colony.

It was reported among immigrants that these regulations had been abolished with the suspension of martial law. This is not the case with immigrants from America coming to Cape Town and other South African ports, as they are met with the information that permits are required for the above-named colonies.

The temptation to come into the country while awaiting the result of application for permits is often very strong, and in many cases it leads to the arrest of the offender who is generally given the option of departure within 24 hours or imprisonment for six months and a fine of £500 ($2,433). Only 50 immigrants are allowed to enter the above-named colonies in any given month.

Hotels and Boarding Houses in Colorado

There is a popular idea that prices in Colorado are inflated—that it costs money "every time you move."

The notion is not correct. You can live in Colorado comfortably and well for a moderate sum. At the hotels, boarding houses and ranches you can secure excellent quarters and capital fare for from $8 to $10 a week and upward.

Our Hand-Book of Colorado tells all about it. Send for a copy. It's free.

This summer we are going to make very low ticket rates to Colorado, so that people of moderate means may visit the American Alps.

NEGRO'S HURRY-UP CALL FOR PHYSICIAN'S SERVICE

A negro named Johnson of Glassport yesterday wanted a doctor, and wanted him in a hurry, so he took a rather novel method of getting one upon the scene within the least possible lapse of time. Going to the door of his house he fired a revolver three times in quick succession, then stood and waited while an excited crowd soon gathered about the place. To the first man who reached him Johnson hastily gave orders to get a physician, but before the man could get away, Dr. A. A. Patterson, who had heard the shots and followed the crowd, elbowed his way up to the door. Upon going inside he was informed that the negro's wife had suddenly taken ill and was suffering intensely. Although out of breath from his hurried trip, the doctor attended to the sufferer and then the disappointed crowd dispersed.

PHILADELPHIA COURT INTERESTED IN DOGS

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—A novel case involving the powers of the board of health to seize and destroy personal property in a house wherein contagious disease existed and presenting the proposition that blue ribbon dogs can be conductors of smallpox germs was called for trial before Judge Barratt and a jury this morning.

During the smallpox scare in the fall of 1901 one of the houses visited by the dread disease was that of David J. Moser and William Rose. Moser and Rose owned and kept on the premises four valuable dogs—a greyhound, a bulldog and two fox terriers. None of the dogs had been vaccinated, and when the house was fumigated by the health authorities the animals, although they exhibited no symptoms of the disease, were seized, against the protest of the owners, taken to the dog pound and killed. Each dog had a pedigree and was valued at $250.

Through Julius C. Levi, their counsel, the owners demand $1,000 damages. On behalf of the city it is contended that the health officials did not exceed their authority, and their action in taking the animals from the infected house was a commendable precaution against the spread of the disease from that quarter.

SIX WOMEN LOSE FEDERAL PLACES

Are Not a Success as Immigrant Inspectors, Says Commissioner Williams.

TERM OF OFFICE ENDED

Were Appointed for 90 Days as an Experiment — Secretary Shaw Orders They Be Given Notice of Dismissal.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.

Immigration Commissioner Williams' six women inspectors, who for three months have been boarding incoming steamships in New York harbor and interrogating female immigrants, are about to go out of office.

The report of results made to the treasury department by Mr. Williams have not been satisfactory. The six women were appointed to the positions three months ago, the announcement being made that the appointments were temporary and for a period to exceed 90 days. If the experiments proved successful the treasury department would report to the president, who in turn would issue an order making the positions permanent.

Commissioner Williams has made three reports to the treasury department, one at the end of every 30 days. None of these reports indicate that the women inspectors have been at all successful in discovering questionable females who are coming to this country for improper purposes or in rescuing young girls who are being brought here to lead immoral lives. Commissioner Williams thinks that men can discover facts in connection with this line of immigrants much more quickly than women inspectors can and he has made a report to Secretary Shaw in which he says he can see no reason why the women inspectors should be continued.

In accordance with the apparent breakdown of the system Secretary Shaw today notified the commissioner of immigration at New York to inform the women inspectors that as their names do not appear on the eligible list of the civil service commission they cannot be re-employed without the president's order and their services are hereby discontinued. Inasmuch as no such order has been made by the president, the term of service under the temporary appointment having expired.

CHIEFS OF POLICE ELECT OFFICERS

NEW ORLEANS, LA., May 14.—After electing the following officers the convention of chiefs of police today adjourned: President, Richard Sylvester, Washington; vice president, Frank J. Cassady, Elmira, N. Y.; secretary, Harvey O. Carr, Detroit. St. Louis was selected for the next place of meeting.

LITTLE RAIN COMES AROUND HARRISBURG

Drought Continuing Since April 15, Makes City Feel Like Kansas.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, May 14.—The drought which has existed practically since April 15 in this locality, and which has parched Harrisburg until the slightest breeze drives clouds of dust over everything like nothing so much as a Kansas sand storm, has already had a serious effect upon the vegetation.

The local weather station reports that there is no immediate relief in sight. The only rainfall this month occurred on May 5, when the precipitation was one-tenth of an inch, barely enough to lay the dust.

The excessive dry weather has injured the grass crop more than any other, and unless there is soon a heavy precipitation the hay will be of a very poor quality. Wheat has not suffered so greatly, as it had attained a pretty good height before the drought began, and shades the ground so that it did not parch on badly as in fields where other crops are planted.

HOUR KAUFMANN'S "THE BIG STORE" SALE

We never cease in our endeavors to reduce prices to a minimun

ALL the energies and facilities of this great merchandising institution are bent towards the accomplishment of lessening the cost of merchandise to the purchaser. Our Hour Sales are born of this policy; these great weekly events bring many varied benefits to all Pittsburgh. But at TODAY'S Hour Sale the benefits to be derived make all former kindred sales suffer in comparison, as the advantages to save money are even more numerous and of greater import; and what with the seasonableness and dependability of the merchandise, today should be a gala day at "The Big Store." What greater impulse does the economist demand to induce him to buy most liberally?

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 14.—The Phillies were unable to hit Phillippe to any extent today and Pittsburgh won easily, 5 to 1. McFetridge pitched fairly well but the champions got their hits when they were needed. Both teams played much better ball in the field than yesterday, Wagner and Brashear being the only players on each side to break into the error column. There were no really sensational plays. Phillippe's good pitching making the work light for the men behind him.

The Phillies only got the ball outside the diamond seven times during the entire contest and Clarke's three chances in left was all the work the outfielders had. Hulswitt's work at short and Dooin's work behind the bat were the features of the Phillies' work. Dooin nailed four men on the bases, his throwing being the finest seen on the local grounds this season. Phillippe not only pitched good ball, but he also helped win his own game with the bat, making two singles and a double out of four times up.

Beaumont and Clarke, the first two men who faced McFetridge, drew passes, but Sebring's attempt to sacrifice brought Beau to grief at third. Wagner died to Thomas and Sebring was out trying to steal. Thomas made a hit for the Phillies but only got as far as third.

In the fourth Clarke and Wagner singled and a long fly by Bransfield brought in Manager Fred. Pittsburgh tallied one more in the fifth when Ritchey drew a pass. Phelps sacrificed and Phillippe followed with a timely single. The second man to reach first for the Phillies during the game was Brashear, who drew a pass in the fifth. He got as far as third and was then thrown out at the plate trying to score on Hulswitt's grounder to Bransfield.

Phillippe was again in evidence with his bat in the seventh. He hit for two bases and came home on Beaumont's single. Beau took second on the throw to the plate and counted on Sebring's single.

Umpire Johnstone came in for a hard roast from the 2,576 spectators in the seventh. Brashear started the inning and in trying to take two bases on Wagner's wild throw, was caught at second. Wolverton and Hulswitt hit safely and on Dooin's grounder to Ritchey, the latter dropped the ball after touching Hulswitt on the line, and by the time he rounded first base and the ball struck him on the foot, rolling into right field. Wolverton, who was on third, came home, but Johnstone brought him back to third, declared Hulswitt out and put Dooin on first.

This caused a big howl from the rooters and Johnstone was denounced as a "robber." McFetridge hit one too hot for Ritchey and Wolverton again crossed the plate with the only run scored by the fall-enders. Pittsburgh got one more in the ninth on Phillippe's hit, a wild pitch and a two-bagger by Clarke. Score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Hans Wagner had an off day, and just to show Philadelphians he is human he had two errors at short.

Manager Clarke may use either Veil or Merritt against the Quakers today, and save Leever for the opening game with New York. Samuel has always pitched good ball against the Giants.

Deacon Phillippe once more demonstrated that his good right arm is not clogged or worn down. The Deacon pitched a great game yesterday and helped along the victory with his little bat.

The victims of the umpire yesterday were Doyle and Chance, who disputed Emslie's decisions and were bounced for so doing. The players will soon learn that the days for kicking at the umpire are past.

There is a report in the east that President Dreyfuss is on a stiff hunt after another pitcher. Judging from the way some of the old timers are batting Hemmered a new pitcher would fill a long felt want.

That was tough luck that Patsy Donovan was up against in Boston yesterday. The Cardinals looked like sure winners back of the O'Neil brothers, but in the ninth inning Brain's error upset all the good work and Buckenberger's team won in the eleventh. It certainly was a case of snatching victory out of the fire.

Rube Waddell for the first time since joining Connie Mack's team, had to be taken out of the box yesterday. The Chicago fans made rather merry with Rube's delivery, but the chances are that Waddell can go in again today and take a fall out of those who berated him about his humiliation yesterday. Waddell, great pitcher that he is, like all other twirlers, will have an off day once in a while.

Determined to preserve discipline on the playing field and protect his umpires, President Ban Johnson of the American league is laying the ax to tall timber. Following the suspension of Managers Collins and Griffith of the Boston and New York teams, he announced the indefinite suspension of Capt. Lajoie of Cleveland. Lajoie's sentence is the result of his trouble with Umpire Connelly in the game at Cleveland Tuesday.

ELEVEN INNING GAME.

Boston Took the Game from Cleveland Yesterday.

BOSTON, May 14.—Boston took today's game from St. Louis when it seemed lost. With two out in the ninth Stanley hit to left for two bases. This, followed by two passes, Dexter's single and Brain's error, gave Boston two runs and tied the score. In the 11th inning singles by Stanley, Dexter and Tenney scored the winning run. Score:

WON BY BROOKLYN.

Timely Hitting Brought Victory to Hanlon's Team.

BROOKLYN, May 14.—Hanlon's men won a close game from the Chicagos today, 4 to 3. Jones and Weimer pitched fairly well, the visitor being the steadier, but the locals' batting was timely and won. Doyle and Chance were put out of the game for kicking. In the seventh inning the visitors had the bases filled twice but could not get a man home. Score:

WEST VIRGINIA HOME FROM BAD TRIP EAST

Morgantown Faithful Disgusted With Team—Frank Barr Is Back in Harness.

The University of West Virginia baseball team returned home to Morgantown yesterday from the most disastrous eastern trip the university has ever experienced. The team lost to the Maryland Athletic club, Naval Cadets, Manhattan College and Yale. When the team reached Morgantown there was no brass band to receive it, nor was there a reception committee. The team played bad ball and the Morgantown faithful is disgusted. This year's team, so an advice from Morgantown last night said, is the worst the school ever had, and the best playing is being done by "men whose right to play might be seriously questioned." James Smith of Allegheny and William "Buck" Kennoy, the Pittsburgh High school player, are on the team and have been doing good work. On the eastern trip Smith did nearly all the hitting. In the navy game West Virginia got four hits and Smith had two of them. Smith also got West Virginia's only run against Yale, the score being 6 to 1.

Frank Barr, whose name is synonomous with that of P. A. A. for the last, consented to play first base for Noble Matthews on the latter's Pittsburgh amateur team. Barr will succeed Matthews on the bag, but will not act as captain of the team. This important station last will be filled by Dick Taylor, who is hitting better than ever. Barr will likely be in Saturday's game against the Cottage club at Friendship park, and Henry Mucker, who had his hand split by a pitched ball some time ago, will be behind the bat.

While all the semi-professional teams are getting in line for this season's campaign, not one word has as yet been heard from Punxsutawney, which has been supporting fast teams in years past. Punxy lost several of her best players of last year. "Brownie" Gessler is now with the Detroit American league team and Perkins and McKinlay, the latter manager and captain, form a battery for Evansville in the Central league. Clymer is with Altoona and Pitcher Carlin is back at Dickinson college. Carlin, who is captain of the college team, lost his game yesterday to State college. Carlin was to have joined Homestead this season, but is reported to have signed with the York team.

ERRORS WERE COSTLY.

Boston Made a Great Finish and Secured a Victory.

CLEVELAND, O., May 14.—Boston won out in the fifth inning, when, with two out, errors by Gochnaur and Hickman gave them five runs. Moore struck out eight men in the first four innings, but weakened when his support became bad. Dineen took Gibson's place in the eighth and stopped Cleveland's batting rally. SHORTER HOURS AND MORE WAGES

Machinists Argue That Wives Will Be Benefited if Demands Are Granted.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT

Convention at Milwaukee Transacted Considerable Business and Outlined Changes That Will Benefit Workmen.

Reports of the business transacted at the annual convention of the International Association of Machinists, held in Milwaukee, contain interesting facts for members of the craft. The principal feature of the convention was the decision to demand a nine-hour day throughout the machinists' jurisdiction and an advance of 15 per cent in wages. In his statement telling the reasons why a nine-hour day should be granted President James O'Connell argues that a 10-hour day for the workman means a 12-hour day for his wife, and therefore the lessening of hours in the workshop is a direct benefit to the homes whence come the future citizens.

The agreement to be presented to the manufacturers stipulates that only members of the International Association of Machinists, or persons agreeable thereto, shall be employed in the shops and that nine hours shall constitute a day's work. All work between regular quitting time and midnight shall be paid time and one-half and from midnight double time. Night shifts shall be paid time and one-fifth for the first nine hours and time and a half for over nine hours. No piece-work, bonus or premium shall be introduced into the shops.

For one year from July 1, 1903, an advance of 15 per cent shall be paid to each journeyman machinist now in the employ of the various firms. The minimum starting rate for any machinist shall be 38 1-3 cents per hour. No manufacturer shall ask his employes to handle, or work the product of "unfair" shops.

President James O'Connell has sent out a statement regarding the demand for shorter hours. It reads:

The effort of the machinists to obtain a shorter work-day is in harmony with the universal industrial tendency. The mitigation of the curse of the Garden of Eden, and the attainment of conditions when all, instead of a few, men will be able to secure the maximum comforts of life with the minimum of exertion. The official world sets the example. Office hours are leisurely and compensation liberal. Why should not the men who work in shops aspire to something of the same conditions? But there is a greater reason, though one less heard of, and one in which society is concerned, for a shorter work-day, viz.: the ten hour work-day for the man means a twelve-hour work-day, at its shortest, for the wife, and that reacts injuriously upon the homes whence come future citizens. Shorter hours for him means fewer hours for her, and that in turn means better homes, better environments for children, and, in time, better citizens for the country.

The present scale expires on the first of July. At present the men are permitted to work as many hours a day as is the rule of the shops in which they are employed. Whether or not the manufacturers will agree to a uniform day of nine hours will probably not be known until a few days before the present scale expires.

The most serious trouble of the machinists is in getting the 15 per cent advance. The machinists, especially in this district, are well organized and handle a class of work that is very important in the operation of the many industrial plants in this vicinity. The Westinghouse interests employ more than any other establishment in Western Pennsylvania and it largely depends upon the action of that company whether the men have a fight or not.

WILL BUILD A CHURCH.

East McKeesport Catholics Preparing to Erect a House of Worship.

The Roman Catholics of East McKeesport have decided to erect a place of worship of their own. At the request of a committee of members, the East McKeesport Land Company donated a plot of ground upon which to build the church, and nearly enough money has been pledged for the building. The plans for the church are in the hands of an architect and the contract for the building will be let as soon as possible. The donation of the land company was secured by James L. Devenny, who is interested in the company. A handsome parsonage will also be built adjoining the church.

There are about 100 Catholic families in East McKeesport, all of whom have been attending McKeesport or Wilmerding churches.

POLICEMAN RESIGNS; SAID IT WAS TOO HARD.

Supt. M. H. Campbell of the Allegheny police department, yesterday announced that Fred C. Hinkle, who was appointed patrolman last week, resigned, saying the work was too hard. Mr. Campbell also announced the appointment of John Knoeble as patrolman.

Receptions at the Grand.

A series of gala events is in progress at the Grand this week, where each afternoon and evening witnesses the reception and souvenir photographs of the various players. Yesterday was given over to Charles Abbe, Willis Martin and Dennie Harris. Their photographs were distributed to the ladies at the matinee, while at night the gentlemen held their personal receptions. Mr. Abbe received an ovation and was called upon for a speech, in which he thanked the public for the kind encouragement of his efforts. He received a great quantity of flowers and a number of handsome gifts. Messrs. Martin and Harris also made speeches, and were the recipients of floral offerings. At the matinees today receptions and souvenirs will be given for Miss Lisle Leigh, Mace Greenleaf, Miss Engel Sumner and Lawrence Underwood.

Elks' Big Reception This Evening.

There will be a great time at Elks' temple, Fifth avenue and Jumonville street, this evening, when a stag social session for Elks only will be held by Pittsburgh lodge No. 11. One of the finest vaudeville, music and athletic entertainments will be given. F. H. McCarty, W. W. Robinson, I. W. Morrow, E. J. Joyce and Saul Busman will be in charge. Elks now attending the convention of the Order of Railway Conductors are invited. Each one must show his card at the door. Everything will be free.

Kilkarey Loved The Cathedral.

Thomas Kilkarey no longer patrols the cathedral beat. He is now covering several blocks up on the hill district and is endeavoring to forget that he has lost a friend. For years Kilkarey kept order in the vicinity of the cathedral and loved the great church as he would a parent. When the place of worshiping was abandoned Kilkarey requested Supt. McTighe as a personal favor to give him a new beat. "My old friend is leaving here soon and I want to go," was the way the rugged little Irishman put it.

A Great Discovery!

AN ELECTRO-MAGNETIZED AND AMMONIO-CAMPHORATED

CREAM LINIMENT

A MARVEL OF REMEDIAL EFFICACY AND

A BOON TO BOTH MAN AND BEAST

THE OUTCOME OF TWENTIETH CENTURY ADVANCES IN ELECTRO-CHEMICAL SCIENCE.

A GREAT BOON TO WORKMEN AND ALL PERSONS WHOSE WORK SUBJECTS THEM TO GREAT STRAINS.

POSSESSED OF MARVELOUS PROPERTIES.

ELECTRO-MAGNETINE is believed to be the only preparation yet devised for curative purposes endowed with such peculiar properties that when applied to any part of the human body, accompanied with brisk rubbing with the naked hands, it causes an active and energetic electro-magnetic action to be set up in the parts to which it is applied.

The wonderful potency of this peculiar form of electro-magnetic force, individual, or animal, magetism, or whatever it may properly be termed, in curing certain forms of human maladies has been demonstrated beyond the possibility of doubt.

Whether ELECTRO-MAGNETINE is actually charged with electro-magnetic properties infused into it in the process of manufacture, or whether it serves as a medium through which electro-magnetic forces are developed by active rubbing and which are, through it, transmitted or applied to the parts operated upon, we are not yet quite prepared to say, but of one thing we are certain, viz: That the combined use of ELECTRO-MAGNETINE with active rubbing is much more efficient in a curative way than either of these agencies employed separately.

The free application of ELECTRO-MAGNETINE to Swollen Joints, accompanied with vigorous rubbing with the bare hands, sets up in the affected parts such an active electro-magnetic action as to greatly promote the circulation of the blood through the swollen parts and thereby hasten absorption and consequent reduction of swelling, stiffness, soreness and pain.

IMPORTANCE OF THOROUGH RUBBING.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the importance of thorough and vigorous rubbing of the affected parts after a free application of the ELECTRO-MAGNETINE. In fact, the brisk rubbing should be kept up until the surface to which the ELECTRO-MAGNETINE has been applied has become quite dry and wholly free from the lubricated feel and glossy look due to the application of the Cream Liniment.

In all Chronic, or long standing, Swollen, or Enlarged Joints, the thorough course of treatment above directed should be applied two or three times a day.

WEAK BACKS MADE STRONG.

By a somewhat protracted use of ELECTRO-MAGNETINE, accompanied with thorough rubbing, or massage, weak backs are made strong. Sore Muscles and Lame Backs, whether arising from strains, over-exertion or Rheumatic Conditions of the system, are relieved, as if by magic, by the thorough application of this remedy. Foot-ball and base-ball players are amongst those loudest in their praises of it as giving most prompt relief from Muscle pains, Lameness and Soreness caused by over-exertion and strains.

Especially has ELECTRO-MAGNETINE proven its power to cure Obstinate Cases of Swollen or Enlarged and Stiffened Joints, whether arising from Rheumatic, Gouty or other conditions of the system, which cause inflammation, effusion and consequent enlargement of the joints.

IN ALL CHRONIC OR LINGERING AFFECTIONS,

For the cure of which ELECTRO-MAGNETINE is recommended, it should be thoroughly applied two or three times daily, as above directed—not omitting thorough rubbing with the bare hands.

OWNERS OF LIVE STOCK

Should know that ELECTRO-MAGNETINE is quite as effective, in a curative way, when applied to horses and cattle suffering from Sprains, Bruises, Lameness, Swollen or Stiffened Joints and kindred affections, as when applied to human flesh.

NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY · WOMEN'S CLUBS · WOMEN'S CORNER

THE WEATHER was all that could be desired to make the annual May festival of the Episcopal Church home one of the most successful in its history. There was music both afternoon and evening on the beautiful grounds at Penn avenue and Fortieth street, and just before dusk the Boys' brigade of the Shadyside Church of the Ascension gave a drill under the direction of Col. H. P. Bope.

The church home fair is one of the most important semi-social affairs of the year. During the later part of the afternoon yesterday the grounds were crowded with the patronesses of the institution and the children, the little folk in the evening making way for the younger people. There were dancing in the pavilion at night and the Jarley wax works both afternoon and evening, Mrs. George A. Gormly impersonating the well-known Mrs. Jarley. In the afternoon she was assisted by a number of the younger representatives of well-known families, including Miss Laura Wurtz, Miss Estelle King, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson King of Birmingham, England; Miss Eleanor Muzzy, Miss Sarah Rose, Miss Marie Cole, J. Bernd Rose, Miss Elizabeth Cole, Tomlinson Burgwin, Donald Scully, Butler Burgwin, Miss Janet Scully, Alexander McKaig, William Nimick and little Miss Mary McKaig, and in the evening by the little people of the church home.

The children of the home were also represented in a display of industrial work—wood-carving and sewing—which was shown in the chapel occupied by the women of St. Peter's church with two large fancy-work departments. The first was under the direction of the Altar society and supervised by Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., and Mrs. Robert T. Reineman, with a large party of aids. Mrs. W. H. House, Mrs. G. N. Munro and Mrs. J. A. G. House had charge of the other, assisted by Mrs. Henry Scully and Mrs. Douglass. Both were gaily decorated and exhibited beautiful pieces of fancy work. There was also a Klondike in the center, where the little miners dug with tiny spades for gold in the shape of toys. Other fancy-work tables were under the direction of the Altar societies of Trinity, Emmanuel, Calvary, St. Andrews and the Church of the Ascension. The ice cream and cake tables were set in a typical American room. The walls were hung with immense flags and the national colors, red, white and blue, shaded the windows. Lemonade, candies and cut flowers were for sale in a small room decorated with ferns and hung with quaint home-made paper animals for the benefit of small bargain hunters. The small reception room to the left of the central hall was fitted up as a tea room and supper was served downstairs on daintily arranged tables under the supervision of the various parishes.

The toy department was an innovation this year, the idea of letting the children dig for their toys being original with Mrs. Francis Henry Wade, who was assisted by Miss Georgia Gormley, the Misses Painter, the Miss Humbird and other members of the Altar society of Trinity church.

The successful entertainment yesterday was conducted under the direction of the board of managers of the church home, Mrs. Frank Semple Bissell being president, Mrs. S. N. Benham secretary and Mrs. Robert T. Reineman treasurer.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—(Special.)—Society today went to the County fair, held on the grounds of the old naval observatory, from 3 until 7 in the afternoon. Many of the smartest people added to the frolic by arriving in all sorts of odd rigs and conveyances. The young men of the diplomatic corps entered into the spirit of the thing by organizing a regular county fair shooting gallery, with prizes for marksmanship, and various accessories in the way of canes, to be won by tossing a ring over them, negroes who allowed their heads to become targets for baseballs, and the other catch-penny devices of the fakirs at a county fair. The difference in the arrangements was that a higher price was paid for the privileges of testing one's luck. The proceeds of the affair went to the Junior republic. Marine and artillery bands alternated in a continuous concert during the afternoon.

The principal attraction was a country store, under the management of Mrs. Ward Thorn. Among her assistants were Miss Isabel May, Miss Carolyn Postelwaite, Miss Carolyn Huff and Miss Daisy Leiter. All were attired in calico dresses and shaker bonnets, although nobody nowadays sees the country belles robed in such simplicity. Mrs. Cowles had charge of the tea table, and was assisted by several young women of Miss Roosevelt's set. Mrs. Thomas Walsh presided over the ice cream parlor and Miss Frances Johnston operated a regular tin type gallery, where all society had its picture taken. Several thousand people attended and the receipts of the enterprise will probably mount up into greater figures than have been realized by any of the charitable efforts heretofore generously patronized.

Shorts-Montgomery.

GROVE CITY, PA., May 14.—(Special.)—Miss Daisy Lucille Shorts and B. C. Montgomery, both of this place, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents today, the Rev. Dr. Roselot of Toledo, O., assisted by the Rev. Dr. McConkey of this place, officiating. Dr. John McAdoo of Pittsburgh was groomsman, and Miss Jennie Glenn bridesmaid. Miss Edna Flanders and Miss Bessie Blaney played the wedding march. Miss Marie Smith was flower girl, and Homer Shorts carried the ring.

After a wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery left for a wedding trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Monroes Piers, after which they will go to Toledo, O., where they will spend the summer. Mrs. Montgomery has held a high position in church and social circles here, while Mr. Montgomery is a singing evangelist. During the coming summer he will act as chorister for one of the leading churches of Toledo, and in the fall will resume his evangelical work. He is a graduate of Grove City college.

A Farewell Bridge Whist.

An informal bridge whist was given last evening by Mrs. William J. Holland at her home in Fifth avenue, Bellefield. There were just 16 players and the game was given as a farewell for Mrs. Harry Darlington, who, accompanied by Mr. Darlington and Miss Rebecca Darlington, will leave early in the week for "Seven Oaks," the Darlington home at Mamaroneck, on Long Island sound. Everything was carried out in the most informal manner as Mrs. Darlington is still in mourning.

Dreshman—Lindquist.

Just to surprise their friends Andrew Lindquist and Miss Estelle Dreshman of McKeesport yesterday went to Youngstown, O., and were married. Their intentions were unknown until a message to friends announced the news of their wedding. They will return to McKeesport on Sunday and make their home in that place. The bride was a clerk in a department store. The bridegroom is connected with the W. Dewees Wood sheet steel mill.

Invitations Recalled.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hay Reed have recalled the invitations they issued for a reception next Tuesday evening in honor of Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton university, because of the death of their little nephew, William Watson Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Watson Smith. Mrs. Reed has also withdrawn the invitations for the tea which she intended giving for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. David Aiken Reed.

Mohr-Kost.

In Braddock yesterday at 9 a. m. at the St. Joseph's Catholic church occurred the marriage of Miss Catherine Magdalene, daughter of the late John Mohr of Braddock, and Frank Kost. High mass was performed by the Rev. Father Peter F. May, and the services were sung by a choir of 25 voices. The bridesmaid was Miss Cecelia Albrecht, of Pittsburgh, and the best man was Charles Kost, a brother of the bridegroom. The bride wore pearl voile over blue silk, and carried bride's roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in white satin and carried pink roses. After the wedding breakfast at the bride's home, Mr. and Mrs. Kost left on an extended bridal trip to Detroit and the lakes. On their return they will live in Washington avenue, Braddock.

Four O'Clock Tea.

A daintily appointed 4 o'clock tea was given yesterday afternoon by Miss Margaret Biggs and Miss Elizabeth Biggs of South Craig street, Bellefield, in honor of Miss Helen Pearson, the fiancee of their brother, George W. Biggs, Jr. The three received together, Miss Biggs wearing pink mousseline, Miss Elizabeth Biggs green satin, and Miss Pearson embroidered mousseline. Mrs. Moses Atwood poured the chocolate and Miss Rebecca Jones, Miss Sallie Dunbar, Miss Mary McCallam, Miss Winifred Jones, Miss Nellie McCallam and Mrs. George Wright assisted informally about the rooms, which were simply decorated with ferns, vines, flowering dogwood and other spring blossoms.

A Beaver Girl Engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Sweeney of Beaver have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Florence Gertrude Sweeney, and John C. McCleery of New Brighton. It is understood that the wedding will occur at the home of the bride early next month. Both of the young people are well known in the Beaver valley.

Dinner for the President.

A banquet will be given Tuesday evening, May 19, at the Hotel Henry by the alumni of Allegheny College, Meadville, in honor of Dr. William H. Crawford, president of the college, and Judge John J. Henderson. James W. Kinnear, J. A. Wakefield, Charles M. Miller, Silon B. Smith, W. H. Pratt and Tensand De Wolfe are the members of the committee of arrangements.

Luncheon at the Golf Club.

A handsome little luncheon was given yesterday afternoon at the Pittsburgh Golf club by Mrs. George A. Macbeth of Ambleson avenue, Shadyside. Covers were laid for eight with Mrs. Harry Darlington's visitor, Mrs. Frank Darlington of New York, as the guest of honor.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. A. R. Peacock will hold her last at home this season this afternoon at her residence in North Highland avenue, East End.

Mrs. A. D. Husted and her son, R. G. Husted, will travel to the Pacific coast during the next six weeks. They will visit the southwest and go north to the Yellowstone park. In the party will also be Mrs. John Sharpe and Mrs. Dr. Black.

The first annual bazar of the Light Bearers, a juvenile organization of the Church of the Redeemer, Mt. Vernon street, East End, was held last evening in the old Homewood school building in Hamilton avenue. A repetition of the affair will be given this evening.

WATER COLOR EXHIBIT.

Philadelphia and New York Artists Put Their Productions on View Here.

An exhibition of more than usual interest will be held at the Gillespie galleries, Wood street, consisting of water colors and etchings by some of the New York and Philadelphia senior brushes. This will open on Monday next and continue for one week. Among those represented are Stephen J. Ferris, W. Merrith Post, William Bancroft, Harrington Fitzgerald, Charles Warren Eaton, John Whitaker and W. P. Lockington, Peter Moran, L. Carl Weber and James Wright.

Georgia Against Change of Name.

SAVANNAH, May 14.—By a vote of 3 to 1 the diocesan convention of Georgia voted against the proposition to change the name of the Protestant Episcopal church to the "Catholic Church of America."

THE joint committee of women's clubs met yesterday morning in the Twentieth Century club and was encouraged in opening the summer playgrounds and vacation schools this season by increased committees of women workers. In addition to the schools previously secured the committee yesterday announced that four rooms and the hall in the Fortieth Street school in Lawrenceville were placed at the disposal of the women during the vacation school season. The school building is to be remodeled this summer, a new wing being contemplated, in which to establish a manual training department, and for this reason the school yard will not be available, as it will be filled with building materials. It is at the Fortieth Street school that the school garden committee proposed continuing its successful plan of last year. The directors of the South Side High school consented to the use of the school grounds during July and August, and also during the entire school year as far as such use would not interfere with the recreation of the pupils in the High school.

Among recent donations which were received by the treasurer were the following: Mr. and Mrs. James I. Buchanan, $50; the Pittsburgh Sorosis, $15; the Wilkinsburg Woman's club, $25, and the Ben Avon Woman's club, $50. There is a balance in the treasury now of $224 40.

A committee of women from the Traveler's club, who will take an active part in the work of carrying on the summer playgrounds and the vacation schools this season, consists of Mrs. William Macrum, Mrs. Edward A. Jones, Mrs. G. C. West, Mrs. George Hubbard, Mrs. J. C. Dick and Miss Carrie Phillips. A committee of women from the Lawrenceville New Century club includes Miss H. Elizabeth Cory, Miss Anna M. Herron, Miss Hester Johns, Miss Emma Hoerr, Miss Myra Johns, Mrs. William Given, Mrs. George Given, Mrs. Uttick and Mrs. Lewis A. Hutchinson.

Miss Baldt, instructor of sewing in the Central Young Women's Christian association, will give a couple of lectures and demonstrations soon for the young women who will assist in the sewing classes, which will be a feature of the work of the vacation schools this year.

Educational Conferences.

The teachers and educators of Pittsburgh are preparing for educational conferences which will be held in Carnegie Institute next week. On Thursday evening Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, state superintendent of public instruction in Pennsylvania, will lecture before the Academy of Science and Art on "The Teaching of History."

Three conferences in the three sections of the lecture room of Carnegie Institute will be held next Tuesday evening. Miss Nannie Mackrell will be the leader of one conference, whose subject will be "Literature As Related to the Work of the Different Grades." Its relation to the first and second school years will be discussed by Miss Imatha Keefer of the Moorhead school; third and fourth school years, Miss Elizabeth Keller, Humboldt school; fifth and sixth school years, Miss Jennie L. Davis, Sterrett school; Miss E. Juniata Shields, Homewood school; Seventh and eighth, Miss Sarah L. Cochran, Allen school. The discussion will be opened by C. H. Garwood of the Homewood public schools.

J. W. Rankin will be the leader for the conference on "Aims and Methods of Teaching History in the Secondary Schools." A paper on "Ancient History" will be read by Miss Carrie A. Laurence, Pittsburgh Academy, the discussion being opened by Miss Mary D. Potter of the South Side High school; "Mediaeval and Modern European History," Miss Eliza Beth McCheery, Allegheny High school; discussion, Miss Mary H. Morgan, Pittsburgh High school; "English History," F. C. Wellman, Shadyside Academy; discussion, Charles M. Hull, East Liberty Academy; "American History and Civil Government," Miss Mary L. Marquis, Fifth Avenue High school; discussion, Robert G. Sliser, Park institute.

"English in Secondary Schools" will be the subject for the third conference, C. J. Geer, leader. "The preparation a student should receive during the study of high school English" will be the subject of a paper by Dr. Ella Knapp of the Pennsylvania College for Women, followed by a discussion by Dr. McFarland, Pittsburgh High school, and Mr. Morris, East Liberty Academy. "How to Teach the Fiction of the College Requirements in English," a discussion by Mr. Blaisdell, Fifth Avenue High school; Miss Anderson, Thurston Preparatory school, and Miss Bailey, Allinda Preparatory school; "The Best Method of Correlating the English Composition With the Literature of the High School Course," Mr. Bignell, Allegheny High school, and Mrs. Williams, South Side High school.

The first of these three conferences will be held in the center section of the lecture hall, the second in the western section and the third in the eastern section.

Musicale and Japanese Drill.

A musicale and Japanese fantasque and drill will be given next Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Lawrenceville New Century club in the Presbyterian church, Thirty-ninth street. The entertainment is to raise money for the support of the vacation school and summer playgrounds. The musicale program will be presented by a number of soloists, including Miss Jennie MacIntosh, Miss Reid, Mr. Russell and Mr. Jones, vocal soloists; Miss Reid, pianist; Miss Blanchard and Miss Glasgow, readers. A piano duet will be given by Mrs. Lewis Hutchinson and Mrs. H. B. Ingersoll. The colored jubilee singers will appear. The Japanese fantasque and drill will be presented under the direction of Mrs. John W. Folsom and by 24 young girls and men.

Musicale for Travelers.

A delightful program has been arranged for the musicale to be given tomorrow afternoon for the members of the Travelers' club by Mrs. Alfred E. Clarke and Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, at the latter's home, "Centerview," in Aiken avenue, Shadyside. Mrs. John L'Amour, the club's musical director, is in supervision and the participants will be Mrs. Agnes Vogel Roberts, soprano; Miss Christine Miller, contralto, and Miss Augusta Abel, pianist. Mrs. Roberts' numbers will include "A Simple Story," Streleski; Joachim Raff's "Ever With Thee," and the cavatina from Gounod's "Queen of Sheba." Miss Miller will sing Tschaikowsky's "Ye Who Have Mourned Alone," "Abstination," Fontenailles; Nevin's "Oh, That We Two Were Maying," and "Thine Only," Bohm. Miss Abel's solos will be Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata," Liszt's "Leiderstraum" and the "Spiennerlied," Mendelssohn.

Close of Twenty-Fifth Season.

The Mozart club will close its 25th concert season in Carnegie Music hall this evening. J. P. McCollum, who has conducted every concert and all but two or three rehearsals of the club during its existence, will be the conductor tonight. Edwin H. Lemare will play the accompaniments for the Dubois cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," and will in addition give an organ solo. The vocal soloists will be Miss Anne Griffiths, soprano; Mrs. J. A. Hibbard, contralto; Morris Stephens, tenor, and George Knox, baritone. One-half of the program is given up to the solo numbers and three Wagner choruses, the march chorus from "Tannhauser," Spinning Chorus from the "Flying Dutchman" and the Pilgrim's Chorus from "Tannhauser." These miscellaneous programs are given once a year by the Mozart club.

Graduating Exercises.

The graduating exercises of the class of 1903 of the Training School for Nurses, connected with the Allegheny General hospital, will be held next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Carnegie Hall, Allegheny. The exercises will be followed by a reception at the Waldorf, Park way and Sandusky street, from 9:30 o'clock until 12.

A blue linen shirtwaist suit trimmed with bands of Russian embroidery in scarlet and blue. The hat is Panama, with a scarf of blue silk.

A guest at a well-equipped country house showed much amused perplexity recently in trying, without disloyalty, to sympathize with a friend's expression of her distaste for linen sheets and pillowcases. Her attitude is that of many a housekeeper whom early tradition and maternal training have taught to regard linen bed furnishings as the sine qua non of good housekeeping, yet who finds they afford but cold comfort to the sleeper, as well as herself, when she views with dismay their rumpled appearance after one night's use. Good, general advice to the purchaser of bed linen is to buy linen sheets if she wishes to transmit such articles to her posterity, but a good quality of cotton is much pleasanter to live with. Linen pillow-cases are rather different, for not only is their smooth coolness acceptable to most faces, but their possibilities of ornamentation appeal to any one at all serious with her needle. Pillow-cases are always covered during the day in well-appointed households, so that their crosses need not interfere with daytime neatness, and there is no menace to health such as physicians claim accompanies the use of linen sheets.

Linen vs. Cotton Sheets.

"With the present day fashions, stocks and belts to suit the various costumes of the wardrobe cannot be chosen too carefully. There is a perceptible tendency, with the liberty allowed to individual choice, to sacrifice the fit for the novel, and one sees, now and then, startling effects. Because a stock of elaborate design makes a stunning finish to a tall woman's frock, a short woman essays the same fashion on her 'no neck,' and the result is an exaggeration of lines which are already too prominent. For a short neck, especially if ill inclined to be fleshy, a simple stock made of material like the waist, or, at best, of lace with little adornment, is always desirable."

Rhubarb dumplings are as good as apple dumplings, and are made the same way, seasoning with cinnamon and plenty of sugar. Bake, and serve with a sweet liquid sauce.

Fruit-rhubarb pie—Take three heaping cups of chopped rhubarb, one of chopped and seeded raisins, and three Boston crackers, powdered. Mix and add two-thirds of a cup of molasses, one and one-half cups of sugar, a teaspoonful of butter, spice and salt to taste. This amount will make three pies. Bake in two crusts. This is a favorite with all lovers of rhubarb.

New Ways to the Rhubarb.

Rhubarb pudding—Butter a pudding dish thickly and sprinkle with bread crumbs, leaving a half-inch layer on the bottom. Peel and cut rhubarb in small pieces, and put a layer on the crumbs, then a good allowance of sugar. Alternate until your dish is filled, having the top layer crumbs.

Pudding sauce for rhubarb pudding and dumplings—One pound of sugar, four ounces of butter, one-half a cup of water; boil, flavor with cinnamon or vanilla, and just before serving stir in the stiffly beaten whites of two or three eggs.

A Most Delicious Dessert

Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit is made in the most hygienic and scientific food laboratory in the world. The wheat is spun into light shreds, containing thousands of open pores and is not crushed flat and dense as in the case of other foods. These pores absorb the digestive juices and provide far greater surface for their action than is given by any other food.

The following simple "course before coffee" is much in vogue with club men everywhere. The simplicity of preparation and the little cost, together with the delicious taste of the compotes, make this dessert in rare favor in the home.

USE SEASONABLE FRUIT AND

SHREDDED WHOLE WHEAT BISCUIT

Split and slightly toast the Biscuit, then serve with berries, sliced peaches, bananas or any seasonable fruit. Simple, isn't it? Your verdict will be

"Simply Delicious"

For Shortcake—With sharp knife halve the SHREDDED WHOLE WHEAT BISCUIT lengthwise; prepare pineapple as for sauce (or bananas or sliced fruits) and set aside. When serving, arrange halves in layers covered with fruit and add sugar and whipped cream.

NEW BUILDINGS FOR DEAF MUTES

SOME MONEY IS NEEDED

Debt of the Institution Is $100,000, and Efforts Will Be Made to Secure Gifts from Philanthropic Persons.

The three new buildings of the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, at Swissvale and Walnut streets, Edgewood, were dedicated yesterday afternoon with appropriate exercises. Many persons prominent in philanthropic work in this vicinity were present, and it was agreed after the services that a determined effort be made to secure from the wealthy residents of Pittsburgh the $100,000 necessary to free the institution from debt.

The dedicatory exercises opened with a parade of the children in the institution, which was witnessed with much interest. The Rev. John G. Brown, president of the board of trustees, made the opening address and was chairman. The dedicatory prayer was delivered by the Rev. Dr. John Crockar White, rector of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church, Pittsburgh.

The Rev. William L. McEwan, D. D., pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, made an address in which he complimented Dr. Brown on his work in securing the additional buildings for the institution. He spoke of the difficulty in educating deaf and dumb children and of the courses taught—history, literature and industrials. He laid stress upon the spiritual good done and asked the scholars, visitors and speakers present to join in a congratulatory prayer to Dr. Brown.

PRAISED THE PRESIDENT.

John B. Jackson's address was in the form of a glowing tribute to the efforts of Dr. Brown. He spoke of the venerable president's work to secure appropriations from the state legislature and contributions from Pittsburghers to help along the movement. He presented a brief review of the institution. W. N. Burt, superintendent, and Prof. L. Roberts, one of the teachers of the institution, acted as interpreters for the deaf and dumb students present.

This institution was founded about 30 years ago as a mission to the Third United Presbyterian church, of which at that time Dr. Brown was pastor. Shortly thereafter it was established as a day school and the Duquesne school was utilized. Afterward a building in Turtle Creek was secured. The institution moved to the present site in 1884. In December, 1890, portions of the buildings were burned, and those dedicated yesterday were erected at a cost of $300,000. Two-thirds of this amount was available, but the remaining $100,000 remains yet to be paid. The legislature has been appealed to, but it granted the institution only $132,000 for two years, or a little more than current expenses. Meanwhile, the interest on the debt accumulates and a strong effort will be made to secure the balance of the money.

CONFIDENT OF GETTING GIFTS.

The trustees feel confident that if the people of Pittsburgh will subscribe $50,000 the next legislature will supply the balance. The $50,000, however, is needed at once, so the trustees will personally solicit money from persons in Pittsburgh who may be likely to be interested in the work.

The institution is a brick and stone structure, 330 feet wide, composed of an administration building and two wings, making three buildings. It will accommodate 300 pupils, the membership at present being 216. There are 18 teachers. All yesterday afternoon and evening the new buildings were open for inspection and many visitors were escorted about the premises.

COAL DOCK DISPUTE.

Director Bigelow and Controller Larkin Investigating Contradictory Claims.

John Koch, the new master of the Flinn coal dock in Duquesne Way has very little to do, for the machinery is now idle. The coal company which has been using it claim to own the machinery.

It is understood that the coal company now claims that Philip Flinn had no right to transfer the dock to the city, as it was not his to give away, but Flinn signed the deed of gift and maintains that he did not only what he had a clear legal right to do.

E. M. Bigelow and Controller John B. Larkin are investigating the matter, and if they decide that the company's contention is wrong, they will take possession of the machinery. A new fee bill will be prepared. The old fee bill made the lifting of coal so cheap and the lifting of other commodities so expensive that wholesalers found it was not economy to patronize the dock. The dock was also managed in such a way that independent coal producers and dealers found themselves shut out of its use.

FIGHT TRUST LAW.

National Board of Fire Underwriters Appropriates Money to Defend Mississippi Member.

NEW YORK, May 14.—At the thirty-seventh annual meeting of the National Board of Fire Underwriters today, the executive committee reported that it had authorized the expenditure of $3,000 to defend a suit against a Mississippi member of the association under the anti-trust law.

The by-laws were amended so that the executive committee will consist of one officer of each company represented in the association instead of being composed of the ex-presidents of the organization.

These officers were elected: President, Henry H. Hall, New York; vice president, J. H. Washburn, New York; secretary, Charles A. Shaw, New York; treasurer, F. W. Arnold, Providence, R. I.; members of the executive committee, George Ingraham, W. B. Kelly, James Nicholls and E. C. Richards.

CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

Emory M. E. Next Sunday Begins a Week of Special Services.

Beginning next Sunday, Emory Methodist Episcopal church, North Highland avenue, the Rev. Arthur D. Mink, pastor, will celebrate the seventh anniversary of its occupancy of its present church building. Special services will be held through the week.

On Sunday morning the anniversary sermon will be preached by Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, LL. D., of Philadelphia. At the evening service an address will be delivered by Bishop J. M. Thoburn of India. On Monday night the Sabbath school and Epworth league will hold their anniversaries. On Tuesday night the Women's societies will meet. Wednesday night a love feast will be held, and on Thursday night a reception will be given.

The church numbers 940 members, and the Sunday school, of which S. Hamilton is superintendent, is large and flourishing. The committee having these exercises in charge, is J. W. McKnight, R. B. Ward, Louis Kable, E. P. Ebberts and S. Hamilton.

REDUCTION OF WORLD'S NAVIES DISCUSSED IN THE COMMONS

OPPOSED BY ADMIRALTY

Secretary Arnold-Forster Says Great Britain Should Be Guided by Exact Force of Ships That Could Be Arrayed Against Her.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, May 14.—The question of the reduction of naval armaments came up again today in the house of commons in the course of a discussion of the navy estimates. The speakers suggested that the government take the first step in proposing a reduction to other powers. Sir Charles Dilke, advanced Radical, said he thought this might be possible. In view of the improved relations between Great Britain and France those two nations might talk the matter over and subsequently approach Russia. Even if Germany did not agree to a reduction, the three powers might effect something. It was not necessary for Great Britain to build against the United States. It would be as great a mistake to count upon the United States as an enemy as to count upon her as an active ally, for the United States had always been the great defender of the rights of neutrals.

Mr. Arnold-Forster, the admiralty secretary, after having pointed out that it was the duty of the admiralty to deal with facts as they were and not as they might be, said that all the great powers were increasing their maritime preparations, notably Russia. According to the available figures France and Russia together were building three more battleships than Great Britain. As the actual force in ships which could be arrayed against Great Britain ought to be the guiding principle, he denied that the admiralty proposals were in excess of the requirements of the country.

The secretary added that he would not express any view with regard to the position as affected by the United States. "That was a grave consideration which in future would have to be considered." Whether European powers and the power across the Atlantic might come to some agreement in regard to the cessation of armamants was not, however, the question he had to deal with now. The admiralty's present duty was to give the nation a guarantee against attack, and, more important still, against defeat by any combination of the powers.

Sir Robert Reid, Liberal, formerly attorney gneeral, suggested that the government endeavor to obtain an alteration of the laws of naval warfare, making food stuffs not contraband of war and exempting personal property from capture. Such an agreement, he thought, would withdraw all temptation for foreign nations to build strong navies.

MABINI DIES OF CHOLERA.

Former Filipino Minister of Foreign Affairs Succumbs to Epidemic.

MANILA, May 14.—Mabini, the former minister of foreign affairs of the Filipino government, died of cholera at midnight. He was attacked with the disease on Tuesday last.

Since his return from Guam, Mabini had lived in seclusion. Captured correspondence of the Rizal province insurgents showed he had been in communication with them but the letters were not of a seditious nature.

The Filipinos and Americans generally regret the death of Mabini, but there will be no demonstration at his burial on account of the nature of the disease.

AMERICANS MAY BUY IMMENSE PLANTATION

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, May 14.—A syndicate formed in New York is negotiating with the Jamaica government for the purchase of 74,000 acres of banana and cocoa lands, formerly belonging to an improvement company. As the government is willing to sell, the negotiations will doubtless be successful. The syndicate intends to compete for the fruit business and is arranging with a steamship line to carry all its products to the American market for 10 years. The scheme involves the construction of light railroads from the plantations to the seaports.

JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN DEFIED BY PREACHER

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, May 14.—There was a remarkable scene in the City Temple at midday services today, when the pastor, the Rev. R. J. Campbell, the successor of the late Dr. Parker, announced his adhesion to the "passive resistance" movement against the new education bill.

When the Rev. Mr. Campbell, who may be regarded as the head of the non-Conformists in this country, and as voicing the determination of the non-Conformists, said he would tender payment of the portion of the rates which was not devoted to the sectarian purposes, but added that the collector would have to seize his hall clock and other chattels for the balance, the audience, numbering about 3,000 persons, stood up and cheered lustily for several minutes.

The pastor added that he had heard that Colonial Secretary Chamberlain was likely to advocate the imprisonment of those who participated in the "passive resistance" movement, but he believed that if Mr. Chamberlain imprisoned him his days as a colonial secretary would be numbered, for non-Conformity represented half the religious life of the nation.

SPECIAL COMMISSIONER IN TROUBLE WITH POLICE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MANILA, May 14.—After a difficulty with the local police, T. Thomas Fortune, a negro special labor commissioner appointed by the war department to visit the Hawaiian islands and the Philippine islands, has left Manilla for home. A companion of Mr. Fortune was arrested for a petty offense and Mr. Fortune accompanied him to the police station where an argument led to a fight, during which the police clubbed Mr. Fortune's secretary and charged Mr. Fortune with resisting officers of the law. Mr. Fortune made counter charges, but later all the charges were withdrawn.

Fortune is a resident of New York, and was the publisher of a publication devoted to the advancement of the negro.

LOUBET WAS ABSENT AT SON'S COMMUNION

PARIS, May 14.—The newspapers here give prominence to reports of the first communion of Emile Loubet, Jr., son of the president of France, which was received in the church of St. Philippi du Roule, today. The president was not present, but Mme. Loubet assisted at the usual religious ceremony. Some of the papers seek to attach significance to the president's absence, intimating that it was in connection with the suppression of the religious orders.

ARBITRATORS END VALPARAISO STRIKE

SANTIAGO, CHILE, May 14.—The damage done at Valparaiso during the rioting of the striking dock laborers is estimated at about 1,000,000 pesos. Complete calm prevails at Valparaiso today. Arbitrators have been appointed to decide the questions pending between the steamship companies and the dock laborers who have resumed work. All the banks and business houses at Valparaiso have reopened their doors.

BRIEF NEWS BY CABLE.

PARIS—The report published in the United States that an attempt was made to derail President Loubet's train near Montereau is untrue.

MANILA—The government has suppressed two seditious plays, one in Manila and one at Batangas, capital of the province of that name.

MANILA—The health board is preparing to inoculate the Chinese colony of Manila with bubonic serum in order to prevent a spread of the plague. It is estimated that there are 50,000 Chinese residents here.

MANILA—Benito Legarda, a Filipino member of the Philippine commission, has donated a site in Manila for the general hospital which is being founded under the auspices of Bishop Brent, the bishop of the Episcopal church in the Philippines.

LONDON—An important admiralty experiment of storing coal under water was commenced at Portsmouth. All the naval stations report that stores of coal, where exposed to the atmosphere, deteriorate. Some 20 tons of Welsh coal have been submerged, inclosed in wooden cases, and will be raised a year hence, when their steam raising capacity will be tested.

LARGE CROWD BID AT CAPITOL SALE

WASHINGTON BUST $1.25

Refrigerator That Cost $600 Goes for $30—Couch of Leather Brings Same Price—Two Auctioneers Kept Busy.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
HARRISBURG, PA., May 14.

Spirited bidding marked the biennial sale of the state capitol furnishings today at Kelker street hall. A crowd of large proportions was in attendance, hotelkeepers and dealers in second-hand goods being conspicuous.

Following the sale of a large quantity of window shades, the draperies from the senate and house of representatives were sold. Four pairs of dark brown velour curtains brought $5 per pair and $7 50 was the price paid for the green velvet canopy which sheltered the august presence of Speaker Walton during the recent session. The highest price in this line was $14 75 paid for some green velour from the hall of the house.

A large refrigerator which stood in the office of the superintendent of public grounds and buildings went for $45. It was lined with tiling and originally cost $600.

Desks seemed to be the most sought for. A bird's-eye maple writing desk, the only one of its kind, sold for $4 75. Three oak desks, used by clerks in the house, brought $2 50, $5 and $8 75. Four large office tables ranged in price from $2 50 to $7 50 each. One double desk of solid mahogany from the senate chamber was bid up to $15.

An Edison mimeograph brought $8. A leather-covered sofa from the senate chamber brought $30, and a chair upholstered in velour, from the ante-room, $3 75. What the auctioneer said was a director's table, but would look more at home in a kitchen, brought $1 25. An ebony hat rack sold for $8 75, and a solid walnut one for $4 25. A telephone booth brought $10 75.

Patriotism seemed to be on the ebb, for a plaster bust of George Washington brought $1 25. The two auctioneers continued to relieve each other at frequent intervals during the day and the selling went on vigorously.

MORE COKE THAN NEEDED.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., May 14.—(Special.)—The Courier will say tomorrow:

The coke trade of the Connellsville region held its own last week. Most plants throughout both the Connellsville and the Lower Connellsville regions made a full run of six days, and the supply of cars was fairly good, in fact, it was better than it has been for months, with the exception of the previous week, when the year's record was broken. The Frick plants, with the exception of about half a dozen, laid off one day. The reason chiefly was that they did not need the coke. If the Frick Company had a desire to sell their product in the open market they could easily do it, but they announced before the first of the year they would not be in the market as sellers of coke from the Connellsville region after the first of January, 1903. Some of the small operators laid off one day last week, but in a majority of instances six-day runs were reported.

There is some complaint from consuming centers again about the quality of the Connellsville coke. The fact of the matter is the consumers have been duped by some of the jobbers, who sold grades of coke made perhaps 100 miles or so from the Connellsville region under the name of that famous fuel.

The detailed account of the operation and output of the week ending Saturday, May 9, shows a total of 222,098 ovens, of which 29,507 were active and 1,029 were idle. This was a decrease of 172 ovens compared with the report of the previous week, caused by the blowing out of 52 ovens at Alverton No. 2 at Leith, 60 at Mammoth and 20 at Redstone. Forty-eight ovens were blown out at Monastery in the Latrobe district. The estimated tonnage last week was 250,000 tons, compared with 249,000 tons the week before.

Shipments last week were 11,508 cars, distributed as follows: To Pittsburgh and river tipples, 4,126 cars; points west of Pittsburgh, 5,758 cars; points east of Connellsville, 1,810 cars. Compared with the shipments of the previous week this was a decrease of 8 cars.

In the Lower Connellsville region there are 4,449 ovens, of which 4,380 are active and 216 idle. This shows no change from the list of the previous week. The estimated tonnage was 53,109 tons. Shipments were 1,802 cars, compared with 1,975 cars the week before.

SOME EPISCOPAL OFFICERS.

Bradford Was Decided on as the Meeting Place for Next Year.

The election of officers for the standing committee and the ecclesiastical court was the most important work transacted by the convention of the Pittsburgh diocese of he Protestant Episcopal church at the second day's meeting yesterday in St. Peter's church. The convention adjourned at noon. The election resulted as follows:

Standing committee—The Revs. A. W. Arundel, D. D., Laurens McClure, D. D., R. J. Cosier, D. D., L. F. Cole, and Amos Bannister.

Ecclesiastical court—The Revs. F. S. Spalding, J. H. McCandless, A. P. Kieffer, Dr. L. McClure and J. J. Y. Taylor, ex-Attorney General of Pennsylvania J. P. Elkin, W. J. Diehl, H. S. Paul, A. J. Greenfield, H. D. W. English and Edwin Logan.

Reports were submitted from the committee on the state of the church and the Sunday schools. Titusville was agreed upon as the next meeting place, the second Wednesday in May, 1904. The Rev. Fred Gardiner, head master of the Boys' Preparatory school at Lancaster, was present and made a report. He stated that the school is in flourishing condition.

To Meet at Charleston.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., May 14.—(Special.)—The annual conclave of the grand commandery of Knights Templar adjourned today to meet next year at Charleston. Over 100 knights were initiated into Osoris temple of Shriners tonight, and a banquet ended the meeting.

ANOTHER SQUEEZE BY BEEF COMBINE

FAT CATTLE ARE PLENTY

Trust Will Add More Millions to Its Revenues in Spite of Absence of Excuse or Necessity. Retailers Must Follow.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
NEW YORK, May 14.

The beef trust will repeat its tactics of last summer by again forcing up the price of meats. In the face of a dull market and the biggest run of cattle in 11 years, all the branch houses of the western packers, simultaneously and with every indication of pre-arrangement, this week advanced all their prices. This means an extra squeeze for the retailer, who is forced to recuperate his losses by an unnecessary advance in prices to the consumer.

Three weeks ago this same extortion was attempted by the trust, bringing upon it the wrath of the secretary of agriculture, who condemned the unwarranted and unlawful advance. At that time it was proved by the packers' own journals that unreasonableness and greed was shown by the beef trust in advancing prices. This was immediately followed by a relaxation and reduction in prices and by the same method and same newspapers it is again shown that there is no need of this universal advance at the present time.

The last weekly publication of the Live Stock Reporter of Chicago not only proves this, but also that the packers, while universally and uniformly advancing prices to the retailers, resort at the same time to the old familiar tricks of bearing down and squeezing the live stock. This journal in summarizing the actual situation concludes by saying:

"Monday's run of 29,306 indicates a liberal supply, the bulk of which will go for export, coming in direct competition with states cattle and there are probably 75,000 cattle being fed at distilleries, which will be marketed between May 15 and July 15."

MINERS ARE INDIGNANT.

Declare They Will Remember Governor's Veto of Their Bills.

WILKESBARRE, PA., May 14.—(Special.)—The mine workers today, upon reading the veto of their mining bills by Gov. Pennypacker, expressed their disappointment and indignation in no unmeasured terms. Their leaders say that the mine workers will remember the governor's action.

President Nichols says that he sees nothing to be done except to live up to the agreement with the operators for three years, and then to make laws for themselves by refusing to work more than eight hours and by demanding a fixed weight for a ton of coal.

WOMEN OF THIS COUNTY HONORED

WORK IS PROGRESSING

Twentieth Annual Convention Will Pass Into History After Today—Reception This Afternoon and Evening to Delegates.

Three Allegheny county women were honored by the Women's General Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church of America by being elected to important offices in that body at the third day's session yesterday in the First United Presbyterian church, Allegheny. Miss Eliza McHendry of Bellevue, a member of the First church, was elected president; Mrs. John McNaugher of Allegheny, vice president, and Miss Elizabeth J. Sloan, treasurer.

The nominations and the election took place in the morning and the election committee reported in the afternoon the successful candidates elected by substantial majorities, the exact vote being withheld. The other officers elected are: First vice president, Mrs. Charles Crowe, Philadelphia; secretary, Mrs. Mary W. Porter, Latrobe; members of women's board, Mrs. Annie R. Herron, Mrs. R. S. Smith, Mrs. H. C. Campbell, Mrs. Mary C. Porter, Miss Elizabeth Coughey. The members of the magazine committee were elected as follows: Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson, Mrs. S. S. Wilson, Mrs. E. P. Carruthers, Mrs. S. M. Kelso and Mrs. H. C. Dean.

WORK IS PROGRESSING.

The work of the convention is progressing rapidly and an adjournment is looked for this morning, according to schedule. There will be receptions this afternoon and evening. The only important work left is the selection of the next place of meeting. This will probably be done this morning.

At yesterday morning's session Miss Fannie C. Martin of Zafarwal, India, presided and several reports were made. Mrs. F. P. Donaldson read the report of the Women's association, stating that 52 inmates were in the hospital and that 98 had been cared for. In the Home for Orphan Children there were 89, while 2,000 had been cared for by the institution. In the Home for Aged $1,000 was required for a new wing, and that this had been sent by a friend of the home, while $7,000 had been received for the Memorial hospital. With regard to the new hospital at Wilkinsburg it was stated that $5,000 in cash, or $300 a year would endow a bed, while $7,000 in cash, or $450 a year would endow a memorial room.

SOCIETIES HAVE INCREASED.

Mrs. R. S. Smith in her report on Home for Missionaries' Children stated that there were five in the home, which could care for 10. The receipts for the year were $1,450 53, while the disbursements were $951 90. Mrs. N. Wylie Stevenson read the report on the Junior Missionary society, which showed there were 238 societies with a membership of 8,175, an increase of 944. The special work committee's report showed that attention was being given to the building of a girls' school at Luxnar, Egypt. During the year $2,124 had been [illegible] for this purpose, making a total of $[illegible].

The afternoon session [illegible] with an informal conference of [illegible] workers presided over by [illegible] A. Wilson. This was followed with [illegible] and prayer service conducted [illegible] Mrs. J. J. Henderson of Greenwich [illegible]. An anniversary hour service [illegible] participated in by the ex-presidents and secretaries of the society. Miss [illegible] Turner, M. D., of Youngstown, [illegible] conducted a round table conference [illegible] B. Cotton, superintendent of the [illegible] Presbyterian mission farm, at [illegible], Ala., made an address on "[illegible] of the South."

JUNIOR MISSIONARY [illegible]

The principal event of the afternoon session was the Junior rally, in which about 300 members of the [illegible]s of the Allegheny and Monongahela [illegible] societies took part. Mrs. [illegible] Russell of Pittsburgh conducted the [illegible]y. The principal feature of the [illegible] was an exercise in imitation of the [illegible]ng of the Junior missionary ship [illegible] on the river of Nile, in Egypt.

A miniature ship was [illegible] into the church and it was manned as follows: Captain, Clarence J. Wil[illegible] pilot, Roy Wilkins; sailors, [illegible] Bartz, James Carothers, Thomas [illegible]man, Harry Johnston, Harold St[illegible]xander Scott and Robert Rus[illegible] midshipmen, Robert Campbell [illegible]arothers and William Grundist[illegible] of the officers and the crew wore [illegible] costumes. Capt. Williamson [illegible] an address in which he explained [illegible] various intricacies of a sailing craft [illegible] the object of the mission ship.

The session closed with a [illegible] conference, presided over by Miss [illegible] Warnock of College Corner, O. [illegible]sses were made by Mrs. Anna C. [illegible]mus of Xenia, O.; Mrs. Stewart Mac[illegible] New Brighton; Mrs. J. J. Henderson [illegible] Miss Lulu Renwick of South Om[illegible]ath.; Miss Ira B. Lar[illegible] and Miss [illegible]garet Campbell.

ADDRESS BY DR. WA[illegible]

The evening session opened with an informal conference by members of the Woman's Magazine committee, [illegible] followed the evening prayer and [illegible]. The theme was entitled "[illegible] of Christ." Mrs. O. H. Middlet[illegible]ton, Pa., presided. Mrs. J. H. G[illegible] of Portland, Oregon, made an ad[illegible] on "Home Missions," and the Rev. [illegible] Watson of Philadelphia, corresponding secretary of the foreign board of the United Presbyterian church, spoke on "The Contributions of Foreign Missions to the Life of the Home Church."

The convention opens at 9 o'clock this morning. Miss McHendry, the new president, will occupy the chair. A few minutes' of worship, the minutes will be read and the unfinished business taken up. From 2 to 4 o'clock the delegates will be guests of the orphans' home and Memorial hospital, will receive the delegates at their building, Monterey and West Jefferson streets, Allegheny. From 5 to 9 o'clock the managers of the Home for the Aged will receive the delegates and their friends at their building, Trenton and Penn avenues, Wilkinsburg.

M. P. REPORTS READY.

Statements Arranged to Be Submitted Wednesday at Morgantown.

The executive committee of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Protestant church met yesterday afternoon in the Methodist Protestant building in Fifth avenue to complete reports to be made to the executive board, which meets in Morgantown, W. Va., next Wednesday. Delegates will be present from all branches of the society between Kansas and New York.

The Rev. Mrs. S. K. Spar of Allegheny will present the corresponding secretary's report, Mrs. V. S. Murray of Pittsburgh will give the report of the executive committee, and Mrs. Susan E. Anderson of Pittsburgh will submit the treasurer's report, which will show that $8,913.56 has been received and that there is $2,000 in the treasury. The board meets in the Methodist Protestant church at Morgantown, the Rev. G. W. Morris pastor.

PLENTY OF WORK FOR THE LEAGUE

TRAFFIC IS INCREASING

The running of summer cars has not affected the rapid growth of the Strap-Hangers' league. The bumper-rider, who rode home during the winter by hanging on to the handrail of overcrowded cars is now found on the running board. A few more cars are being operated than during the winter months, but the usual increase of traffic which warm weather brings has served to increase rather than diminish the throng of passengers who are unable to secure seats.

Conditions are little better than in the winter, except that fine weather has contributed to lighten the woes of the patrons. The traction company has done little. The same old cars rumble along the Second avenue line. No improvements have been offered on the South Side division. The work which the Strap-Hangers have undertaken offers a wonderful field for prompt and aggressive action.

The buttons of the league are worn by more than 2,000 people, and there is scarcely a car on any line in the two cities that a wearer of the quaint little button does not appear in the crowd. The demand for the badges threatens to exhause the supply.

Big Loss by Forest Fire.

DUBOIS, PA., May 14.—(Special.)—Destructive forest fires are prevailing in the southern end of this county. At Curry Run, where Fred Dyer, Col. E. A. Irwin, James Mitchell and others have large lumber operations, big losses have been caused. It is estimated that 8,000,000 feet of timber has been rendered worthless.

Miss McKnight Read Paper.

OIL CITY, PA., May 14.—The session of the Northwestern Federation of Pennsylvania Women's clubs convened here today. Following an address of welcome by Mrs. P. M. Speer of this city and a response by Mrs. A. W. McCoy of Meadville, a paper on "Responsibility" was read by Miss Kate C. McKnight of Allegheny.

HEAD OF ORDER HERE.

Bishop Le Roy, Superior General of Holy Ghost Fathers, Visiting This City.

The Rt. Rev. Alexander Louis Victor Anna Le Roy, bishop of Alinda and superior general of the Order of the Fathers of the Holy Ghost, is a guest at the Pittsburg College of the Holy Ghost in Bluff street. Bishop Le Roy is visiting the houses of the order in the United Saates.

Bishop Le Roy will make a careful study of the different methods used in the education and elevation of the colored race in the United States and use them for the advancement of the many African missions which over 300 members of his order have in charge. Bishop Le Roy spent many years among the African negro missions and is the author of several works, among which "Across Zanzibar" and "To the Kilmandjro" are the best known.

Tried to Commit Suicide.

Mrs. Bertha Wagner of No. 918 Madison avenue, Allegheny, last night attempted to commit suicide. She was found by her husband shortly after 9 o'clock in her room in an unconscious condition. She had swallowed an ounce of laudanum. It is said she quarreled with her husband last night. The hospital physicians say she will probably recover.

INCORPORATION IS DANGEROUS

Prof. Wambaugh Fears Labor Unions and Capitalists May Then Combine.

PUBLIC COMMON PREY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, May 14.—The general meeting of 1903 of the American Social Science association began here today. The program covers a session Saturday morning and the discussions scheduled are in the departments of "Social Economy" today, of "Health" and of "Jurisprudence" tomorrow, and of "Education and Art" Saturday.

George M. Anderson spoke today on "Some Responsibilities of Capitalistic Organization." He said in part:

"It is one of the present responsibilities of capitalistic organization to undo the evil it has wrought—to teach the voters that the powers of the ballot box and of the legislative hall are to be held and exercised as a sacred trust for the benefit of the community as a whole. If capital fails to recognize the necessity of just laws, respected and obeyed, it may expect little mercy at the hands of its adversaries when they discover their real power. If Socialism comes, the main responsibility will rest upon the capitalistic organizations."

Prof. Eugene Wambaugh of the Harvard law school discussed trades union incorporation. He held that trades unions are legally responsible for committing a wrong, though unincorporated, that it would not be easy to prove connection between perpetrators of wrong and the union, if incorporated, and that incorporation involved the danger that incorporated trades unions would combine with capitalists in disregard of the interests of the public. "In short," he said, "the incorporation of trades unions, though attended with a few conveniences, is unnecessary and dangerous."

President Eliot summarized the question of the incorporation of the trades unions in the statement that if they wanted it there seemed to be no objection, and if they did not want it there was no objection. There was, however, an objection to the imposition of a money penalty and this whole talk of incorporating trades unions was fairly attributal to a desire to get at them and impose a fine or collect damages.

GLASSPORT'S GROWTH HAS BEEN REMARKABLE

Still Further Development Is in Sight for Prosperous Up-River Town.

The growth of Glassport in industrial importance as well as in population, and all that goes to make a town attractive to investors and residents, has been one of the most marked features in the rapid development of Western Pennsylvania in the past few years.

Glassport has assumed great proportions in a very short period, and over $3,000,000 is now being expended in the extensive industries already located. It has now 2,500 people and 714 houses, and 250 more are expected to be under way within 60 days. It has splendid level, paved and sewered streets, cement sidewalks, gas and water piped through the city, excellent street car and telephone service, churches of five different denominations, one large school house and another in course of erection, four hotels, a national bank and every modern city convenience and improvement. In the last year property has increased in value fully 50 per cent, and there is every reason to believe that the increase will be fully 100 per cent within another 12 months. It is one of the logical home sites for the 20,000 skilled workmen employed in the great mills at McKeesport, and many of them have taken advantage of this fact to purchase homes.

The 2,500 McKeesport people now living in the buildings included in the site for the National tube works company's new projected $10,000,000 tube mills must vacate and find dwelling places within 60 days. Glassport is the most available place for these 350 families, where steady work at good wages is guaranteed by the numerous mills and industries.

United States Glass Co.	500,000	300	14,000
Pittsburgh Steel Foundry	1,000,000	500	25,000
Pittsburgh Steel Co.	500,000	600	35,000
Sevarad Nut & Bolt Works	200,000	350	32,000
Pittsburgh Gas & Coke Co.	2,000,000	250	12,000
	$5,200,000	3800	$178,000

In addition to this the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad is establishing terminal yards, shops and roundhouses for their Monongahela and Youghiogheny branches.

The advantages of Glassport real estate for investment under these conditions are conspicuous, and the Glassport Land Company is now offering for sale a new plan of lots, 25 and 30 feet by 120 feet, which are selling for $100 and upwards on very easy payments, with only 5 per cent down for the first payment. Some of the streets in the new plan are now being paved and sewered, thrifty trees are growing and natural gas and city water will be furnished. Car fare is allowed to every purchaser of a lot residing within 100 miles of Pittsburgh. No lot in the new addition will be sold until Saturday, May 16. Salesmen will be on the ground daily, and full information can be had of the Glassport Land Company, Monongahela and Sixth streets, Glassport, or at the Real Estate Trust Company, No. 311 Fourth avenue. Write for illustrated literature, plan, etc.

STEEL AND WIRE PLANTS VISITED BY OFFICERS

A number of the plants of the American Steel and Wire Company in this city and vicinity were inspected yesterday by a party of 10 of the principal officials, headed by President W. B. Palmer. The party will remain in Pittsburgh today and leave for Chicago probably tomorrow morning. The trip is the regular semi-annual affair, similar to those that have been made by the officials of the National Tube and other constituent companies in the United States Steel Corporation.

IDA GORDON ASKS $25,000 DAMAGES

LONDICK IS ACQUITTED

Attorney John S. Robb yesterday filed a statement in a $25,000 damage suit of Ida Gordon against Adolph Rosen, a musician, in common pleas court No. 3. The suit is based upon an alleged breach of promise to marry.

It is set forth that in December, 1898, Rosen agreed to marry Miss Gordon. At the time, it is stated, he was acquiring a musical education in Chicago, and upon the strength of the promise of marriage, Miss Gordon says, she made over to him large sums of money from time to time for the purpose of assisting him in acquiring a musical education. It is further stated that the money, amounting to $1,000 and upward, had been earned by the plaintiff at her trade.

It is set forth that Rosen completed his musical education on June 25, 1902, and that it was agreed they would be married in August, 1902. It is alleged Rosen refused to marry the plaintiff, although she has frequently requested him to do so, and consequently she has been injured to the amount claimed.

In the case of Lizzie Szokal against John Szisjak the plaintiff was awarded $250 for breach of promise to marry.

In criminal court the jury in the case of Frank Londick, charged with involuntary manslaughter for the death of William Gerber, a 3-year-old-boy, acquitted the defendant but placed the costs on him.

George B. White, who has been on trial for several days in the United States district court, charged with numerous banking irregularities, was yesterday convicted of 24 counts, which charge him with aiding and abetting in the making of false entries in reports to the comptroller of the currency.

The June grand jury approved the plans and petition of the proposed soldiers and sailors' monument, but on account of the act of April, 1903, it will be necessary for the matter to be approved by the June grand jury before the county commissioners will be authorized in taking any steps toward the erection of the memorial. The petition and plans have been acted upon favorably by the December and March grand juries.

Grand Jury Returns.

True bills—Larceny, J. A. Worster, Peter Perpic, Andy Kossaul, William Barsel; misdemeanor, Emil Sontag, John Christy, Gregory Cass; entering a building with intent to commit a felony: Peter Nerpic, false pretenses, E. Jay Morris.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

The will of the late Dr. Thomas McCann of this city was filed. The will was made June 20, 1899, and W. S. Thomas is made executor. The entire estate, the value of which is not estimated, is bequeathed to the decedent's widow, Ella Warden McCann.

A statement was filed in the suit of Emmet Thompson, Jr., against Frank C. Smith of the Hotel Victoria, in which $9,000 damages is asked for the alleged violation of the agreement. Thompson says Smith agreed to allow him possession of half of the lease and st. k of the hotel for $22,500, but that he refused to accept the terms. It is alleged the lease is worth $100,000 and that the earnings of the hotel are $5,000 a month.

NO CORNELL SHORT TERM.

President Schurman Speaks at Banquet Against Lessening Time to Cut Degree.

"We do not intend to lower our standards for the A.B. degree. It has been a four years' course since the birth of the republic, and Cornell will keep it there," declared President J. G. Schurman of Cornell university to 150 guests who gathered at the banquet board at the Hotel Schenley last night. Continuing he said: "Cornell is democratic and will remain democratic. She is a university for the masses and the doors of her professional schools will not be shut to all but the sons of the privileged classes. Any university that lowers the standard of the A.B. degree and shuts the doors of her professional schools to all but those who have had the privilege of a college training breaks with the policy of this republic and the English-speaking people."

Dr. Schurman also spoke of the growth of Cornell. George B. Dusinberre, '86, was toastmaster. Other responses to toasts were L. A. Osborne, '91, "The Engineer;" Harry L. Taylor, '88, one of Cornell's greatest athletes, "The Athletic Alumni," and Francis W. H. Clay, '93, "The Cornell Idea."

ENTERPRISE STRUCK A ROCK.

The steamer Enterprise, owned by the river combine, sank in the Ohio river late Wednesday night. She was returning with 10 boats and four barges and struck a boulder in the middle of the river, near Phillise Island. There are about two feet of water on her guard rail and about six feet of water in the river where she lies. The steamer Leader and a pumping outfit were sent to her assistance yesterday afternoon. The hole in her hull is six feet long and about six inches wide. The Enterprise is a steel boat and will be easily pumped out. The loss is comparatively light, about $300. Lew Blair is her captain. The Enterprise was attempting to get into the harbor, but the water in the Ohio was too low, and it is still falling.

ARRIVAL.

Bessie Smith, Craft, Parkersburg.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 8.4 feet, and the river was falling.

The Francis J. Torrance will be inspected tomorrow.

The boilers of the steamer Return were inspected yesterday.

The Edgar Cherry was the Morgantown packet yesterday.

The Bessie Smith was the only downriver packet yesterday. She continues to make trips, being much lighter than the other packets.

The hearings in the matter of alleged violations of the marine laws by several engineers, charged with carrying excessive steam, were continued yesterday morning before Capts. Atkinson and Williams. The testimony was not all taken, and it will be continued this morning. Francis A. Banner of the Carbon is the defendant in the hearing this morning. George B. Alexander was also charged with the same offense, but he has left the city. In all these cases an emphatic denial is given by the defendants.

The Last Washington (D. C.) Excursion for 1903.

Thursday, May 21, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will run the last of the season's special excursions to Washington, the national capital, to leave Union station at 8 a. m., with through coaches and Pullman parlor cars. Through sleeping cars on the 9 and 10 p. m. trains. Round trip rate $8. Tickets good 10 days, and good to stop off at Baltimore.

GROUND BROKEN FOR SWISSVALE CHURCH

New United Presbyterian Congregation to Occupy Its Edifice by October.

There is great activity in church circles in Swissvale. Ground was broken yesterday for the new United Presbyterian church to be located on the corner of Monongahela street and Schley avenue. The site was donated to the church by James Dempson, and is part of the old Dempson estate. It is estimated that the church when complete will cost $2,000. It will have a seating capacity of 450.

The church will be of compressed gray brick with stone trimmings. The main auditorium will be circular. In the rear will be the Sabbath school room. This will have a balcony and divisions for classes. There will also be a finished basement with kitchen, ladies' parlors and all modern conveniences. The larger portion of the money is already subscribed and it is expected that the new building will be occupied by October 1. The elders are: W. M. Cunningham, M. D., James L. McKnight, M. D., and S. H. Kasley; the trustees, H. M. Morrow, M. D., I. H. Divin, I. C. Kasley and Rober Agnew.

Pittsburgher Married in New York.

NEW YORK, May 14.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Grace Messiter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Platt Messiter, to Mr. Fletcher Haisted Sillick of Pittsburgh took place this afternoon in Grace Methodist church, Brooklyn. The bride was attended by her sister. The best man was Mr. Harris Ashton Dunn.

Two Judges Injured.

SCRANTON, PA., May 14.—Judge M. F. Sande of this city had his leg broken and Judge P. M. Dunn of Schuylkill county was painfully cut and bruised by being thrown from a carriage in a runaway on the boulevard this evening. Their team shied at a windmill and dashed through a barbed wire fence.

A HEAVY TONE IN WALL STREET

Net Changes Not Large but Generally Showed Declines—Foreign Trade Figures Less Favorable. Local Securities Quiet.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The tone of the eastern stock market yesterday, more than the net changes in prices, was discouraging to traders who have been looking for a recovery in values. The character of the stocks which led the decline also exerted a greater influence than the actual loss. London quotations were slightly lower, and in the initial trading on this side slight concessions occurred. On the theory that a rally was due, traders were disposed to buy for a turn, but every advance met with plenty of selling orders, and the speculation relapsed into dullness. It was not until shortly after noon, when the announcement was made of the engagement of $1,000,000 gold to be shipped to Argentine on an order from London that the stock market turned really weak. Heavy selling in Rock Island continued, and the price declined to 42¼, the lowest on this movement. The weakness in St. Paul, however, was the most conspicuous feature. The stock had opened at 160½ and advanced to 161, but it later sagged steadily to 158¾, and closed at that figure. At the same time Missouri Pacific held comparatively firm, which led to the conclusion that traders had followed the suggestion contained in a statement issued by a leading commission house that a profitable "switch" would be to sell St. Paul and buy Missouri Pacific. Another thing that gave some significance to the movement in the eyes of professional traders is that the fluctuations in St. Paul are closely watched to discover therein the attitude of Standard Oil interests in the market. The continued heaviness in Pennsylvania was associated to liquidation of stock subscription rights. The first payment on these subscriptions, which falls due next month, calls for something like $45,000,000 cash, and while the money market is easy, and this amount may not have any effect, it is evident that a considerable proportion of stockholders are not in the position or mood to pay for their full allotment, and are, therefore, selling out their rights. Pennsylvania stock, however, has now had a decline from the high point of the year of about 29 per cent. For three months pressure on the stock has been continuous, and it was intensified by the report of net earnings for March. There is every reason to believe that the net earnings for April will make a very fine showing, and this, together with the relatively low price of the stock, is likely to attract investment buying. In the latter part of the afternoon there was some selling of the grangers on crop reports, and Atchison lost a point. With the exception of Colorado Fuel and Iron, the industrial list was also heavy during the greater part of the day, Amalgamated Copper being affected by the decline in the metal in the London market, and the steel stocks by the discussion relating to the position of the market for pig iron and some other descriptions of metal. The close was at or near the lowest prices. The total transactions were only 402,000 shares.

The Bank of England rate of discount remained unchanged at 4 per cent. This caused some disappointment abroad, but the weekly statement of the bank justified the governors in maintaining the relatively high rate. There was an expansion in loans of no less than $94,500,000, which caused a corresponding increase in deposits of more than $100,000,000. The reserve to liability, which last week was 52.17 per cent, the highest of the year, dropped to 37.35 per cent, the lowest of the year. These changes were largely caused by the preparations made in connection with subscriptions to the Transvaal loan, and next week or shortly thereafter there should be a return to normal conditions. The weekly statement of the Bank of France showed a decrease of $3,800,000 in bills discounted and a loss of about $1,675,000 in gold. London financial writers justify the maintenance of the high Bank of England rate by the fact that owing to smaller exports and larger imports of merchandise, the balance of trade against England is unprecedented. The only way the London market can escape gold exports is by selling securities to other countries, or maintaining a market rate for money that will attract the surplus funds of other markets. Yesterday there was a slight decline in the new Transvaal loan due to profit-taking sales by subscribers for speculation.

The detailed figures of our own foreign trade for April were less favorable, so far as the balance is concerned, than for any month so far this year. The value of our exports of merchandise was $160,542,636, an increase compared with the same month last year of only $371,662, and a decrease compared with March of $22,400,000. More than half this latter decrease was due to the falling off in exports of cotton. The imports for April amounted to $87,715,198, an increase of $11,892,012, compared with April, 1902. The excess of merchandise exports over imports was $21,527,458, a decrease of more than $11,500,000, and the smallest balance for any month this year. For the ten months of the fiscal year there has been an increase of more than $110,000,000 in imports and an increase of less than $33,500,000 in exports, while the balance of trade shows a decrease of more than $76,700,000. The high price of cotton, which made another record yesterday, and the falling off in the exports of breadstuffs which may naturally be expected during the remaining period of the fiscal year, will probably still further reduce the trade balance for May and June, although a decrease in imports of merchandise would offset the effects of reduced shipments of cotton and breadstuffs.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

There was a falling off in business and a further slight shrinkage in values on the local stock exchange yesterday. The liquidation by disappointed speculative holders of Westinghouse Electric continued and the price dropped to 102¾, recovering to 103 at the close. The only other active stock was Pittsburgh Coal common, which sold within the narrow range of 29½@29½, closing at a net decline of ⅛. The preferred closed a shade firmer at 88¼. River Coal common was heavy, declining to 10¼, and the preferred was also a fraction lower at 39¾, but the dealings in both were light. There was a decided falling off in business in the steel stocks, United States Steel common was unchanged at 34@34¼, and there were no transactions in the preferred. There was nothing doing in Crucible Steel common, which was quoted at 17½@18, and only 226 shares of the preferred changed hands at 82½@82½, closing at a net loss of ¼. A small lot of Philadelphia Company preferred sold at 48, and the common was nominally unchanged at 44½@44¾. Ohio Fuel Supply was quoted at 39¾. With but two exceptions, bank and trust company shares closed at net declines. A small lot of Mortgage Banking sold at 190, a record price and an advance of 5 per cent. Cosmopolitan National bank sold at 110, an advance of 1 per cent. Iron City Trust reacted 6 points to 160. North American Savings closed 5 points off at 135 ex-rights, and Farmers Deposit National bank sold at 1,340, a decline of $35 a share from the last previous sale. Two shares Colonial Trust sold at 620, a decline of 10 per cent. Real Estate Trust and Safe Deposit were slightly lower. The market closed very dull.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Liquidation of speculative holdings of Westinghouse Electric depressed the price to 102¾, and the stock closed offered at 103. The feeling in the street is that the price will decline to 100 but that there is likely to be some investment buying around that figure.

American Window Glass was nominally quoted at 54 asked for the common and 86 asked for the preferred. There is very little of the common stock outstanding, it having been exchanged for Consolidated Window Glass. There were no quotations on the latter. The report sent out from Gas City, Ind., alleging that the new glass-blowing machine was a failure, was promptly denied by officials of the company in this city.

The directors of the National Fire Proofing Company yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the common stock, payable May 26. The stock sold at 26¾, and at this price yields about 11¾ per cent. The preferred stock sold at 96, and at this price yields about 9¼ per cent. The cause of the weakness is said to be the labor troubles in the various building trades which has stopped work in large districts. At the same time the impending stock issue may have something to do with the heaviness of the market.

There were no sales yesterday on the local board of Crucible Steel common or United States Steel preferred, and prices remained unchanged. The Iron Age, in its current issue, states that negotiations are still pending for the acquisition of the Colonial Steel Company by the Crucible Steel Company.

The quick reaction of 6 points in Iron City Trust, which sold down to 160, suggested an effort to check any speculative stock based upon rumors of mergers or other combinations.

American Trust was nominally quoted at 340 bid, but no stock changed hands. Only 2 shares Colonial Trust sold all day. Official announcement of the terms of the impending merger is discouraging to speculators in these stocks.

There were sales of Pittsburgh Oil and Gas at $1.34@$2, an advance, and Manufacturers Light and Heat new stock at 41¼, a decline. The latter closed at 41 bid.

It is said that two or three New York stock exchange memberships are offering for sale at $850,000, and there are no bids. The last sale was at $81,000. Since the occupancy of the new home there has been a steady falling off in business, which, recalling the fact that for a year following the dedication of the Chicago board of trade building speculation became so dull that, as a member expressed it, brokers could not make their salt out of commission business.

United States Steel bond conversion rights were yesterday quoted at 5 cents. The privilege of conversion expires today.

Tomorrow's New York bank statement is expected to show a loss in cash, the sub-treasury having gained nearly $2,000,000 from the banks so far this week.

London was a buyer of stocks on balance to the extent of about 15,000 shares. The foreign purchases exempt, however, to be mainly to cover shorts.

Wall street had a report that the treasurer of the United States is going to anticipate refunding $19,000,000 government 5's next September. This move will bring that much new money into the market.

The American Railways Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable June 15.

The American Express Company has declared the regular semi-annual dividend of $3 and an extra dividend of $1.

The thing which Wall street fears the most is that some of the large investors who have been supporting the market will become disgusted and throw over speculative holdings with the idea of establishing a new low level, which may attract the public.

A Wall street house wired the following suggestion to its local correspondents: "We desire to call attention to the desirability of exchanging St. Paul common stock through the market for Missouri Pacific. St. Paul pays 7 per cent and at 160 yields 4.37. Missouri Pacific pays 5 per cent and at 112 yields 4.46. One hundred shares St. Paul at 160 requires $16,000—100 shares Missouri Pacific at 112 would cost $11,200. The difference, $4,800. The annual return on 100 St. Paul amounts to $700 per year, while at the present rate on Missouri Pacific 138 shares of that stock would return $700, a net yield of 4.44, and there are substantial reasons for believing that the rate may be advanced to 6 per cent in July, in which case the yield would be about 5.55 per cent. The next dividend on St. Paul will not be paid until October 23, while Missouri Pacific makes another distribution about July 20, thereby a gain of three months in net income. It is well known that the Standard Oil party is largely interested in Missouri Pacific, and it is suspected that their holdings of St. Paul have been materially decreased."

It is said that the common stock of the Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron Company will be put upon a 6 per cent dividend basis in July. The company is earning at the rate of about 18 per cent upon the $7,500,000 of common stock. There has been a distribution of profits among the holders of the common stock since the formation of the company in August, 1899, although the common stock has sold as high as $1. Since the organization of the company $2,000,000 has been expended on plants out earnings of $2,500,000, which has never been capitalized. It has increased the bonded debt within $1,250,000 net. It requires but $100,000 to meet six months' bond interest and $234,000 for the preferred stock dividend requirements.

On July 14 the Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company stockholders will vote upon a proposition to increase its capital from $250,000 to $1,000,000.

Union Natural Gas sold at 101.

"It is the prevailing belief in New York that the withdrawal of the trust companies from the clearing house with respect to the enactment of a law at the next state session requiring of the trust companies the same rate of reserve which is now required of the state banks. The enactment of a state law, or even the enactment of the law, two years ago, for the taxation of trust companies would, it is probable, be sufficient to thwart the passage of the cash reserve law. The officers of the trust companies, however, are well aware of this danger, but that fact does not change their determination to secure relief from the clearing house. The enactment of a state law requiring that they, at least put all trust companies on a level. All of them would be required to keep the same rate of reserve. Those which have not now special advantage over the others, whereas now many of the trust companies, both old and new, have a clear through the clearing house and are, therefore, compelled by the rules to keep the cash reserves demanded by that institution. It is manifest that if the trust companies withdraw from the clearing house remained with it, and established a clearing house regulated by it, they would be at a disadvantage to those companies which were outside. At a time when the gold movements of the foreign exchange situation involve exports of gold, it is important to note that the requirements of the trust company reserves are so greatly reduced."—Wall Street Journal.

BEAVER COUNTY WELLS SOLD TO A NEW YORKER

Oil wells on a farm that formerly belonged to Senator M. S. Quay, located near Beaver Falls, were sold yesterday by Frank Cox of the Royal Realty Company for Ferguson & Bros. of Beaver Falls, to a prominent New York banker for $100,000. The production is between 80 and 100 barrels a day. The flat quotation for oil production is $1,000 a barrel, so the price secured is somewhat better than the average rate.

South of Knoxville, Jefferson county, O., the Safe Oil Company has drilled in its test on the J. L. Cable farm and it is producing 150 barrels a day.

Five hundred feet north of this well Freudinberger & Sinclair have probably ruined their No. 7 on the John Cooper farm. They had put in a 160-quart shot and while swabbing out caused it to explode and threw the casing out and let the tools drop in the hole. The well was producing 150 barrels a day when they decided to give it the big shot.

On Wolf creek, Washington county, A. A. Cameron has completed No. 3 on the E. P. Palmer farm and has a duster.

Charles S. Cameron has completed No. 3 on the Jos. Lorenze farm and has a very light pumper.

The Kee-Wane-Nee Oil Company has completed its No. 8 on the Ruth A. Palmer farm and has a duster.

SEWICKLEY FARM SOLD FOR $20,500

A DOWNTOWN SALE

South Side Sale of $68,209—Bernard S. Horne Buys Squirrel Hill Home for $42,500—New Realty Companies in the Field.

Frank B. Smith, president of the Crucible Steel Company has sold to a prominent local business man a farm of 34 acres facing the east side of Blackburn road, near the Blackburn church, Sewickley Heights, for $20,500. The deal was made by Henry I. Adair and Stuart H. Robinson. The Blackburn road, which runs by the property, is a continuation of the Watson road and is the main thoroughfare to Sewickley station. For a residence site the property is one of the choicest in that vicinity, as it commands a fine view of the surrounding country and is only a short distance from the Country club grounds. Nearby are the summer homes of C. C. Scaife, Mrs. J. S. Hays, W. P. Snyder and Edward B. Aisop. The purchaser will build a handsome summer residence which he will occupy as a home.

Through W. L. Scott & Co. the property at No. 540 Seventh avenue, at the corner of Bedford avenue, has been sold for $28,000. The purchaser is Samuel Dempster, of the W. J. Gilmore Drug Company, who gets title to the lot from Annie McCourt. The property has a frontage of 20 feet in Seventh avenue and 140 feet in Bedford avenue and is improved with a three-story brick building. This makes the rate of sale $1,400 a foot for the former frontage or $14 a square foot.

GET AN ADDITION.

The D. O. Cunningham Glass Company has purchased from John Ralston and others the property at the southeast corner of South Twenty-second and Mary streets, Twenty-fifth ward, for $68,209. The lot measures 884x152 feet and now has two factory buildings on it. The plant of the company is situated at Twenty-second and Jane streets and it is understood that this purchase was made for an addition to its works.

Bernard S. Horne has bought from Joseph B. Shea a fine residence property at the southwest corner of Richland and Reynolds streets, Twenty-second ward, for $42,500. The house is a large center hall residence of 14 rooms and stands on a lot 150x200 feet. It was formerly owned by B. H. Warren and adjoins the property of Lucy C. Carnegie.

Eleanor J. Evans has purchased four properties in the Twentieth ward for $5,000, or $5,000 each. From Joseph D. Houston she secured a lot, 40x120 feet, on the south side of Baum street, near Negley avenue. Three other plots of the same size and adjoining this one in the same street, were bought from James G. Hake, Joseph H. Rugg and Joseph M. Kelly.

READY FOR BUSINESS.

The Lawyers Realty Company, which received its charter May 4, held a meeting yesterday and elected the following officers: President, Charles W. Houston; vice president, John Murphy; secretary and treasurer, Charles K. Robinson. The capital is $25,000 which has been largely over-subscribed, the shares being of a par value of $50 each. Within six months the company proposes to increase its capital to $200,000. This corporation, which was organized by some young attorneys, has among its charter members some of the best known real estate men in the city and will hold a unique place among the realty concerns of Pittsburgh in that it will deal exclusively in improved property. Its headquarters will be at No. 929 Frick building.

The Tube City Land Company is the latest corporation to enter the realty field in McKeesport. The incorporators are Edward C. Burkhart and Charles Schwen of the Keystone Realty Company; John M. Brody, Charles Runnette and John A. Martin. Yesterday the company got title to the Edmundson farm in Port Vue borough for $28,800. The purchase was made by Mr. Burkhart for 26 frame houses in the Locust Grove plan, near McKeesport, to cost $50,000.

WILL SUPPLY WATER.

The Perrysville Water Company has applied for a charter with the following incorporators: J. C. Bliy, S. M. Langdon and D. A. Reed. These men are members of the Allegheny-Bellevue Land Company which is making ready the new town site of Perrysville out Perrysville avenue, Allegheny. The company proposes to pipe water over the entire plan of over 700 acres and also to make a number of miniature lakes in the ravine that skirts the property and to build several large reservoirs.

The Consolidated Real Estate Company is preparing to have the opening sale of its Monessen lot plan on Saturday, May 23. The company has recently secured the exclusive agency for the property, which is valued at $500,000, and the sale will be one of the most interesting affairs of its kind held recently.

A number of local contractors are bidding on the building of the Metropolitan National bank at the corner of Forty-third and Butler streets which will cost at least $50,000. The architects were Gaggin & Gaggin of Syracuse, N. Y.

Architect Sidney F. Beckert has closed bids on the 16-room building of the St. Josephat school in Mission street. The building will cost $50,000.

LESSEE PAYS FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

The announcement of the 20 years' lease on the Hamilton building for $840,000, or $42,000 a year, published exclusively in yesterday's Gazette, was the general topic of discussion in realty circles yesterday. It develops that the terms of the lease, which was made by the W. H. Skivington Company, are more favorable than at first supposed. The lessee, which is a big department store from Baltimore, pays all the improvements which, it is said, will amount to about $85,000. Mr. McCann, the owner of the building, furnishes neither heat nor light and has only the city taxes and insurance on the building to pay. This gives him a gross revenue of nearly 10 per cent on his investment of $450,000. Based on this rental the prices charged for other large store buildings in the city are not exorbitant and are only broker remarked yesterday: "The stores are so anxious to get into Pittsburgh that they are the direct cause of higher rents."

The reported sale of the Howe-Brown property in Seventeenth street to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which was published in a morning paper yesterday, proves to have been incorrect. An official of the Standard Steel Company, which owns the property, said that no sale had been effected nor are there any developments in the deal which has been pending for months. It was stated that the newly organized Industrial National bank of Pittsburgh and secured the building of the Bank of Commerce at the corner of Wood street and Sixth avenue was closed at the offices of the Union Trust Company yesterday. Nothing new has developed in the deal for the property for 10 days and although it was mentioned has talked of buying the property no definite understanding has been arrived at.

BOUGHT EAST END HOUSE.

Fairmount avenue: The Elderkin-Stanton Company sold for H. H. McClintic to George B. Stephenson a modern brick house, lot 32x100 feet, on the south side of Fairmount avenue, near Penn avenue, Twentieth ward, for $8,000. The buyer will occupy as a home.

Allegheny: The City Realty Trust Company sold for Andrew Miller to a local business man No. 3032 Perrysville avenue, Tenth ward, Allegheny, for $3,500. The lot is 25x100 feet and is improved with a seven-room frame house. The same company sold for Andrew Miller to Morgan B. Hall a lot 50x105 feet in Riverview avenue, Fifteenth ward, Allegheny, for $3,000. A $7,000 house will be built on the sidte.

Forbes street: The Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company sold for J. J. Sosek and Jacob Friedman, No. 2228 Forbes street, a frame house on lot 20x100 feet, for $4,750.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Prices in drygoods are unchanged, with a slight tendency upward in certain grades of bleached. Print cloths have been bought up with an idea of influencing the raw cotton market. Buyers are uninfluenced by the firm condition of piece goods or the continued high prices of cotton.

STRAWBERRY MARKET RULES VERY STRONG

Slight Advance in Refined Sugar—The Dry Weather Makes Peas Firm.

Receipts of strawberries yesterday were light, only four cars coming to the produce yards, and a few express shipments arriving from Maryland. Berries from the latter state have not shown up well this season so far, being very small in size. The fruit is sound, but so little that the berries look more like the last picking of the season instead of the earliest. Buyers who have been in the habit of expecting the best strawberries from Maryland have transferred their allegiance to the product of other localities, and Virginia stock is much more in demand. Prices are holding firm, and fancy berries are in active demand. New cabbage is coming in more freely, and prices are lower. Florida celery is not so scarce as it was, and there is a decline of quotations to a lower range. Other produce is unchanged, with the dry weather still responsible for the slow arrival of seasonable vegetables.

Flour is steady at quotations, and only the usual concessions for sales in quantity are made. Jobbers are again complaining of transportation difficulties, and some houses were without flour yesterday, with a number of cars overdue. Throughout the west demand is still slow, but mills are getting into better shape by reason of curtailed production, and cash wheat remains strong. Primal coffee markets showed a little more steadiness, but local prices are unchanged. Sugar has been advanced five points by local jobbers, following refiners' advance, and the market is very strong. It would not be surprising if further advances came soon.

Dry weather is causing some anxiety as to the coming crop of peas and the outlook for the pack. This is making the market for canned peas firmer, and until there is enough rain to revive vegetation it is likely the strength of canned goods will continue. Tomatoes are still weak, however, and nothing seems to put any life into the demand.

Predicted small crops of prunes and apricots both in this country and Europe cause very firm inquiries, and holders of stocks are stiff in their askings. Consumption in these lines is heavy, and there seems to be little doubt but that there will be light yields. This will put an added value on holdover stocks.

Hay is firm but unchanged. Corn is scarce and strong, some sales being made at figures considerably above listed prices. Oats are easy at a slight decline. Millfeed is firm, with receipts reduced to a minimum, and prices are slightly higher. Rye unchanged.

Nothing of special feature has occurred in the poultry market where prices are holding steady, with receipts and sales evenly balanced. Call is principally for chickens, with a little better request for ducks than last week's demand.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 17 cars hay, 1 car rye, 2 cars straw, 1 car feed, 2 cars oats and corn, 3 cars oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 3 cars hay, 1 car rye, 1 car oats; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 4 cars hay, 1 car feed, 1 car oats. Total receipts, 37 cars.

MORE STRENGTH SHOWN IN CHICAGO WHEAT PIT

Bears Drive Down Price of May, but Support Brings it Back

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 14.—Trading in wheat was rather dull, although there was a fair trade at times, and the market exhibited more strength than for several days. Opening prices were steady on small receipts and steady cables. The feature in the early trading was the sharp decline in May, resulting from an attempt of pit traders to raid the market. After opening at 70½c the price quickly sold off to 70¼c. The big bull operator supported the market on the decline and the loss was all regained. Late in the day the market became decidedly stronger on a good demand from commission houses and shorts, who were influenced largely by the bullish news from France of damage to the crop and also by reports of damage to the home crop. Offerings were rather light and July advanced. Primary receipts were 216,000 bushels, against 244,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 312 cars, which, with local receipts of 25 cars, three of contract grade—made total receipts for the three points of 147 cars, against 123 cars last week and 126 cars a year ago. Corn opened firm on small country offers and good cash demand, but there were enough cash corn offerings in evidence. There was also some liquidation by tired holders. No special effort was made to support the market, and trading in general was dull and unimportant. Local receipts were 276 cars—21 of contract grade. Trading in oats was light and mainly for local account. With the exception of some buying of May by shorts, which caused a temporary bulge in that delivery, the market in general was featureless and prices about steady. Local receipts were 128 cars. Provisions were weak on the start, influenced by strength in cash hogs, but gave way to hard and rise, due to prospects of increased hog receipts. The market was supported at the decline by two prominent packers. The quarter sections of the May corn and lard was made. The close was steady.

GREAT ACTIVITY IN WEST VIRGINIA

Capital in Large Amounts Being Used in Coal Mining Operations.

BUILDING OF RAILWAYS

Extensive and Valuable Territory Lying East of the New River About to Be Developed—Good Place for New Railroad.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, May 14.—Activity in railroad extension and in coal mining at present is probably greater in West Virginia than in any other state in the union, unless Alabama is able to match it. West Virginia is already mining two-thirds as much bituminous coal as the United States mined in 1880. New roads to open up coal and timber lands, large deals in coal properties, and dozens of new mines being developed, is the story from both states.

West Virginia's activity is indicated in the fact that one firm has within the past few years sold an aggregate of over 250,000 acres of coal land involving about $3,500,000, and is just now closing another deal involving 50,000 acres of land and the building of a 43-mile railroad to open it up, the money for the land and for the road having already been paid in.

A rich concern has purchased land in the Gauley river region, and is building a seven-mile railroad. Boston capitalists owning 173,000 acres of coal land in Fayette and Greenbrier counties, have recently bought out the minority interests in order to put the property in shape for large development operations. They are negotiating for the building of a railroad through this property to the Chesapeake & Ohio. This line will open up several hundred thousand acres of virgin coal and timber land estimated to contain 300,000,000 tons or more of workable coal. Referring to this undertaking, Mr. Harry Frazier, formerly chief engineer of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway, long identified with railroad operations in West Virginia, writes the Manufacturers' Record as follows:

DEVELOPING NEW TERRITORY.

"For many years after the Chesapeake & Ohio was built down New river all of the coal mines in the territory were located on the east or north side of the river; hence by this time in most of the mines the coal has been cut for a long distance back, and underground haulage has become expensive. In 1890 the Chesapeake & Ohio began the construction of a parallel line on the south or west side of the river, which has been extended from time to time until it is now complete from the mouth of Loup creek at Thurmond to the Hawk's Nest bridge, where the main line crosses the New river to the south side. Many mines have been opened along this line, and several lateral lines have been built up the side streams that flow into the New river from the south side; in fact, almost all of the developments that have been made in the last few years in this field have been made on the south or west side of the New river. The time has now come for developing that extensively rich territory lying east of the New river, and it seems singular that this superior field, being nearest to the market, as it is, was not opened first.

The Meadow river, a tributary of Gauley river—which latter, together with the New river, forms the Kanawha—flows parallel to the New river, and about 30 miles east of it, entirely through this coal field south of Gauley, and those same seams of coal that have made the New river famous extend through to an outcrop along Meadow river. No developments have been made on this stream, because there have been no railway facilities for taking out the coal.

GOOD PLACE FOR A RAILROAD.

"Since the coal on the Meadow river, like that on the New river, would almost all go east, the natural and quick development would be by a railway entering this new field from the east. These Meadow river lands and vast tracts lying to the east are underlaid with the New river coals, and most of the surface is heavily timbered by virgin forest.

"The necessity of a railway to develop these tracts is apparent, and, since most of the coals and practically all of the lumber will go east, it is now proposed to build a railway from Ronceverte, on the Chesapeake & Ohio, and at the foot of Alleghany mountain, across the high bluegrass plateau of Greenbrier county to the head of Meadow river, and thence down the same to Rupert, 35 miles distant from Ronceverte. This line is to be extended ultimately to a western connection with the Gauley branch of the Chesapeake & Ohio, which was constructed in 1890 up the Gauley river as far as the mouth of 20-mile creek. Efforts are being made at this time to arrange for the early construction of 40 miles of the road, which would develop immediately about 200,000 acres of coal and timber land."

It is also announced that ex-Senator Henry G. Davis is devoting much of his time to the construction of the coal and coke railway from the Roaring creek district near Elkins southward to a junction with the Charleston, Clendenin and Sutton railroad, which is extending northward, and that when this is completed he will have a through line of about 200 miles from the vicinity of Elkins to Charleston, running most of the distance through coal land. Plans are making for the chartering of a railroad to be built from Demopolis, Ala., and Pensacola, Fla., the primary object being to build between Demopolis and Linden, a distance of 16 miles.

Another road to extend 300 miles is planned to extend from Poplar Bluffs, Mo., to Fayetteville, Ark., and to be operated by electricity.

TO ADJUST SCALE.

Committee of United Mine Workers Will Fix Butler Scale.

William Little, national organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, left last evening to resume his duties as a member of the investigation committee appointed to inspect the mines in the coal fields in Butler and Mercer counties with a view of adjusting the scale, recently adopted. It is stated by the operators that the rate for dead work and narrow-entry driving is not in proportion to the other parts of the scale. Mr. Little was to have started on the investigation the early part of the week, but on account of the death of his sister had to postpone the work.

President Patrick Dolan left last night for Fayette City to adjust a dispute in the scale at the Marine mines. Tonight he will attend a similar mission at the Black Diamond mines at Monongahela City. Vice President Uriah Bellingham spent yesterday at Greensburg and will be at Irwin today in conference with the organizers working in that district.

10 Per Cent in Six Weeks Guaranteed.

Where Can You Get Another Such Investment for Your Money---Where in All the Universe is There Another Such City as McKeesport Anyway?---And the Very Heart of McKeesport is LIBRARY MANOR.

Library Manor isn't a Big Farm Away Off From Nowhere---It is the Very Center of McKeesport's Choicest Residence District---The Old Evans Estate---Been in the Evans Family 100 Years---City Has Grown Up All Around It---We Know That It is Worth More Than It is Priced---Property All Around is Selling for More Money---Hence

WE GUARANTEE

That after July 1, 1903, no lots in Library Manor plan will be sold at less than 10 per cent in advance of present prices—That means AT LEAST 10 per cent on your money in six weeks. But 10 per cent isn't all—Do you know how McKeesport property is advancing? Do you realize the wave of prosperity that has struck the city with the coming of the great $10,000,000 tube mill.

Six Months Ago a Fifth Avenue Corner

Was offered at $1,500 a front foot—and there were no buyers. Bye-and-bye there came an offer—but the great tube mill had become almost a certainty then—and the price was advanced to $2,000 a foot. Now the tube mill is an absolute certainty, and two different offers were received for it this week at $2,400 a front foot.

$600.00 TO $2,000.00 EACH.

A bargain? It's like finding money—Lots sold last year are being sold at higher prices—Owners insist that we must raise prices on those not yet sold—And we've got to do it—It isn't fair to former purchasers to sell at less then market value—But for this sale—

THIS AFTERNOON AND SATURDAY OLD PRICES PREVAIL

You can't afford to miss it—No matter if you haven't much money—You don't need much money—Pay 10 per cent down—Make your own terms for the balance.
